SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Our first witness today wishes to be known as Stuart, does he?

MS RICHARDS: Yes, sir.

SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Stuart, please.

STUART MICHAEL MCLEAN (sworn)

Questions by MS RICHARDS

MS RICHARDS: Stuart, you suffer from Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome.

A. That's correct.

Q. Can you tell us a little about what that is?

A. It's a connective tissue disorder, and it is like my joints rub bone on bone.

Q. Common symptoms can be bruising, fragile skin which bruises easily and hypermobility.

A. That's right. That's correct.

Q. You have what's called classical Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome type 3.

A. That's right.

Q. It is not a blood clotting disorder.

A. No.

Q. There is no specific treatment for it. It is about managing your lifestyle and activities -- had to have nothing.

A. Yes.

Q. There was no unusual bleeding, no complications, no cause for concern, no requirement for treatment --

A. Nothing.

Q. -- in relation to that surgery.

A. Absolutely nothing.

Q. But it was noticed in your early childhood, the first few years, that you bruised very easily.

A. Yes, I did, but what boy doesn't, who is, you know, fighting and playing around and everything?

Q. You were referred to a paediatrician at West Kent General Hospital. That paediatrician thought the bruising could possibly be explained by a bleeding disorder, and so he referred you to a consultant haematologist at the Lewisham Hospital, Dr Holman, who did some investigative tests in 1976.

A. He did, yes.

Q. But those tests were normal.

A. Completely normal.

Q. In 1977, because you didn't live in the area of the Lewisham Hospital, the consultant there proposed to transfer supervision for any care or treatment you might need to a consultant haematologist at West Kent General Hospital, Dr Nalinda Naik.

A. That's correct.

Q. -- to try to avoid causing damage.

A. That's correct. It is to manage the pain.

Q. But you were treated with Factor VIII in 1978 in a potentially mistaken belief that you had a blood clotting disorder.

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. As a result of that, you were infected with hepatitis C.

A. Yes, yes.

Q. We are going to look at quite a lot of the correspondence that you have exhibited and referred to in your statements to try to explore how that came about.

A. No problem.

Q. We will start in 1971. You were two years old and you underwent an adenoidectomy, the removal of your adenoids.

A. That's correct. I did.

Q. What, to your mind, for the purposes of your evidence, is the significance of that?

A. That procedure, what I am now led to believe in later years, if that was carried out on a haemophiliac patient, they would have had to have intervention because of the nature of that operation, and then obviously the bleed-out that can happen, and I never

Q. We will just look at one document in that regard to start with.

Henry, it is 0653003, please.

We can see it is dated 4th April 1977. It is a letter addressed to your GP. We just need to look at the last paragraph, please, Henry:

"It is a rather long way for the family to come here and Maidstone now have a haematologist, Dr Nalinda Naik, who is interested in defects in blood clotting. I wonder if it would be easier for them to see her if any further episode arises."

So you were transferred to Dr Naik because, it would seem from here, of her interest in defects and blood clotting.

A. That's correct, yes.

Q. Now, if we have up on screen, please, Henry, 0653005, we can see here a letter dated 31st August 1977. It is from Dr Naik to the Oxford Haemophilia Centre, and it says this in the first paragraph. It refers to a long history of repeated bruising, haemorrhage, reference to being seen at Lewisham, who thought his coagulation screen was normal, and various other matters there set out.

Then Dr Naik says this in the second paragraph: "I think this boy suffers from Von Willebrand's

1 disease. I discussed him with Dr ..."
 2 It is not clear what the name is there,
 3 "Matthews", it might be:
 4 "... a little while ago, but the parents are 5 rather reluctant to bring this boy to Oxford unless 6 they have to. I therefore decided to request you to 7 carry out a preliminary Factor VIII related antigen
 8 test, and then if you can confirm my findings then I
 9 will persuade the parents to visit you."
 10 She refers to enclosing a citrated plasma
 11 example taken on 22nd August 1977.
 12 So we see there set out I think for the first
 13 time in your records a doctor's belief that you
 14 suffered from a form of bleeding disorder, Von
 15 Willebrand's Disease?
 16 A. I struggle with that considering Lewisham Haemophilia
 17 Centre said everything was normal. I don't know why
 18 she hasn't taken notice of Lewisham but has requested 19 more.
 20 Q. Then if we have 0653006, please, Henry, we can see
 21 a letter in response from Dr Rizza at Oxford
 22 Haemophilia Centre to Dr Naik dated
 23 13th September 1977. It thanks her for the sample of 24 plasma. It refers to the results of your tests, and 25 says this:

1 enclosed, are completely normal and there is no reason
 2 to suspect from them that ..."
 3 It refers to someone else we are not going to go
 4 into, but that:
 5 "... [you] suffered from any coagulation
 6 abnormality. If Stuart suffers excessive bleeding in 7 future, it might be worthwhile reinvestigating him to 8 see whether a defect exists at that time."
 9 So you are seen at Oxford.
 10 A. Yes.
 11 Q. Dr Matthews investigates, undertakes tests, notes the 12 adenoid surgery and the lack of problems, and says the 13 results are normal, no reason to say there is any 14 coagulation abnormality.
 15 A. Yes. That is twice. Lewisham, which was the lead
 16 haemophilia hospital in the south-east, and now
 17 Oxford, which I believe at the time was the lead in 18 the UK.
 19 Q. But if we look then at 0653008, this is a letter of 20 9th November 1977, so that's two or three weeks after 21 Dr Matthews at Oxford has written to Dr Naik, and it
 22 is addressed to your GP. It refers to the fact that 23 she had sent you to Oxford for further investigations, 24 and then it says this in the second paragraph:
 25 "Meanwhile I have carried out repeatedly Factor

1 "In view of the fact that the samples were taken
 2 on 22nd August and arrived here in the frozen state on
 3 1st September, I do not think that we can attach too
 4 much significance to the level of Factor VIII
 5 coagulant activity which we found. With regard to the 6 Factor VIII related antigen, Stuart's level is below
 7 normal. We shall be very pleased to see the patients
 8 if you wish and if you can persuade them to come."
 9 So two results set out there. One no
 10 significance attached to, one in respect of which it
 11 is said your level was below normal.
 12 A. That's correct.
 13 Q. If we then, please, have up on screen, Henry, 0653007,
 14 we see here on 18th October 1977 a further letter from 15 the Oxford Haemophilia Centre. This time I think it
 16 is from Dr Matthews to Dr Naik. Clearly by this time
 17 you have been seen at Oxford. We can see that from 18 the first sentence:
 19 "I saw Stuart on 23rd September 1977."
 20 It refers to a reference to a large haematoma
 21 and some incidence of bruising in your knee. It
 22 expressly refers to having your adenoids removed 23 without problems, and then says this in the last 24 sentence:
 25 "Our tests on Stuart, the results of which are

1 VIII related antigen on Stuart."
 2 It then sets out her finding and says this:
 3 "If we are right, I suspect that Stuart has Von
 4 Willebrand's disease. Since the king of clotting does
 5 not support my hypothesis, I can only suggest that in 6 future, should Stuart have excessive bleeding, tooth
 7 extraction or planned surgery, my hypothesis should be 8 borne in mind to prevent any unexpected haemorrhage.
 9 The effective treatment is simple, by giving fresh
 10 frozen plasma or cryoprecipitate."
 11 Do you know who Dr Naik was referring to when 12 she talked about the "king of clotting" who did not 13 support her hypothesis?
 14 A. I, looking at these, presume it was either Dr Matthews
 15 or Dr Rizza.
 16 Q. At Oxford Haemophilia Centre, where you had been sent 17 for specialist investigation?
 18 A. That's correct, yes.
 19 Q. Now, in September of 1978 you fell and you injured
 20 your knee. You were taken to West Kent General
 21 Hospital, and your statement explains that you were 22 treated by Dr Naik and you were given fresh frozen
 23 plasma, you were given cryoprecipitate and you were 24 given Factor VIII concentrates.
 25 As far as you are aware, was that the only

1 occasion when you were given Factor VIII concentrates?

2 A. At that time, yes.

3 Q. Then if we look at 0653009, we can see this confirmed

4 in a letter from Dr Naik dated 6th September 1978 to

5 the consultant orthopaedic surgeon. It says this. It

6 refers to -- it is not a terribly good copy, but it

7 refers to on a date in September:

8 "... he came to see me for a possible

9 haemorrhage in the knee joint, which took place over

10 the weekend of 2nd September. I gave him prophylactic

11 treatment with fresh frozen plasma, cryoprecipitate

12 and Factor VIII concentrate over three days. At least

13 there was no further continuation of blood loss in 14 that joint."

15 So just pausing there, in circumstances where

16 the Oxford Haemophilia Centre have said no evidence of 17 a clotting disorder, and this letter says that what

18 you had in your knee was a possible haemorrhage, you

19 have been treated on a prophylactic basis with not one

20 but three different types of treatment, including

21 Factor VIII, which hadn't even been the treatment

22 referenced in Dr Naik's own letter to your GP in the 23 previous year.

24 A. That's correct.

25 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: The previous letter referred to

1 A. Yes. There is also something else. There is a letter

2 previous to what you pulled up on screen where this

3 doctor had an interest in bleeding. I find that a bit

4 different to being an expert in bleeding.

5 Q. You have observed in your statement what causes you

6 such anger is that in 1978, the doctor chose to treat

7 you with -- these are your words, not mine:

8 "... every blood product she could get her hands

9 on rather than the entirely safe alternative of DDAVP,

10 which would have been perfectly suitable had her

11 belief that I suffered from Von Willebrand's disease

12 been accurate."

13 A. Personally I think she went into the storeroom and 14 thought, "Let's have one of these, let's have one of 15 these, and for good measure let's have one of these".

16 There is no other explanation, after hearing all the 17 other people's stories.

18 Q. The following month you were given more

19 cryoprecipitate --

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. -- in October of 1978, but not on that second occasion

22 Factor VIII.

23 A. No.

24 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Was that given prophylactically or 25 was it given actually in response to a bleed?

1 using that only if there had been excessive or

2 extensive bleeding, which there wasn't on this

3 occasion from what you say.

4 A. No.

5 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Nor is there any record that there

6 was.

7 A. No.

8 MS RICHARDS: You say in your statement that you have no

9 explanation as to why Dr Naik treated you with 10 clotting agents in the first place, and you say this:

11 "I have no idea, nor does any other medical

12 professional I have spoken with, why she would treat

13 me with all three products."

14 A. That's correct.

15 Can I just say something on there, which -- if

16 you are a priest or you are a vicar, you go by the 17 Bible. These doctors go by the medical journal.

18 DDAVP was available in 1977. Possible -- there is no

19 evidence from Oxford or Lewisham, but possible.

