1 we confirm that the factor viii concentrate prepared from american plasma can be called kryobulin.

2 Immuno blue will be the most suitable colour for the pack.

3 there is no mention of plasma source on red kryobulin so there is no need to mention it on the blue packs.

4 please hasten submission of samples in neutral packs.

5 in checking our current batches for the above information i have noticed an undesirable feature. as requested by me you have changed over to reference 12.740mg of 2nd international standard of factor viii on bottle carton and sleeves but the enclosed direction circular still refers to 14.363mg of the international standard. these should be brought in line.

batches 02m 005 78 and 03m 039 78 are affected by this.

regards sorry
