Dear Bill,

Meeting of Haemophilia Reference
Centre Directors
23rd February 1976 in Oxford

I was asked to write to you to enquire if more could be done to rectify the shortage of British Factor VIII concentrate? Can the Haemophilia Centres help in any way in this regard? I was also asked to enquire when it would be possible to have some of the material, at least in small bottles suitable for a small amount of diluent?

Yours sincerely,
