I spoke to Gary Mull, Product Manager for the Factor VIII products in the USA, and he told me that a phase 4 study is about to start. They hope to have 4 to 6 months safety data for a poster at the International Congress of Haemostasis and Thrombosis in August 1989.

The protocol from this work may give you an indication whether the results and therefore conclusions would be sufficient for our licencing authorities. At least you would be able to ascertain what additional information the UK would required.

Kind regards,

GRO-C
