I enclose a copy letter from the Sunday Times, the contents of which will I am sure be familiar to you.

I have to say I can see little difference between compensation for the haemophiliacs who contractd AIDS through tainted blood, and compensation for others who contracted AIDS through a similar cause. There seems to me to be no distinction between the two groups whatsoever. I do hope the government will be logical and consistent in its policy and help this group of people also.

Yours ever
