Dear Ian

I truly appreciate you taking the time to discuss the matter with me.

I am surprised that THT is still waiting for MFT to provide the paperwork.

MFT beneficiaries were not informed of the intention to transfer to THT. The transfer and timing of notification was in the hands of MFT in conjunction with THT. It has been handled insensitively and caused distress.

The timing is appalling just before Christmas as, I am sure you appreciate, causes further distress to a vulnerable group of people. To have this uncertainty over Christmas when we should be at peace adds insult to injury to a community that has suffered enough.

I urge THT to act before Christmas, as a matter of urgency, and alleviate concerns by making a statement and writing to individuals concerned.

Thank you.

Kind regards
Clair

I am sorry that the notification from the Macfarlane Trust came "out of the blue" and I can imagine how concerning receiving the letter must have been. The timing or process of notification is not something that we have had much control over. I believe that this has mainly been due to the processes required to wind down the Macfarlane Trust as a registered charity.

We are still in the process of receiving all of the relevant documentation from the Macfarlane Trust and we would like to review these first before having a discussion with you. We hope to receive paperwork this week.
