Dear Debra

I understand Dr Tillyer, Consultant Haematologist at RBH, has given you her fax number to receive the care plan for this patient, whose surgery is listed for Tuesday 31st January. He will be admitted on Monday morning, 30th January and we need to have the plan in place for his admission.

If you have a problem with her fax, mine is 020 7351 8580

My nhs email is s.harvey@nhs.net. If you would prefer to mail it I can forward it to all concerned, but I would need to receive it today as soon as possible as I am away from the office tomorrow.

Thank you

Susan Harvey

Dear Mr Lim

I have been trying to contact you by telephone but understand from your secretary that you and your team are unavailable until after the New Year Bank Holiday.

My concern lies with ensuring that you are aware that the patient is considered "at risk of VCD for public health purposes" which has implications for the use and decontamination of certain surgical instruments.

We will of course provide a protocol for the haemostasis management of this patient along with the necessary clotting factor concentrate.

Yours sincerely

Debra Pollard
