jaundice

27th September, 1946.

Dear Lehane,

As you know, I discussed the jaundice survey with Miss Upward when I was in Liverpool on September 12th. Miss Upward has about 1000 cases transfused with large pool plasma, but only about 250 which have received small pool plasma, and some of the latter unfortunately have also received large pool plasma, so that this group is not well-defined.

I have asked Dr. Drury if the M.R.C. will continue the survey until about 1000 small pool cases have been examined; he will inform Miss Upward soon of the result, and I would be glad if you would warn her.

Miss Upward told me that she thought some of the hospitals were holding both small and large pool material. I would like you, if you can, to make certain that all large pool plasma is replaced by small pool, and in order to do this I am willing to divert all the small pool material to your region if you think this necessary. The Canadian and Army plasma can then be redistributed to other regions.

Dr. D. Lehane,
Liverpool.

Would you please think about this and let me know the position?

Yours sincerely,
