Liberal quits as Parliamentary candidate now

Birmingham Post Birmingham Staff

A Midland Liberal councillor who is turning Conservative has also stood down as prospective Liberal Parliamentary candidate for Stratford-upon-Avon.

Mr. John M. Jones, Liberal councillor for Stratford-upon-Avon, has announced that he is standing down as a Liberal candidate for the seat in the forthcoming general election.

Mr. Jones, who has been a Liberal councillor for many years, has decided to join the Conservative Party.

He said that he was making this decision because he was no longer in agreement with the Liberal Party's policies.

'Hostile' parents lose last round in fight to save Sebright School

Birmingham Post Birmingham Staff

Parents and old boys who have fought for two months to save Sebright School, lost the final round after a two-hour debate with the governors in the school hall yesterday.

The chairman of the Governors, Mr. Hugo Huntington-Whitely, for hostile parents for almost a year, said that he was sorry to hear that the school was to be closed.

The school would close at the end of the year, and the parents would have to find other schools for their children.