20 I just -- that is just -- there is no way to explain

21 it.

22 Q. Stuart, you have anticipated my very next question,

23 which is: you say in your statement even if you had

24 Von Willebrand's, which you didn't, DDAVP would have

25 been an available treatment in that event.

1 MS RICHARDS: The copy we have is rather poor and quite

2 hard to read. It talks about having a further

3 injection of cryoprecipitate within the last three

4 days. There is a handwritten note, "Given more

5 cryoprecipitate".

6 So I am not sure, without seeing whether we can

7 get a better copy than that exhibited to Stuart's

8 statement.

9 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Thank you.

10 MS RICHARDS: Do you happen to know the answer to that,

11 Stuart?

12 A. No.

13 Q. We may be able to find out. I know we have better

14 copies of a number of your records than we have here.

15 Now, in 1980 your care transferred to 16 a different haematologist at the West Kent General

17 Hospital, Dr Williams.

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. If we look, please, Henry, at 0653012, we can see

20 there a letter dated 9th May 1980. It's written by

21 Dr Williams to your GP and it says this in the second

22 paragraph:

23 "Clotting tests have usually been normal when

24 they have been done at Lewisham, Oxford and here

"I feel quite sure that he has a mild form of Ehlers-Danlos syndrome in which easy bruising is well recognised and is due to a fault in the collagen. The platelets, which are normal, adhere poorly to this faulty collagen, hence the bruising ..."

Then he says this:

"The wind was somewhat taken out of my sails at this point by discovering that Mr Stossell had previously reached this conclusion as well and had quite rightly decided that no action need be taken other than the avoidance of undue trauma during games."

Then there is a reference to checking your bloods again:

"Apart from a slightly long bleeding time by a sensitive method, all the results were within our normal range."

So this I think is the first reference in the documents you provided to the Inquiry from your records of Ehlers-Danlos syndrome.

A. Yes.

Q. That's May of 1980. That is a diagnosis that later in life has subsequently been confirmed. That's what your doctors -- clinically. He has many of the features of the Ehlers-Danlos syndrome, but there would appear to be overlap features with Marfan's too."

(Phone rings)

Then it says this:

"I was also not clear whether you attributed his bleeding diathesis to the EDS or whether there was another explanation for it. I note that he had written Von Willebrand's on his card, but this may be an out of date diagnosis. I would be grateful if you could enlighten me on your current thoughts in this regard."

Then he goes on to deal with the issue of a sudden growth spurt.

Do you know what the reference was to the card with Von Willebrand's written on?

A. I don't know about other haemophiliacs but I was given it. On it it had haemorrhagic state. It was a special medical card that if I had any bleeding problems, I would get treatment at a specialist centre. I do believe that is given to haemophiliacs.

Q. So you had been given that although the fact that -- the suggestion that you had Von Willebrand's appears to have been ruled out by those who had undertaken the necessary tests.

A. That's correct. By Maidstone, not by Oxford or

A. Sorry. I knew that would happen.

Q. I am glad it is you and not me.

A. I thought I had turned it off. Sorry.

Q. That diagnosis of Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome has been confirmed by the clinicians who have continued to treat you over the years.

A. Yes. I didn't know until ten years ago what actual type I had until it was confirmed.

Q. If we move on from that letter five years to 1985, you were referred to a Dr Grahame, a consultant rheumatologist at Guy's Hospital, because you had been having pains in your knees.

A. Yes.

Q. We will just look that letter briefly. It is 0653013, please. It seems that the issue of Von Willebrand's still hasn't completely disappeared, as it were, from your records. So this is a letter of 26th July 1985. It is from Dr Grahame to Dr Williams, and in the third paragraph from the bottom of the page it refers to there being tenderness attributed to Osgood Schlatter's disease. That's extreme growing pains, is your understanding of what that diagnosis was.

Then it says:

"He has an interesting hereditary connected tissue disorder which is difficult to classify

Lewisham, but by Maidstone.

Q. Now, later in that year, in September of 1985, Dr Williams referred your case to Dr Savidge at St Thomas' Hospital. Can we have on screen, please, 0653014. So here we see Dr Williams suggesting to Dr Savidge in the first paragraph the following:

"I would be most grateful for your assessment of this patient. He has connective tissue disorder with features of both Ehlers-Danlos and Marfan's syndromes, and over the years has suffered from numerous bleeding episodes ..."

Pausing there, as far as you're aware, had you suffered from numerous bleeding episodes over the years?

A. Nothing.

Q. You had the bruising and had the knee problems.

A. I had had four teeth taken out at the back when I was younger. One did bleed and it kept bleeding, so they plugged it and it fixed it.

Q. But you are not aware of anything else that would fall within the description of numerous bleeding episodes?

A. No.

Q. Then it says this:

"I have never been entirely happy that the haemostatic disorder is only due to the connective

16

1 tissue disorder and I think he may have Von
 2 Willebrand's disease."
 3 You put it this way in your statement, Stuart:
 4 in this letter, Dr Williams "resurrects" the idea you
 5 may have Von Willebrand's disease and asks Dr Savidge
 6 to investigate it.
 7 A. Definitely. I struggle with this. When I was younger
 8 I had greenstick fractures, and I broke my leg, wrist,
 9 ankle -- no bleed. If I had a bleeding problem, I'd 10 bleed, but nothing.
 11 Q. I haven't seen, Stuart, in the documents you have 12 supplied to the Inquiry what, if any, Dr Savidge's
 13 response was. Do you know what it was?
 14 A. No.
 15 Q. Then just continuing with this letter, we can see in 16 the last paragraph reference to you being quite 17 obviously jaundiced. It refers to the bilirubin tests
 18 and says:
 19 "I suppose he may have Gilbert's syndrome."
 20 No reference there -- and this is the point you
 21 pick up in your statement -- to the possibility that,
 22 having been given both cryoprecipitate and Factor VIII
 23 products in 1978, you might have been infected with 24 hepatitis.
 25 A. I wouldn't have know about that. They told me about

17

1 You didn't know that letter was being written
 2 asking whether you had AIDS.
 3 A. No.
 4 Q. And it is written on the erroneous hypothesis that you
 5 are a haemophiliac.
 6 A. Correct. I must say, when I read that, when I first
 7 found out that they gave me hep C, it makes me feel
 8 sick, to be honest with you. That's my school, you
 9 know, but ...
 10 Q. That appears to have led -- if we look at the next
 11 page, 0653016, please, Henry -- to a letter being 12 written by Dr Williams to your mother inviting you to 13 be tested for the AIDS virus antibody. We see on 14 0653017, please, Henry, Dr Williams's response to the 15 headteacher on 24th October 1985 and he says this:
 16 "As you know, there has been a lot of discussion
 17 recently concerning haemophiliac school children who 18 are positive for the AIDS virus antibody, particularly 19 as to whether they represent a possible source of 20 infection to their fellow pupils. I think a consensus
 21 view is now emerging with official backing that any 22 risk of cross-infection is so remote as to be 23 completely outweighed by the awful consequences of 24 individual children being treated as latter day
 25 lepers."

1 Gilbert's syndrome, which I believe the best way to 2 describe it is a blocked tube on your liver which 3 causes you to get jaundice.
 4 Q. Your concern, as expressed in your statement, is that
 5 at this stage, jaundice having been identified,
 6 hepatitis doesn't appear to have been considered by 7 your clinicians.
 8 A. No.
 9 Q. We are going to have up on screen now a document that 10 emanated from your school. It is 0653015. It says 11 this. It is addressed to Dr Williams from the 12 headmaster of your school:
 13 "You may know that the county education officer
 14 has circulated a letter on AIDS to all headteachers.
 15 It mentions those children in Kent who are 16 haemophiliacs, and the letter draws attention to the 17 fact that many of them are known to have the 18 antibodies of the virus which could cause AIDS. They 19 have been infected by injections of Factor VIII. Your 20 patient, and my pupil, Stuart Mclean, is 21 a haemophiliac, and I should like to know, subject to 22 your [something] ethics whether he does have the 23 antibodies, because in the county education officer's 24 letter makes it clear there is a remote risk of 25 infection to staff and/or pupils."

1 He refers to a publication by the Haemophilia
 2 Society. So that's his response to the general point.
 3 A. Yes.
 4 Q. Then he says he couldn't give any information relating
 5 to you without the consent of you or your parents.
 6 You were then tested for HIV. You didn't know
 7 that. We have seen the correspondence to your mother,
 8 but you didn't know that you were being tested. You
 9 were I think 15 at the time.
 10 A. Yes. I didn't, no. I was going on 16. I didn't 11 know, no.
 12 Q. If we look at the letter at 0653018 -- and it is not 13 a terribly good copy. If we could just zoom in on 14 that:
 15 "This is just a note to say that we tested
 16 Stuart on 1st November and there is no evidence of 17 infection with the AIDS virus or with the hepatitis B
 18 virus."
 19 So you were tested in relation to HIV, tested in 20 relation to hepatitis B. Were you aware that you had 21 been tested in relation to hepatitis B?
 22 A. No.
 23 Q. Do you know whether your mother was asked to consent
 24 to a hepatitis B test? We know she was for HIV from 25 the looks of the correspondence.

