report of the subcommittee on factor ix concentrates, facotr ix and factor ix a standards, stockholm, july 1933

" the subcommittee also recommends that no claim should be made as to effectiveness of "treated" concentrates in preventing a i d s until more data on the viral etiology of a i d s are provided and evidence is given that the putative virus is inactivated by the procedure."

the reports from the subcommittee meeting will be distributed this week.
