Dear

HEAT TREATED FACTOR VIII

I have learnt today that the first infusions of our dry heated FVIII were successful in Edinburgh although we are yet to receive the recovery and half life data on the four recipient patients. In the realistic anticipation that this data will be acceptable I have made arrangements for the first batches of FVIII to be despatched to RTCs as follows:

Batch No	Vials	Centres
024070461	661	Belfast
024070471	1094	Glasgow
024080491	800	Edinburgh
	287	Inverness
024090561	320	Aberdeen
	259	Dundee

Our calculations indicate that these quantities will provide approximately 1 months supply for each region and will be despatched to Belfast, Aberdeen, Dundee and Inverness by Red Star delivery on 10 or 11 December. PFC will deliver material to Edinburgh and Glasgow on 10 or 11 December.

Following this initial supply of heated product, plans are in hand to supply quantities of heated product to each RTC equivalent to twice the min/max stock level to take account of the need to replace domestic and blood bank stocks. This phase will commence in the latter half of the week beginning 10 December and should be complete before Christmas, and should enable continuous supplies of heated product to be made available to patients after 10 December.