1 A. She never mentioned -- in later years she never
2 mentioned hep B, no.
3 Q. What you have said in your statement is this:
4 "It is clear that at this point hepatitis had
5 entered Dr Williams's mind as a possible explanation
6 for my episodes of jaundice, albeit despite the risk
7 of non-A, non-B hepatitis being well-known to 8 haematologists at the time, there was never any 9 discussion with me or my mother about the possibility
10 that I could have contracted it."
11 A. Well, he's got the letter telling him that I'm 12 jaundiced. He gets a letter from the school and he 13 tests me for the AIDS virus and hep B. Surely that 14 must be in his mind as well, the jaundice being -- he 15 knows I have had the blood products now, because he is 16 testing me. So why wouldn't he?
17 Q. There was no discussion with you or, as far as you are 18 aware, your mother at any stage in the period we are 19 looking at about non-A, non-B hepatitis?
20 A. None whatsoever.
21 Q. If we move forward from 1985 to 1992, there is 22 correspondence between your GP and Dr Williams
23 concerning episodes of jaundice and you being
24 generally unwell. The document is not entirely easy
25 to read, but if we have 0653020, we see it's a letter

1 pressure."
2 At that stage, May 1992, there's also reference,
3 I should say, to jaundice, itchy skin and emotional
4 ability. Were there any steps taken as far as you
5 know, either from your own recollection or your study
6 of your medical records, by this time, in May 1992, to 7 investigate you for hepatitis C?
8 A. None whatsoever.
9 Q. That was 1992. Dr Williams remained your 10 haematologist until about 2004/2005. Then you were 11 not I think under the care of any haematologist in 12 particular until 2012.
13 A. That's right, yes.
14 Q. And you then came under the care of Dr Evans at the 15 Kent and Canterbury Hospital.
16 A. Yes.
17 Q. And you saw her in December 2012 and again in 18 January 2013.
19 A. Yes.
20 Q. Your statement explains that when you saw her, she 21 raised a concern that she couldn't find any record of 22 you being tested for blood-borne viruses.
23 A. Yes. I mentioned to her I had been tested for HIV and 24 hep B, because obviously I found the letters, but ...
25 Q. So she took some further blood samples for testing

1 dated 29th May 1992. It is from Dr Williams to your
2 GP. It says:
3 "Thank you for your referral letter about this 4 patient who, as you say, I know well. He has been 5 jaundiced repeatedly over the years."
6 It refers to a finding first noted in 1984. It
7 refers to the issue of bilirubin. It refers to your 8 Ehlers-Danlos syndrome and then says this:
9 "He has had a number of bleeding episodes,
10 usually induced by trauma, eg playing football, being 11 hit on the head by a stone or being chased by a bull."
12 A. Yes.
13 Q. You had an interesting childhood.
14 A. Yes.
15 Q. Other than the bruising you have described, do you
16 recall bleeding episodes?
17 A. The only one I can think of at that time was my 18 brother. We used to play football. He wore 19 winklepickers. I went down to head the ball and he 20 kicked me in the mouth. That split my lips and that 21 bled, but it was fine.
22 Q. It refers to:
23 "Most of these episodes are avoidable and there
24 is no specific treatment for the resultant bruising or 25 bleeding apart from gentle strapping and local

1 with your consent.
2 A. Yes.
3 Q. The results came back in January 2013, it is your
4 understanding, and showed you were hepatitis C
5 positive.
6 A. Correct.
7 Q. 35 years after the treatment that infected you.
8 A. Yes. That's correct.
9 Q. You say in your statement that you were angry that for 10 35 years you had been infected with hepatitis C and 11 that you think there is no excuse for it having taken
12 as long as it did to test you. Do you want to expand 13 upon that?
14 A. They had all the evidence in front of them, you know.
15 Why did they give it to me in the first place? Then
16 they see the jaundice all through the years. There
17 was no bleeding history. I just -- they were aware.
18 You can see from the letters they were aware, and they 19 never did nothing. How can you leave someone like 20 that? But they did.
21 Q. I should say we have had a response from Dr Naik to 22 the concerns expressed in your statement. We will 23 come on to that at a later stage of your evidence. We 24 are not anticipating a response from Dr Williams. We 25 do have a response from Dr Evans in relation to

1 matters that we are going to go on and consider now.

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Or consider in a few moments.

4 Can I just ask you to tell us what your reaction
5 was to discovering in early 2013, after all those 6 years, that you had hepatitis C?

7 A. I don't know. My world just crashed because I thought
8 hep C -- I didn't know what hep C was. I thought it
9 was for drug addicts. I stood on a motorway bridge to 10 end it all because you just feel worthless, dirty. It
11 was just my grandkids that stopped me jumping.

12 I'd like to say it goes deeper than that,
13 because I have heard stories, and can you imagine
14 standing on that bridge and watching these lorries and 15 that roll by, knowing which one to jump in front of?
16 It destroys you. It absolutely destroys you.

17 Q. You explain in your statement that having been given 18 the diagnosis, you don't feel you were given very much
19 information about hepatitis C itself at that stage.

20 A. I was given nothing.

21 Q. You did your own research on the internet and that was 22 terrifying, because you came across story after story
23 about liver cancer, how appalling the treatments were 24 for hepatitis C.

25 A. Yes.

25

1 A. That's correct, yes.

2 Can I just say something on there? If this guy
3 knows these treatments are that bad, why were they 4 giving them out? He wouldn't to me, but he would give 5 them out to others. I have learned that through this 6 Inquiry. Why would he give them to people when he is 7 saying there they are not safe. He would give me
8 a safer treatment.

9 Q. You have raised in your statement a concern about the 10 accuracy of fibroscans in your case because of your 11 Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome. Can you explain what that 12 concern is?

13 A. I got talking to another victim of this scandal who 14 also has EDS, and she done a big study on it saying
15 fibroscans -- they have only got to hit one of my weak
16 vessels and it can bounce the results elsewhere. So
17 they are inaccurate. When I was having my fibroscans
18 I was getting readings of 4.5 and then 6 and then 14
19 and then back down to 6. It was just all different
20 results. Then they took the lowest score and put that 21 on my notes.

22 Q. You are concerned that whilst the fibroscans are 23 recorded as showing no significant liver damage, that 24 might not be, in fact, the correct position.

25 A. Well, again, after talking to other victims, enlarged

1 Q. And you put it this way, "I read horror story after 2 horror story", and that prayed on your mind ever
3 since.

4 A. Google is Google, isn't it? It goes to the worst case
5 scenario on everything you put in, and that's all
6 I kept reading was one horror after the other, the 7 treatments and everything.

8 Q. You were referred to a hepatologist, Dr Argarwal at 9 King's College Hospital.

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. In June 2013 Dr Argarwal told you you had chronic
12 hepatitis C, no sign of significant swelling or 13 scarring to your liver yet. Then there was 14 a discussion about treatment, including with 15 interferon. What can you recall about that?

16 A. If I get this right, the first time he spoke to me
17 about the treatments he said there was the triple
18 treatment. He said, "But you have got a lot of other
19 medical issues and we could cause you more problems.
20 So because your liver isn't damaged as bad, we think 21 we'll hold off on treatments".

22 Q. And he told you, your statement says, that there were 23 going to be in the future new treatments with fewer 24 side effects, and it was agreed that it might be 25 sensible to wait to see what happened in that regard.

26

1 spleen and finally heterogenous liver says otherwise
2 when you go on and read about it. It says different
3 to what the fibroscan readings were, or as I
4 understood it.

5 Q. You relate in your statement that then in 6 December 2015 you saw Dr Argarwal again and discussed
7 the newer treatments for hepatitis C not involving
8 interferon. Can you recall the discussion that you
9 had with Dr Argarwal on that occasion?

10 A. I was diagnosed with another medical condition called 11 postural orthostatic tachycardia syndrome. That's 12 when I stand up, my blood pressure hits the floor and 13 my heart beat goes up to 30/40 beats per minute. So
14 they put me on an unlicensed medication from America.
15 Even my GP wasn't allowed to order it; I had to go to 16 London to get it. I asked him, had these new drugs
17 been tested against it for interactions, and he said
18 yes. But I had already looked online at home, because 19 they have played Russian roulette with my life once, 20 they don't get a second chance to do this, and 21 I couldn't find nothing.

22 So when I asked him, he said, "I will show you",
23 and after about five minutes he couldn't find it. He 24 turned round to me in front of me and my five-year-old 25 grandson and he said, "If you don't want the 28

1 treatment" -- and I am sorry about the language --
 2 "get out of my fucking hospital". That was his words
 3 to me in front of my five-year-old grandson.
 4 Q. I should say, sir, that Dr Argarwal has been asked to 5 respond to Stuart's statement. It is anticipated we 6 will receive a response but we have not yet received
 7 it.
 8 A. Can I just say I have reported him to PALS, and to 9 this day he hasn't responded to PALS either.
 10 Q. We will just look at a letter that Dr Argarwal wrote
 11 to your GP after that consultation. It is 0653022,
 12 please, Henry. It says this:
 13 "I met in gentleman today in the context of his 14 consultation around hepatitis C. I am sorry but I did
 15 not feel that we have offered him a good consultation 16 today given his frustration and bitterness around his 17 route of infection. He has mild disease as evidenced 18 by his fibroscan of 4.1. He is specifically
 19 requesting an ARFI because he would like to delineate
 20 ... that this may demonstrate that he has significant 21 underlying fibrosis and I presume trigger and 22 additional compensation.
 23 "From my clinical perspective reviewing his 24 liver test and fibroscan in association with his 25 imaging, I think it is unlikely that he has any 29

1 on the basis of a misdiagnosis, when even if the
 2 misdiagnosis was correct, I could have been treated
 3 with a completely safe alternative."
 4 A. I am not going to skip down the road and be happy, am
 5 I?
 6 Q. At the time you prepared your statement you said you
 7 had not undergone any treatment for hepatitis C, you
 8 don't know what state your liver is in and you live in 9 constant fear that your liver has been significantly
 10 damaged and you could develop liver cancer at any 11 time. Is that still the current position?
 12 A. Yes. I still haven't had treatments. I don't trust
 13 their treatments. Somebody hit on it the other day
 14 when they said these trial drugs, they want grade A
 15 patients for their trials to give them their tick.
 16 They don't want grade Z with people who have a lot of 17 illness. But they will pass that drug and then they 18 will just give it out to people like me with grade Z,
 19 who is not a grade A, with a 24-hour hotline.
 20 I don't trust the NHS. I will never trust the 21 NHS again. They have done too much damage.
 22 Q. You put it this way:
 23 "I have no faith in the NHS. My treatment over 24 the course of the last 40 years has been a comedy of 25 errors which has not been in the least bit amusing.

31

1 significant liver disease and thus I do not think he
 2 will make the criteria to get the additional pay.
 3 Clearly this will be an additional frustration as 4 Mr Mclean feels his life has been ruined by the 5 acquisition of hepatitis C."
 6 Then it goes on to talk about therapies over the 7 page.
 8 We see there Dr Argarwal saying he presumes your 9 concern was to get additional compensation. Was that 10 discussed with you by him?
 11 A. He said to me, "If you don't trust" -- in a
 12 consultation -- "what the fibroscans are saying,
 13 I would never sign you off as stage 2 anyway". So ...
 14 Q. Had that been your primary concern at that stage or 15 was your primary concern finding out the state of 16 damage to your liver?
 17 A. No, I wanted to find out what damage had been done.
 18 Q. And you observe in your statement that the assertion
 19 you had not had a good consultation was a significant 20 understatement.
 21 A. Yes.
 22 Q. You don't I think quarrel with the description of you
 23 as being frustrated and bitter. You say you feel:
 24 "... completely entitled to be bitter about
 25 being infected with a life limiting virus by the NHS

30

1 I have variously been congratulated on clearing HCV,
 2 despite having never had treatment, the doctor having 3 assumed I have been treated. Doctors still refuse to 4 accept I do not have a clotting disorder and I am
 5 still spoken to as though there is a distinct
 6 possibility I did not contract HCV from blood
 7 products."
 8 Can I just ask you about that last observation,
 9 the suggestion that you have been spoken to as if the 10 source of your hepatitis C was something else. Can 11 you elaborate on that?
 12 A. I don't know what she meant by that. I really don't.
 13 This is a hepatologist who should know that people
 14 given Factor VIII products 100% would be infected with 15 hep C. She seems to doubt that.
 16 Q. When you say "she", who are you referring to?
 17 A. The doctor.
 18 Q. Dr Evans --
 19 A. No.
 20 Q. -- or Dr Argarwal?
 21 A. Yes, the doctor who was in that consultation.
 22 Q. It is a lack of a correlation the doctors are making
 23 that the cause of your hepatitis C is the NHS
 24 treatment and understanding that that then influences
 25 your approach to further treatment.

