Subject
From Rt Hon Jeremy Hunt MP re: Contaminated NHS Blood

Dear Claire

I have recently received the below email from my constituent Mr Mike Dorricott. I have been in contact with Mr Dorricott for some time in regards to the issue of contaminated NHS blood.

Mr Dorricott is a haemophiliac sufferer who was treated Hep C contaminated blood in late 1982. He cleared this naturally by the middle of 1985. He was then re-infected in September 1985 following further treatment. He was then put onto 'Combination Treatment' which resulted in multiple adverse side effects. In 2000 Mr Dorricott received a new liver which, as expected was re-infected with Hep C. Unfortunately he also developed cancer of the liver which was diagnosed in 2007. He then received his second, and final, liver in 2008.

I would be grateful if you would investigate Mr Dorricott's concern and respond directly to me.

Best wishes,

Jeremy

Dear Jeremy,

I trust that you are well and settling into your new role.

I thought I would give you a little time to get to grips with the new job before contacting you again to raise the issue of bringing closure to the Contaminated Blood issue.

Please can you advise what you are planning to do to resolve the outstanding issues surrounding the infection of haemophiliacs with contaminated NHS blood / blood products.

Kind Regards

Mike

M.P.Dorricott
