Dear Dr Rizza,

Re: Drug trials "hepatitis reduced" Factor VIII

Thank you for the recent information on these products. I have only taken over as Director of the Brighton Haemophilia Centre in December of last year, and therefore did not attend the directors meeting in October. I have all-ready been approached by Armour, who currently supply the commercial Factor VIII that we require, about the possibility of entering Haemophiliac patients from this centre into a clinical trial of their product. I would therefore be most interested to see the protocol circulated by the hepatitis working party last year, initially to see if there are any suitable patients available here.

Yours sincerely,

GRO-C