32

- 1 A. Yes. You know, you are probably going to come on to
2 the letter, but I go into this same doctor and she
3 says, "Oh, I would just like to say well done on 4 clearing hep C. It is brilliant. You must be so
5 happy". I just looked at her dumbfounded and said,
6 "What are you talking about?" Then she looked at her
7 computer screen and said, "I am really sorry. I am
8 reading the wrong person's notes".
9 How do you make that mistake? And they wonder
10 why I have got no trust in them, why I have got no
11 faith in them?
12 Q. Now, in November 1992 you had had surgery --
13 A. Yes.
14 Q. -- for which you were treated with tranexamic acid and 15 DDAVP on a prophylactic basis. You did bleed after 16 that operation. That was, as you understand it,
17 because of a surgical error in relation to the sealing
18 of a blood vessel. As a result of having bleeding you
19 were on 11th November 1992 given four units of fresh 20 frozen plasma. You healed well and for many years you 21 thought nothing further of that particular medical 22 intervention.
23 A. No. Never heard of hep C or nothing and I didn't
24 know -- because I had had the AIDS tests, I didn't 25 have AIDS, so, you know ...

33

- 1 from the Department of Health on this issue."
2 So we can see from this, and your statement
3 says, that when you saw Dr Evans on this occasion, she 4 didn't mention variant CJD to you.
5 A. No.
6 Q. But you saw this letter, because by mistake it was 7 sent to you.
8 A. If you look, if you scroll up a little bit. There you
9 go. There is my doctor. That was the address which 10 should have gone in the envelope, but underneath it is 11 has got "RE: Stuart Mclean" and it has my address, and 12 it came to me by mistake. They put the wrong address
13 in the window of the envelope and I got it instead of 14 my doctor.
15 Q. You understood when you saw this letter that it may be 16 the case that the plasma you received in 1992 for that 17 surgery you had forgotten about over the years,
18 because it hadn't otherwise been significant, may have 19 led to exposure to variant CJD.
20 A. Yes. That's correct.
21 Q. You recollect in your statement seeing Dr Evans not 22 long after this. You then saw her later, but you
23 asked her why she didn't tell you that and she said
24 something to the effect that she wanted to find out if 25 you were at risk first.

- 1 Q. The significance of the treatment you received in 1992
2 then became apparent to you only in 2013 --
3 A. Yes.
4 Q. -- when Dr Evans wrote a letter to your GP, which 5 referred to variant CJD.
6 A. Yes, correct.
7 Q. We will just look that, Stuart. It is 0653025.
8 So we can see it's a letter from Dr Evans to the 9 GP. It refers to reviewing you. Again, it says:
10 "Cannot find any evidence of haemophilia and 11 I think the most likely explanation for his bleeding
12 and his joint pains is the Ehlers-Danlos syndrome."
13 It refers to you being infected with hepatitis C
14 as a consequence of treatment with blood products.
15 Then it says this:
16 "I will try and obtain some information about 17 his previous treatment so that he may apply to the 18 Skipton Fund for compensation for his hepatitis C. As 19 he has had treatment between 1980 and 2000 it is 20 possible that he is at increased risk of new variant
21 CJD. However, I think the guidelines for this are 22 changing and he may not be at risk. Therefore I have 23 not informed him this at present, but clearly if he 24 needs any surgical procedure, then we will have to 25 consider this. I am awaiting further clarification

34

- 1 A. I was a 43 year old man. That wasn't her choice to 2 make. She could have been upfront and she could have 3 told me. I wasn't under 16 -- 43 and you -- this 4 doctor knew my history and she knew I had been lied to 5 for all these years by not being told. She blatantly
6 carries on.
7 Q. We will come on to the rest of the correspondence with 8 Dr Evans and, indeed, Dr Evans's response to your 9 concerns in a moment, but just keeping
10 chronologically, that was 2013. In 2014 --
11 A. Yes.
12 Q. -- you had an appointment at the National Prion Clinic
13 with a nurse consultant.
14 A. Yes.
15 Q. What can you recall about that appointment?
16 A. Again that was at Queen's Square, and what I can 17 basically remember from that was that I was told that 18 vCJD, there was no test for it, and if I did get it,
19 I would be dead in six months anyway, so try not to 20 worry too much, because there was a remote risk
21 anyway.
22 Q. You've not I think heard anything further from the 23 National Prion Clinic --
24 A. Absolutely not.
25 Q. -- since that meeting in September 2014.

1 A. Nothing, no.
 2 Q. You have said in your statement that it was listening
 3 to witnesses in the early stages of the Inquiry
 4 hearings earlier this year that brought CJD back into 5 your mind.
 6 A. Yes.
 7 Q. You had pushed it to the back of your mind because you
 8 were focused on the hepatitis C.
 9 A. Yes.
 10 Q. So you went to see Dr Evans again in May of this year.
 11 A. Yes.
 12 Q. What can you recall about the consultation and 13 discussion you had with Dr Evans in May?
 14 A. I asked her why she thought it was irrelevant to not 15 tell me at the time, and she said to me in front --
 16 with my wife that I was in a bad mental state,
 17 an emotional state, and she thought it was best she 18 didn't tell me that result, because I'd just been told
 19 about the hep C.
 20 Q. She also told you when she saw you in 2019 she had not 21 been able to obtain batch numbers for any blood
 22 products that had been given to you in 1992.
 23 A. That's correct.
 24 Q. If we just look at the letter she wrote following the 25 consultation -- it is at 0653026, please, Henry -- she

37

1 until I had further clarification of whether you were
 2 at risk, particularly as there was no test to be
 3 performed at that stage to determine if you were at 4 risk and there was no impact on your current health at 5 that stage or likelihood of transmitting any infection
 6 to other individuals other than through surgical
 7 instrumentation.
 8 "Once we had established that you were possibly 9 at risk of new variant CJD, I reviewed you in clinic
 10 and we discussed it in some detail."
 11 Then it refers to your concern about not being 12 given the choice to know for yourself.
 13 A. Exactly.
 14 Q. After your consultation with Dr Evans you wrote to 15 UKHCDO to try to get yourself details of any products
 16 administered to you. What were you told by UKHCDO?
 17 A. They said they would have to come back to me, because 18 they had to look on their computerised system, and 19 then I did have correspondence saying that they found 20 nothing. All it had was my name, but there was 21 nothing. It was blank. Four pages of blank paper.
 22 And then they said that they will go through their 23 paper archives, which again has come back as nothing.
 24 Q. And you say in your statement:
 25 "I was told it seemed that Dr Naik had never

1 says this in the long paragraph:
 2 "I understand that you are upset that you feel
 3 I did not warn you about your possible risk of new 4 variant CJD when I saw you on 13th February 2013.
 5 This was the first appointment that we had met and we 6 had just informed you that you had been infected with 7 hepatitis C virus following treatment at another
 8 hospital. At that stage it is clearly documented that 9 I stated I would try to find out some further
 10 information about your previous treatments. I also 11 thought that as you have may have had pooled clotting
 12 Factor concentrates between 1980 and 2000, and 13 therefore, as stated in the letter, that it was 14 possible that you were at increased risk of new 15 variant CJD, I did not inform you of this possibility
 16 at that stage as I wished to obtain further 17 information about what treatments you had had in the 18 past, rather than worrying you unnecessarily if you
 19 had not been exposed to the relevant products within 20 that timescale. However, it was important that 21 I documented this in your notes in case you required
 22 surgery in the near future.
 23 "I am sorry that you feel that I should have 24 warned you of your risk at an earlier stage, but I did
 25 not feel it appropriate to worry you unnecessarily

1 notified UKHCDO of the products which had been
 2 administered to me."
 3 You say UKHCDO told you their records were only
 4 as good as the information that was provided to them
 5 by the hospitals.
 6 A. That's correct, yes.
 7 Q. You also say the doctors who treated you in 1992
 8 didn't notify UKHCDO of the plasma you were treated 9 with, but you understand that a little more, because 10 they knew you weren't a haemophiliac and didn't have 11 Von Willebrand's.
 12 A. That's the way but perceive it. That's my thought.
 13 They knew I wasn't a haemophiliac, so they didn't have 14 to send it.
 15 Q. But because there are no records, you have no way of 16 establishing whether you have received any particular
 17 batch of product that exposes you to a risk of vCJD.
 18 A. By the looks of it I am never going to know.
 19 Q. I should say for the sake of completeness in relation
 20 to this issue that there is a statement from Dr Evans.
 21 I am not going to put it up on the screen, but it is 22 right that I note that she has responded to the 23 criticisms in your statement. She has explained that 24 her thinking was that she wanted to get further
 25 clarification about whether you were at risk before

40

1 worrying you unnecessarily, essentially as she set out
2 in her letters. That statement will be published on 3 the Inquiry's website alongside your evidence.
4 A. Can I just say something on that statement?
5 Q. Yes, of course.
6 A. It is -- she writes in her statement that she informed
7 me I had hep C. Dr Evans did not inform me. My GP
8 phoned me up, and his phone call -- and I remember it
9 vividly -- he said to me, "You need to come down and 10 see me", because I got on well with my GP. He is 11 a very good doctor and he was an ex-barrister. He 12 said, "You need to come down and see me but you need
13 to bring someone with you". Lovely words: "bring 14 someone with you". I put down the phone and said to 15 my wife, "This ain't good".

16 It was my GP that told me I was hep C. So how 17 would she know what state I was in mentally and 18 physically, because it was my GP that told me?

19 Q. What she says is:
20 "There was no intent on my behalf to withhold
21 the diagnosis but to make sure with thorough checking
22 was correct as far as I could determine from any 23 records available. I was concerned about the 24 witness's mental health throughout this period. I was 25 not being arrogant withholding information, but would

41

1 haemophiliac community and they have been given cryo
2 and some have been given it for seven days or a little
3 while, and then they would be moved on to another
4 product if they had a reaction or it wasn't working
5 properly. This lady gave me all three. It was like,
6 "Have that, have that, and for good measure let's make 7 sure I infect you and have that". I can't get my head 8 round that.

