our meeting on 25 April

Dear Mr Mehan,

The review document is currently being finalised and we are hoping to issue it very shortly. The review will be sent to the inquiry team as soon as this has been done, which I hope will be sometime in the next week or so.

We would be happy to meet with the inquiry team again once you have looked at the documentation, as you have indicated you may wish to do.

Best wishes.

RE: Follow-up to

Dear Mr Connon

Thank you for your e-mail and attachment.

However, I would be most grateful if you could advise me when we might receive the review document that was referred to several times at our meeting.

In addition, we believe it is highly likely that we will want to see you again when we have been through all the evidence.

Many thanks

Vijay Mehan

Mr Mehan,

Following our meeting with yourself and members of the inquiry team, I enclose a chronology on the screening of blood donors for evidence of transfusion-transmissible infections, as agreed at the meeting. I apologise for the delay in sending this to you.

I have also looked at the NHS Blood & Transplant website (www.nhsbt.nhs.uk) which contains extensive background on the blood services, including the history of the service, details of BPL and blood products and how the blood service was set up and has evolved over the years. I think therefore that, rather than go over information which is already in the public domain, it would be more sensible for you to look at the website and come back to me if there is any further background information you require which is not included on the website.

I have also been in touch with NHSBT and they confirm that should you require any further information or clarification then the person to contact is Dr Patricia Hewitt. Dr Hewitts' secretary (Dawn Mills) can be contacted on GRO-C.

Regards