9 Q. You spiraled into depression after your diagnosis, and 10 you say in your statement you felt and sometimes still 11 feel worthless and dirty.

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. You have told us about standing on top of the motorway
14 bridge.

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. You are dependent on anti-depressants. Your moods are 17 erratic. You have bouts of uncontrollable anger.

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. We have a statement from your wife, from Karen, who 20 described the impact on you and on her and on your 21 relationship.

22 You also in the cul-de-sac in which you live
23 have had neighbours, previously your friends,
24 discovering that you had hepatitis C, and you have had 25 a neighbour scream at you that you were an "infected

1 not wish to cause harm by giving incorrect information
2 without checks being made regarding previous 3 treatment."

4 As I understand it, your response to that,
5 Stuart, is that it was still your right to know.

6 A. 43 years old. It was my right.

7 Q. Can I ask you what the mental, psychological,
8 emotional impact of the events that we have been 9 exploring and the diagnosis of hepatitis C has been on 10 you?

11 A. A lot of people have done it before. It destroys you.
12 It has destroyed my career, my life, my marriage -- it
13 hasn't destroyed my marriage, but it's not the same.
14 Everything is -- they took a lot away from me for no
15 reason, and that's what I can't deal with. It is why?
16 Why did you do it? It just took everything I had away
17 from me. I had the best job in the world and it's 18 just -- you are left to just get on with it. You are 19 another statistic, I'd say.

20 Q. As I understand your statement, Stuart, you find it 21 very difficult to get your head around the fact, for 22 want of a better phrase, that you were given
23 a treatment you didn't need for a condition you didn't 24 have.

25 A. Yes. Since this Inquiry, I have been listening to the 42

1 hepatitis cunt".

2 A. Yes. I then had to go and explain to my neighbours
3 how I caught hep C, and that was the hardest thing you
4 ever have to do is try to explain yourself for 5 something that you didn't do.

6 Q. And you said in your statement that those neighbours,
7 despite your explanation, don't speak to you now?

8 A. Hardly, no.

9 Q. You have referred to the impact upon your ability to 10 continue working. You were signed off work sick after 11 your depression and ultimately made redundant, and you
12 haven't worked since then.

13 A. No.

14 Q. You feel fatigued and you feel like less of a man,
15 being unable to financially support your family.

16 A. Yes. That's correct.

17 Q. You pay testament to your amazing -- that's your 18 description -- wife, pillar of support, but you feel
19 you have burdened her?

20 A. I do, yes. She never -- my wife has got a [redacted]
21 daughter herself before we met [redacted].

22 Q. [Redacted]

23 A. She didn't need this on top of all that. She just 24 didn't need it.

25 Q. You said in your statement you feel like you betrayed

1 your wife, because she married you whilst she thought
 2 you were healthy and then discovered too late you had
 3 hepatitis C.
 4 A. Correct.
 5 Q. In terms of counselling, you have had, I think,
 6 a couple of counselling sessions provided through the 7 Hepatitis C Trust --
 8 A. Yes.
 9 Q. -- and paid for by the Caxton Foundation, but it
 10 wasn't of any great assistance.
 11 A. No. When I -- obviously you have to tell them your 12 story, and I am sorry to that counsellor, but do you
 13 know the nodding dogs you get in the car? It was like 14 I was talking to one of them. It was just -- she was 15 reading it like a horror story and just didn't 16 understand it.
 17 Q. When you received the stage 1 payment from the Skipton
 18 Fund, what did you use most of it for?
 19 A. We had had a family incident where my blood got 20 spilled in the house. So because of my hep C,
 21 I stripped the house out in fear, because I didn't 22 understand hep C at the time and I just didn't want to 23 contaminate my family. So I stripped the whole house
 24 out and threw everything away and renewed everything.
 25 Q. You describe in your statement having made

1 A. I applied for the funeral grant, because when it went 2 up on their website, it came up that stage 1s and
 3 stage 2s could apply for the funeral grant. So I took 4 a picture on my phone and I applied and I got told no.
 5 I then said to them, "But you have advertised
 6 it, so you have to honour that, because you put it
 7 up", and I sent the picture in to them, and they said,
 8 "We will come back to you on that". The lady did come
 9 back to me. Am I allowed to name her?
 10 Q. It may be better not to name her for present purposes.
 11 You can perhaps tell us later and see whether we need
 12 to obtain any further information.
 13 A. She came back to me and her exact words to me on the 14 telephone were, "We will honour it if you tell no
 15 other stage 1 victim you have had this funeral grant".
 16 Q. You had been told the literature they had put up was 17 a mistake, because the funeral plans were only 18 intended to be available for stage 2 beneficiaries.
 19 A. Correct, yes.
 20 Q. The other observation you have made in your statement
 21 about the schemes -- again, we have heard it from 22 others, but you make this point -- is about the 23 disparity between the support mechanisms across the 24 United Kingdom.
 25 A. It's embarrassing when you look at their website. You

47

1 an application I think to Caxton for a new pair of 2 glasses. What happened in relation to that?
 3 A. I am under seven/eight hospitals, ranging from 4 Middlesex down to Canterbury, and I can't drive
 5 without my glasses and they broke. I asked them for 6 a new pair of glasses and they said, "You have to put 7 in the two quotes and then it will go to the board".
 8 They had just had a meeting, and at the time the 9 meetings were six to eight weeks away. I said
 10 "I can't wait". They said, "You are going to have 11 to". But I had hospital appointments to get to. So 12 I thought, "I will go and buy the glasses and put the 13 receipt in", and they wouldn't reimburse me for them.
 14 They said, "No, you have gone ahead and done something
 15 that's not protocol. We are not reimbursing you".
 16 Q. You have made two other observations in your statement
 17 about the funds and schemes, the first in relation to 18 EIBSS. You are recognised as a stage 1 infected
 19 beneficiary, is the way you put it in your statement,
 20 and you saw their literature saying that the funeral
 21 plan funding was available to both stage 1 and stage 2
 22 beneficiaries.
 23 A. Yes.
 24 Q. So you approached the EIBSS, but what were you then 25 told?

46

1 know, you have got the widows out there who look after
 2 us for free. Dark times, everything, they get us
 3 through our darkest times for free, and there's 4 nothing for them. There is just nothing. It's 5 shameful. It is absolutely shameful. My friend, he 6 mentioned in his statement they never gave us these 7 diseases in stages. What is the stages about?
 8 Q. You put it this way in powerful terms in your 9 statement, Stuart, and I will just read it, if I may:
 10 "Why is the value of your life different
 11 depending on whether you are English, Scottish, Welsh
 12 or Northern Irish, and why is your life worth so much
 13 less if you are British rather than Irish?"
 14 The last topic I want to deal with, Stuart, is 15 the response of Dr Naik to the criticisms in your 16 statement. We have a statement from Dr Naik.
 17 Henry, it is 3802001.
 18 We can see from paragraph 4 of that statement,
 19 bottom of that page, that her essential response to 20 the core criticism you have levelled at her about 21 giving you those treatments is:
 22 "I don't recall 40 years later who I spoke with 23 at OHC [Oxford Haemophilia Centre] but, putting all 24 information available at the time together, was 25 advised by OHC to treat with all three available

1 products."
 2 She says that elsewhere. She says:
 3 "I have not treated Mr Mclean wrongly. I did
 4 the right thing as advised by Oxford Haemophilia
 5 Centre."
 6 She accepts no wrongdoing and says she was never
 7 told by the Oxford Haemophilia Centre that the results
 8 they provided were not reliable.
 9 So that's her response to the substance of some 10 of your concerns, and her statement will be published
 11 on the website. Keep it up, please, Henry as well.
 12 It will be published on the website in due course.
 13 I would like to go to the last page of the 14 statement, please, Henry, and could you zoom in on 15 paragraph 19, first of all. So it refers in 16 paragraph 19 to Dr Williams and his resurrection of 17 the diagnosis of Von Willebrand's. Then it says this:
 18 "Doctors are not certain and keep on the same
 19 treatment given 40 years ago! Mr Mclean, wake up and 20 accept the inevitable. Doctors are scientists, not 21 almighty gods."
 22 Now, that's what Dr Naik says in that 23 paragraph of her statement. Then could we have,
 24 please, paragraph 23, Henry, when she says this. She 25 refers to a point you have made in your statement

49

1 hepatitis C.
 2 A. Yes. Correct.
 3 Q. Now, it is right I should point out that there may be 4 more than one way of reading that sentence. It could 5 be read that the doctor is saying you are not dirty,
 6 but you are rude, demanding and exhibiting
 7 unacceptable behaviour, or it could be read as saying
 8 you are dirty but that is not the reason doctors avoid 9 you. You have read it in the latter way.
 10 A. Yes.
 11 Q. But either way, that sentence in this statement,
 12 I understand, has greatly upset you.
 13 A. That's why I stood at that motorway bridge, because 14 I am dirty, because of what she did to me, and it
 15 says -- the English language "he is dirty". Not 16 "Doctors think he is": "He is dirty".
 17
 18 Q. Stuart, those are the questions I have for you.
 19 Before I ask you if there is anything you would like
 20 to add, I am going to ask Mr Stein if --
 21 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: May I just ask, there is a highlight
 22 in the sense of bold type being used. It looks plain
 23 to me from what lies underneath the extract we can see
 24 on the screen that that is in the original statement.
 25 MS RICHARDS: Yes, that's not a highlight that has been

51

1 about biopsies, and then says this:
 2 "Doctors avoid him [that's you], not because he
 3 is dirty, but he is rude, demanding and exhibiting
 4 unacceptable behaviour. Doctors who dare to speak
 5 truth have witnessed his outbursts. One doctor kicked
 6 him out of his facility! Doctors have many patients
 7 to take care of. Mr Mclean is a grown adult and needs
 8 to have anger management."
 9 I just wanted to home in on that second sentence
 10 with you, Stuart:
 11 "Doctors avoid him, not because he is dirty, but 12 he is rude, demanding and exhibiting unacceptable
 13 behaviour."
 14 First of all, as I understand it, you were last 15 treated by Dr Naik in the late 1970s when you were 16 a child.
 17 A. Yes.
 18 Q. Have you been treated by her or seen her since that 19 time?
 20 A. No.
 21 Q. Secondly, you have been particularly upset,
 22 I understand, by the phrase "because he is dirty".
 23 A. Yes.
 24 Q. And the reason for that is because that is how you
 25 have thought of yourself since you were diagnosed with

50

1 put on by the Inquiry.
 2 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: So the bold has been put on by 3 Dr Naik herself?
 4 MS RICHARDS: Yes, that's my understanding. This is the 5 form in which the statement has been received from 6 Dr Naik.
 7 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: So these are the emphatic points she 8 wishes to make?
 9 MS RICHARDS: One assumes so from the use of the bold,
 10 sir.
 11 There is no further questions from your counsel.
 12 Is there anything, Stuart, that you would like to say?
 13 A. I do, yes.
 14 Sir Brian, I would like to ask you, please, to 15 put a stop to this. Stop us having to go cap in hand,
 16 jumping through hoops to schemes who have no knowledge
 17 of what we, the victims and families, have gone
 18 through and are going through. EIBSS and their 19 predecessor show no care or compassion about our 20 plight or our suffering, and I would like to ask you 21 to make interim recommendations as soon as is 22 possible, because if you wait until the end of this 23 Inquiry, the government can choose to ignore your 24 recommendations and continue to ignore infected and 25 affected victims, as it has done for the last

40 years. I think we have all suffered enough.
If you decide to make interim recommendations as soon as possible, then we can all look at the response from government and comment on the progress they make. If you do this, you might start to see and feel the frustration and anger we victims all feel against the state, but I feel that they will probably ignore you as well.

I was an 8-year-old child when the government and NHS in my opinion deliberately infected me with hepatitis C for no reason. I have been given a death sentence, and when I die, their crime will be complete. I never had a bleeding problem, and what my consultant, Dr Naik, did when I was 8 is completely unforgivable and she should be held accountable for her actions. I find Dr Naik's recent statement both repulsive, cruel and with no remorse or empathy.

My haematologist, Dr Williams, I trusted for over 20 years and he conspired to hide the truth from me, and I cannot forgive him for that. I believe, as an 8-year-old child, this was child abuse and neglect to a minor by both of them.

Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells Health Authority have been complicit in this scandal, because they have either destroyed the batch numbers of the blood even mention us victims or engage with us, and as you have seen in the news, even lie to victims. We continue and are still today their dirty little secret, and governments previous are culpable and complicit of this scandal on a grand scale.

Today's present government continue to cover it all up, the very people we voted into Parliament to protect us, but because we allow them to, they continue to and deliberately mislead the public and can never give straight yes or no answers and bat questions away, because they believe they are superior to us, and believe, "Why should we answer these victims?" Their dirty little secret.

Let me tell you, Mr Johnson and Mr Hancock, we are not scum and we are not your dirty little secret. We are victims of a dirty big lie, deceit, and we as victims are put secondary to money, profit and ethics. But while I and other victims still have fight in our bodies, we will not give up telling the world what these shameful governments past and present and the NHS did to us and their continued stance of no liability, and we will be their dirty little secret no more.

The reason I am here alive today is because of my grandsons and my wife, who has been my rock and got products I received or failed to hand them over to me, or worse still did not record them, and I do not know if I have been exposed to CJD.

My current haematologist, Dr Evans, who disgustingly withheld the results from me in 2013 as she thought it was in my best interests, as she said I was in a vulnerable state after she told me I was hep C. She didn't even tell me my results, my GP did, so how would she know what state I was in? These doctors today still haven't learned any lessons from the mistakes of this terrible scandal.

I apologise for the language in this bit.

One consultant at King's College Hospital, London told me when I raised concerns about treatment to get out of his fucking hospital in front of a five-year-old child. His hospital. How arrogant is that, continuing today in these hospitals? And he has refused to answer to PALS, as he believes he is above the law.

We as victims have had successive Prime Ministers ignore us and bat us away like we are scum, one even saying, "Tell victims to apply for grants from the National Lottery". The likes of Matt Hancock, Jeremy Hunt, one a recent Health Minister and one a current Health Minister, refused to me through some very difficult times and still does. They were on my mind that day on the motorway bridge.

Moving on to EIBSS and their once-a-month payment. The England Infected Blood Support Scheme. Such a shit name, by the way. And my prison number: PB8276, like I am a convicted criminal in prison. It is disgusting and in part shows the contempt that they treat us with.

To EIBSS, my name is Stuart Mclean and not PB8276, and because of that personal number they gave me and others, in the Department of Health's little scheme, I am reminded every month for the rest of my life of what they have done to me. The victims alive and the families of the victims who have died, we want compensation, we want justice, and we want the truth, as this government has lied for too many decades.

So what do I want? I want the truth why these doctors did this to me. I think I was deliberately infected. I was mistreated. I was misdiagnosed, all because Dr Naik was too arrogant to listen to specialists who months before told her I had no bleeding disorder. I want all the doctors in charge of my care to be investigated, and if the Inquiry finds them to have acted improperly, I want a recommendation that criminal proceedings should be

1 taken against them. They should not be allowed to get
2 away with this.

3 I want the government's role in this scandal to 4 be exposed. I don't understand how implicated
5 politicians can go home at night, tuck their kids in 6 and not think of us victims. Many of us were 7 children.

8 The very least government can do is stop burying
9 its head in the sand and making the victims go through 10 even more trauma. The time has come for the 11 government to do the right thing and admit liability, 12 and compensate everyone infected and affected and give 13 us the truth.

14 But I am guessing, as per decades before, no
15 answers will be forthcoming from them. So I would 16 like to challenge Boris Johnson: sit down with us
17 victims and hear our stories face-to-face and then
18 continue to treat us in this way.

19 Finally, I would like to thank a few people.
20 Firstly, my wife, who is my rock, my carer and puts up
21 with my dark times and moods, and to all the widows
22 and carers of us victims that are discriminated
23 against. They get no thanks or support, no nothing,
24 for the continued care and support they give us
25 victims for free, saving the government millions of 57

1 I think the way you have told your story is as much
2 evidence as what you are saying. Thank you.

3 A. Thank you.

4 (Applause)

5 (Witness withdrew)

6 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: 11.50.

7 MS RICHARDS: Thank you, sir.

8 (11.22 am)

9 (Short break)

10 (11.57 am)

11 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Now, our next two witnesses together
12 are Mark and Richard, are they?

13 MS RICHARDS: Yes, sir.

14 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Mark and Richard, please.

15 MARK ANTHONY WARD and RICHARD NICHOLAS DUDLEY-SMITH

16 (affirmed)

17 Questions by MS RICHARDS

18 MS RICHARDS: Mark, you were diagnosed with severe 19 haemophilia A at Great Ormond Street Hospital as 20 a child.

21 MR WARD: Yes.

22 Q. We have a photo we are going to put up of you as 23 a child. It is 1591007, please, Henry. We can see 24 there a very lovely photo of you.

25 How old were you then?

59

1 pounds a year. It is about time they were recognised.

2 I would like to thank my team at Milners -- wow,
3 Sam, Ben and Nathan, just brilliant from the start,
4 and Sir Brian, Jenny and the whole inquiry team for 5 their hard work and patience. I appreciate hearing
6 all the witnesses and reading all the statements must 7 also take its toll on you. So a very big thank you.

8 MS RICHARDS: Thank you, Stuart. Sir Brian.

9 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: You have described what happened to 10 you in the course of your statement and indeed your 11 evidence as a comedy of errors. To me it seems more
12 like a tragedy of errors, well vouched, well detailed,
13 and it is a remarkable story which needed to be heard.
14 So thank you for that.

15 But also I think part of the evidence is not 16 what you have told us happened to you, it's the way
17 you have told us, which is in itself remarkable, that 18 you have managed, despite talking about potential
19 suicide, despite talking about your dark moods,
20 despite detailing everything that was done to you for 21 what you see and others may well see as no apparent
22 reason, you have managed to keep it all together and 23 have given your evidence with what some may see as 24 remarkable restraint. Your anger came out at the end,
25 but it might well have come out at any stage, and

58

1 A. I think about maybe 4, 5.

2 Q. You were treated at Great Ormond Street from 1972 to 3 1983.

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. And you described your childhood very vividly in your 6 statement as one in which you spent more time in 7 hospital or in the back of an ambulance than at home.

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. You had a lot of bleeds and a lot of pain.

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. And you missed a lot of school.

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. That in itself led to difficulties when you then were 14 at school.

15 A. It did, yes.

16 Q. You were teased. There were episodes where you had to 17 have assistance at school and you found that difficult
18 and embarrassing.

19 A. Yes. I was the school freak. Can I just say one 20 thing?

21 Q. Yes.

22 A. The reason I chose that picture -- and I am not coming
23 out fighting by the way, these are the gloves off --
24 I want all the lawyers, the legal team, to look at 25 that face. Don't look at this 50-year-old man sitting

60

1 here. Look at that little face there, because that's
 2 the face that they began their research on. That's 3 the face that they deemed was suitable for doing
 4 whatever they wanted to.

5 Q. You received over the years treatments with 6 cryoprecipitate and then with Factor VIII products.
 7 Do you know which Factor VIII products you received?

8 A. Oh, anything that was going. Probably scraped it off
 9 the road, I don't know. It was all the suspects we've 10 seen, the Alpha, you know, the normal ones, the 11 Armour.

12 Q. So your understanding is you received the commercial
 13 pharmaceutical company products. We know at one
 14 stage, and we will come on to that, you received
 15 Scottish NHS product. As far as you know, did you
 16 also receive the BPL Factor VIII, the Lister product?

17 A. Yes. The Factor VIII was -- I was placed onto it
 18 covertly. The one thing that my -- I wasn't born
 19 normal. I want to make that clear. So when you are 20 not born normal, there is not a normal life. So it
 21 would be -- like you can see in that picture, yes,
 22 I probably would have been at nursery during the day
 23 and then that night with a major nosebleed I'm 24 bleeding to death, literally bleeding to death, and 25 then I'd probably spend four/five days in hospital

61

1 Q. That was the time at which your care was transferred
 2 from Great Ormond Street to the Royal Free Hospital.

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. You had that surgery at the Royal Free Hospital in 5 1984.

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. We have a second photo to display from around this 8 time. Henry, it is 1591008. This I think is you in 9 hospital when you have had the surgery.

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. That's your auntie sitting next to you.

12 A. It is, yes. This photograph, as you can see, the 13 little boy again in the bed. They know I've got AIDS
 14 and this was taken a month before I was told I had 15 AIDS.

16 Q. You were in hospital for about six weeks on that 17 occasion. You've said in your statement that you
 18 understand that you received Scottish Factor VIII, NHS
 19 Factor VIII, during that hospital admission?

20 A. Yes. It was actually for the very first week. So
 21 when I first went in, the only treatment I had 22 administered for that first one week only was Scottish 23 product, and I've checked through my notes, I had 24 never had it before and I have never had it since. It
 25 was just that one week.

1 having treatment with -- and also with whole blood.
 2 So there was nothing natural about my childhood.

3 But the swap was I was on cryoprecipitate and
 4 I went down in the middle of the night in April 1977
 5 with a major nosebleed, and because they would go away
 6 and make the treatment up and then come back and just 7 administer it, we didn't know, and it was only days
 8 after when we were in the haemophilia unit at Great
 9 Ormond Street that we saw the nurse start making up
 10 the treatment, and that's when my mum questioned it
 11 and said, "He's not on that", and that's how we found
 12 out, "Oh, no, he was put on it", and they said, "There 13 is no point in putting him back now, because he's 14 already made the swap".

15 Q. Were your parents, as far as you know, given any 16 warning or information or advice about any risk of 17 infection?

18 A. Definitely not, no.

19 Q. Now, in 1983, it was decided that you needed a knee
 20 operation.

21 A. Yes. They told me -- my knee was so swollen up it
 22 looked -- with my skinny legs it looked like there was 23 a bubble in the middle of my leg. They said if they 24 didn't do this synovectomy operation, then I would be 25 in a wheelchair by the time I was 21.

1 Q. What then happened the day you were discharged from
 2 hospital, from that admission?

3 A. Whilst being in hospital they had access to the bone
 4 and the tissue from when they did the operation. They 5 had access to basically everything, all bodily fluids,
 6 the lot. On the day of discharge my parents came to 7 collect me from the ward, took me down, and the car
 8 was parked outside the Haemophilia Centre. As my dad
 9 was wheeling me through the Haemophilia Centre, behind
 10 reception there was a hatch which looked into the room
 11 where they made the treatment up and this sister,
 12 haemophilia sister, popped up and just shouted across
 13 the room "Mr and Mrs Ward, do you want to know Mark's 14 HIV result?" We all sort of looked -- well, mum and 15 dad looked at each other, "Yeah". She went, "Oh, 16 positive. See you next time". So I was taken home.

17 Q. Your parents and you had not, as I understand your 18 statement, been made aware that you were being tested?

19 A. No, no, and the thing I have real issue with is that 20 that 14-year-old little boy there, number 1, they had 21 me captive for six weeks. Mum and dad didn't know
 22 what was going on in that hospital, what they were 23 doing. They had six weeks to even say to my mum and 24 dad, "Look, because of the current climate,
 25 haemophiliacs, there is a potential risk, would you

64

1 like us to test Mark while he is here?" They had no
 2 conversation at all like that. It was just, "Oh,
 3 you're positive, bye".
 4 Q. And your recollection is that this occasion when the 5 nurse provided that information in that way was 1984.
 6 A. Yes.
 7 Q. It is right, I should point out, that there is 8 an entry in your records -- we don't have it to 9 display, but I know you have seen it -- 26th July 1985
 10 which says:
 11 "Anti HTLV-III pos result given."
 12 Whatever that refers to, you are confident that 13 you heard the news first, whatever the precise date
 14 was, in the way you have described?
 15 A. Definitely, because we went into Christmas 1984
 16 knowing that I was going to die, and because of that 17 major knee surgery at that point in time, it wasn't 18 that I just went home and didn't go back; I was 19 backwards and forwards then almost every week for them
 20 to check the scars, check bleeding, have a further
 21 x-ray to make sure the operation had been successful, 22 and when we went back next time, the consultant in the 23 Haemophilia Centre told us, "Tell nobody, because we 24 can't guarantee your safety. It's a need-to-know
 25 situation and nobody needs to know".

65

1 going and my health.
 2 Q. And you have said in your statement that bullying,
 3 name-calling and intimidation intensified. You were 4 already teased about your sexuality and you then were 5 asked over and over again if you had AIDS yet.
 6 A. Yes. What people probably haven't seen, because I am
 7 very good -- I hide it well, like all haemophiliacs,
 8 my right arm is a weak joint. It was damaged as 9 a baby. So in those days the treatment was rest. So
 10 it is self-fused but perfectly in the shape of where 11 a sling sets. I have got that movement but I can't 12 straighten it. So as you imagine, walking round when 13 you forget, "Oh, it is John Inman. Oh, it is Larry 14 Grayson. Give us a kiss". So the gay element of 15 teasing. Yes, it was bullying. It was there for that 16 and then, of course, when AIDS came along, it was 17 "Wardy, have you got AIDS yet?"
 18 Q. And you said in your final year at school before you 19 have left in 1985 you were terrified of going into 20 school.
 21 A. Yes. You have been told you might not live long
 22 enough to go to school. I know, I will go and sit 23 a religious education exam, and on the way in I will 24 just get tormented, you know, for being a gay boy.
 25 Q. You have told us how you learned that you were HIV

67

1 Q. And that was the follow-up appointment with
 2 Dr Kernoff. You were told not to tell anyone, and
 3 what were you told about prognosis, as to how long you
 4 might live?
 5 A. Oh, "If you are lucky, you might have three to five 6 years, but you probably won't live long enough to 7 leave school".
 8 Q. Your parents were told or advised if there were things
 9 you wanted to do, like go to Disneyland, do it now.
 10 A. Yes, yes.
 11 Q. You then describe in your statement media reports at 12 the time about AIDS and that that led to your mum
 13 being called into your school. What happened?
 14 A. Because we were seeing the pictures on the television
 15 of the rows of gay men in hospital wards dying, just 16 those vivid images, I will never forget them, but mum
 17 got called up to school, because, like what was 18 happening in America, parents were questioning the 19 safety of being around me basically.
 20 Thankfully, because I have got such a fantastic
 21 mum, and actually the headmaster was pretty cool as 22 well, he said that he would allow me to continue being 23 at the school, but obviously if they had a complaint, 24 then it would have to be reviewed, and he would 25 regularly meet with mum to discuss how things were 66

1 positive. How and when did you learn that you had
 2 hepatitis C?
 3 A. Oh, years later. I went into a haemophilia HIV review
 4 with Professor Lee, and the office that we used was 5 a different one from her normal one. So where I sat
 6 in the chair here, the desk was here. So my notes
 7 were here beside me as Professor Lee sat here writing
 8 in them.
 9 I have always been fascinated by biology and 10 actually for me, the HIV, I needed to know information
 11 about it, because if I knew as much as I could, then 12 maybe I could look after myself and basically try and 13 keep myself alive. So I was looking at what she was 14 writing. There was boxes on this page. The first box
 15 had HIV. The next box down said HCV, and I didn't 16 know what that was. So I asked "What does HCV mean?"
 17 Is it a different type of HIV or is it your immune
 18 system?" She said, "No, it is your hepatitis C".
 19 I said "Hepatitis C?" She said, "Because of the 20 treatment you got, one piggy-backs on the back of the 21 other. So if you have got one, you have got two. But 22 you don't have to worry about that because you will be 23 long dead from AIDS".
 24 Q. That was, you have estimated in your statement, 1981.
 25 A. Yes.

68

1 Q. I should say we are awaiting a response from
2 Professor Lee to criticisms you have made in your
3 statement.
4 You have made a number of critical observations
5 in your statement about care you received at the Royal 6 Free Hospital. I am not going to ask you about the 7 detail of a number of those criticisms. I will ask
8 you about some of the general themes.
9 A. Uh-huh.
10 Q. I should just say really for the record now we have 11 had responses, and you have seen them, from 12 Professor Nathwani, Professor Dusheiko, Dr Yee,
13 Ms Debra Pollard, Dr Chaudhry, and in response to 14 observations from Richard in his statement Dr Wilde in 15 relation to care at Birmingham. Professor Lee's is 16 awaited. Those will be published in due course on the 17 Inquiry website. They set out certain responses to 18 criticisms you have voiced. I know you understand
19 I am not going to go into the "he said, she said"
20 elements of some of those responses.
21 In terms of the hepatitis C diagnosis given to 22 you by Professor Lee in the way you have described,
23 were you provided with any other information about
24 hepatitis C, its prognosis or treatment at that time?
25 A. No, just I didn't have to worry about it because I'd

69

1 aware of something, if you have got a severe
2 haemophiliac who is there being injected virtually
3 every other day, it is either negligence that you
4 haven't tested or you have tested and purged that 5 information.
6 Q. Had you known in 1991 that you were being tested for
7 hepatitis C?
8 A. No. I didn't even know what it was.
9 Q. Now, in terms of some of the observations you have 10 made about your care at the Royal Free at that time
11 and in the years that followed, I just want to pick up 12 a couple of themes from the evidence you have given in 13 your statement.
14 The first is this: you say you were not spoken
15 to as a person in your own right or seen as 16 a frightened young man, but were treated with 17 hostility in an abrupt way and made to feel small and 18 that you couldn't ask questions. Is that right?
19 That's how you felt?
20 A. Yes. What people in my opinion don't understand is 21 that they see this young man who, yes, has been given
22 this death sentence, but I was still trying to embrace
23 the life that I had. People have this assumption that 24 if you've been born with a disability, then you're 25 stupid, and actually I am far from stupid, and as

71

1 be dead.
2 Q. You've expressed surprise in your statement that the 3 issue of non-A, non-B hepatitis, as hepatitis C had 4 previously been known, doesn't feature earlier in your 5 records.
6 A. No.
7 Q. So there are references to hepatitis B I think in 8 multiple places in your records, but you say not 9 non-A, non-B.
10 A. No. The thing I actually find disturbing is I was 11 under the world famous Great Ormond Street Hospital
12 where children are flown in from all over the world to 13 have this wonderful treatment, and I have no criticism
14 of the NHS and the care I received on the front line,
15 but within haemophilia documentation and research
16 papers that I have seen since as a campaigner, they 17 are talking about little boys with cirrhosis of the 18 liver from non-A, non-B. I then transferred over to 19 the Royal Free where they were researching hepatitis
20 viruses and non-A, non-B, and there's no mention in 21 either that I have been tested.
22 I would have also thought because of hepatitis B
23 being as prevalent as it was and, as we have heard
24 from other witness statements, you know, haemophiliacs
25 turning yellow wasn't a rarity, because they were

70

1 a little boy, spending so much time in Great Ormond
2 Street, I used to be sitting reading the biology
3 manuals and books the lab technicians were bringing in 4 for me. Even at a very young age, I could tell you
5 various different medical terms.
6 So when I can speak to a doctor, look them in 7 the eye and understand on their level what they are 8 saying, they lose a little bit of power and it makes 9 them a bit jittery: oh, this is a problem.
10 Q. The other theme that emerges from your evidence about 11 the years in which you were under the care of the 12 Royal Free is you believe that your sexuality or 13 speculation about it played a part in the way in which 14 you were treated.
15 A. Yes.
16 Q. Is that right?
17 A. Yes. I mean, in 1983, in preparation for the first 18 knee operation I had, it was like a scene out of Carry 19 On, you know. The surgeon would come in with his 20 entourage and they would talk over the top of you and 21 it all went on around you, "Yes, good chap", and out
22 he went. But in my medical notes he says I am a very 23 bright and intelligent young man "I believe with 24 homosexual tendencies".
25 At 14, you are struggling with hormones and

72

1 everything else going on in life, and, okay, so he was
 2 right, but I don't understand why that had to be said.
 3 If that was his suspicion, well, great, but why did it
 4 need to be put into my medical notes?
 5 Q. You have said in your statement -- there may be some 6 debate about how often this has occurred, but you have 7 said in your statement you have seen in your medical 8 records references to your sexuality, which you say
 9 should have been irrelevant to the assessment, care,
 10 treatment that you were being given.
 11 A. Yes. On one occasion I woke up one morning and I had 12 all these warts come up on my face, and because 13 working at the airport, obviously I needed to be clean
 14 shaven. So using the electric shaver I tried gently
 15 to shave, and the following day it was even worse. So
 16 I went to the hospital, and the referral letter that 17 was sent to dermatology was, "Would you please see 18 this homosexual man with AIDS?"
 19 Q. You also more generally describe yourself during those 20 teenage years and having received this diagnosis as 21 hating yourself for being gay.
 22 A. Yes.
 23 Q. Because AIDS was seen as a gay plague and the 24 infection of the haemophilia community was seen as the 25 fault of the gays.

73

1 A. When people say, "Oh, living the dream", I said to my 2 careers adviser that I wanted to work in aviation and
 3 I will never forget him. He said to me, "Oh, they'll 4 never look at someone like you. Get your head out of 5 the clouds and think about working in a shop". So
 6 I said to him "I don't want to work in a shop, I want
 7 to work with aeroplanes". He rolled his eyes and it
 8 was like, "Why am I bothering because you are going to 9 die, aren't you? So it is irrelevant what we are 10 talking about".
 11 Then I went for an interview with Britannia
 12 Airways. I was given a position and then the 13 following day I was phoned and they said, oh, they had 14 made a mistake and they had actually taken on more
 15 people than they actually had spaces for, but she did
 16 just want to clarify one thing: I did have haemophilia
 17 and what was haemophilia? So I explained it and she 18 said she was very sorry but it was lovely to meet me.
 19 So not settling for that, I applied to British 20 Airways. I went to Heathrow. I passed all the tests
 21 with flying colours. I could have done them standing
 22 on my head. They were concerned about travelling from 23 my home to Heathrow, so I said that I have family that 24 live near Gatwick, did they have a scheme? They 25 transferred my file down to Gatwick. I went down, saw

75

1 A. Yes.
 2 Q. And you ended up hating yourself for that.
 3 A. Uh-huh. They led me to believe -- I have always 4 known -- I mean, when you are born different -- but 5 then there was something else that just didn't
 6 quite -- I am not going to say feel right. I knew
 7 that I was different and I had a suspicion of what
 8 I thought it was. So I asked, "Are there any gay
 9 haemophiliacs?" and I was told "No". So if there
 10 weren't any gay haemophiliacs, but then I had been 11 given the gay plague, which was all across the 12 newspapers and it was everywhere, the haemophiliacs
 13 were being connected with the gay community, that's 14 why I am feeling this way, and nobody did anything --
 15 would even speak to me about the way I was feeling,
 16 because they don't talk about that kind of thing, and 17 so -- yes, I was led to believe it was the virus.
 18 Q. If we return to the mid-1980s, you left school aged 16
 19 in 1985 and you had always been passionate about 20 aeroplanes.
 21 A. Yes.
 22 Q. You started work at Gatwick with British Airways
 23 through its Youth Training Scheme.
 24 A. Yes.
 25 Q. You loved your job over the following years.

74

1 the person who became my boss, and she said to me,
 2 "What could you bring if we offered you the post?"
 3 I said, "I would sweep the runway with a toothbrush
 4 just to be working with aeroplanes. That's how much
 5 this means to me". She contacted Heathrow. At that 6 point the scheme had 12 people. It was only funded
 7 for 12, and I became number 13. They made the post
 8 for me. So she saw something in me.
 9 Q. You have explained in your statement you worked there
 10 for a number of years, you loved it, but you were also 11 living what you have described as a double life,
 12 because you didn't dare tell people that you had HIV.
 13 A. No, no. Every aspect of my life there was 14 a connection with that. There was too much fear.
 15 Because even there was a rumour went through British 16 Airways that they were going to start testing cabin
 17 crew for HIV, but that could then go to ground staff
 18 as well. Because of the education, the narrative that 19 was being put out, the connection with the gay
 20 community, you know -- I don't hide who I am, I know
 21 I am as camp as a row of pink tents, but actually at 22 British Airways I was Mark, and the people saw me and 23 embraced me and actually loved me. I am still in 24 connection with a lot of people.
 25 Q. We have got a photo from around this time. 1591009,

76

1 please, Henry. This is you with a car you were very
2 proud of, I understand.
3 A. My first car bought with my wages from when I was 4 taken on permanently. So that was, yes, my Celica, my 5 pride and joy.
6 Q. That's 1989 roughly.
7 A. Roughly, yes.
8 Q. In the course of the 1990s your health started to 9 deteriorate.
10 A. I had a car crash. I was on the M25 stationery and 11 a car hit me at 60 miles an hour. My dad always said
12 when I got this car he didn't like it because it was 13 too small. "If you have a big car and you are in 14 an accident, you have got all that bonnet, all that 15 boot to save your life". So that Celica actually went 16 wrong and I bought a Ford Granada. When the firemen
17 cut me out of it -- the back doors came over the front
18 and it split the floor. I had to be cut out, and the 19 fireman said the reason I was alive was because it was 20 a big, new sturdy car and -- yes, that's what saved my 21 life. So it sort of made me think about -- again,
22 your mortality is there, you have all this stuff going
23 on, but death could have hit me there and then.
24 Q. But in 1995 you ended up rushed to hospital because 25 you had CMV.

1 wanted me to stay in and she explained to us that the 2 ganciclovir treatment is very, very harsh, they would
3 have to monitor me closely but I could possibly have 4 a matter of days to live. My dad said, "Well, if 5 that's the case, my boy is coming home". She said
6 "No". You don't argue with my dad. My dad said my 7 mum's been doing my treatment since I was a little
8 boy, "If she can't connect a drip to a tube then there
9 is something wrong. I don't care what you say, if he 10 is going to die, he is coming home to die with us",
11 and I went home.
12 Q. Your weight had dropped to 4.5 stone at that time.
13 A. Yes.
14 Q. You have said in your statement that later you found
15 out that from 1993 to 1995 they had been secretly
16 testing you for CMV, which is why they were so quick
17 to diagnose it when you were then admitted in 1995.
18 A. Yes.
19 Q. What's your basis for your belief you had been 20 secretly tested?
21 A. In my medical records, the card they filled out for 22 the blood test, each one had CMV on it. There was 23 loads of them. They are layered on pages. It just 24 seemed like month after month.
25 Also, again, with my Tainted Blood head on,

79

1 A. Yes.
2 Q. What can you recall about that illness and that time?
3 A. I had gone into work and I had -- the only way I can
4 describe it, it felt like I had an upset stomach. It
5 just felt really queasy. But I was really warm and 6 also as I was breathing it felt like it was quite
7 tight and I thought, "Maybe I have just got a cold
8 coming or something like that". Then my eyesight
9 started going fuzzy. So I phoned mum and said,
10 "I have got to go to the hospital because I don't feel 11 well". I actually left Gatwick on my shift, drove to 12 my parents', and then mum and dad came down with me
13 the following day, and literally within the hour I was 14 diagnosed with CMV.
15 Q. And you had ulcers in your eyes, lungs and stomach.
16 A. Yes.
17 Q. Your CD4 count went down to almost zero.
18 A. Yes.
19 Q. And you thought you were going to die.
20 A. Professor Lee stood at the end of my bed and I said to 21 her, "This CMV, how could I have got that?" and she 22 said, "It is your homosexual lifestyle", which 23 I couldn't quite understand, you know. Going out and 24 listening to Kylie Minogue and you come up with 25 a virus? I don't know. But dad said -- Professor Lee

78

1 I looked back and found research papers where
2 Professor Lee had actually published research in 1995.
3 At the same time that I had CMV, she published papers
4 saying that the treatment, although it was heat
5 treated, it only killed the hepatitis B, C and HIV,
6 but pathogens like Parvovirus, B19 and CMV it didn't 7 kill. So the treatment was still dangerous, but we 8 weren't being told that.
9 Q. And you weren't aware that you had been tested for 10 CMV?
11 A. No, no.
12 Q. You recovered at home and started to improve and you
13 went back to work on reduced hours. You then describe
14 in your statement becoming ill later with a chest
15 infection and then being put on around the same time
16 a combination of medication, including Septrin and AZT
17 by the Royal Free.
18 A. Yes.
19 Q. What were the side effects of the treatment you
20 received?
21 A. It was horrible. I mean, you can see my appearance
22 means everything to me. This is what the world sees.
23 When I joined British Airways, we were ambassadors for 24 the airline, so you had to look good in your uniform,
25 and in the days when we were the world's favourite airline, it was because people were dedicated to that and everything about your image. So I was so proud to wear that uniform, so I had to look immaculate.

Then my hair started to fall out. My eyes started to become darker and my face. I could see the AIDS creeping up. I started to see in the mirror the pictures of those gay men dying on the AIDS wards.

I mean, the AZT, the feeling, it just -- we have heard similar about how sort of the flu-like symptoms with the hepatitis C treatment. This just felt like somebody was kicking the crap out of you all the time and it was just -- you would sort of go to the toilet, you would walk out the door and then have to go back in. I would spend hours just going to the toilet. You would think, "How much more?" It was like everything was becoming dark. But then still trying to carry on working, because putting on this front -- I was exhausted.

Q. You then had CMV again in 1997.

A. Yes. My right eye.

Q. Your vision was affected, you have said in your statement you think due to the HIV medication that you were receiving.

A. I was on a drug -- I laid in the Royal Free and Professor Lee came up. She is a very cool character.

said, "Stick your head in the oven" and I would have done it, because I had been groomed from a young age to do what I was told and respect what they said and who they were. So there wasn't any questions asked. It was just, "We need to change". So, of course, the first time I went to the loo and it came out looking like Ribena, I was mortified. It was like, "What do I do?" Again, we can't just straightaway take treatment, because it can destroy your kidneys, it can cause blockages. So yes, it was really frightening.

Q. You said it was when you went back to the hospital you were told this was a standard side effect.

A. Yes.

Q. We have got two photos of you from the late 1990s, I think about 1998.

Henry, could we first have 1591011.

Do you want to tell us about this photo, Mark?

A. Well, you can see that beautiful little bundle of fluff there on my leg. That's my little Simba. He was born in Birmingham Dogs' Home. He left his mum in the morning and I got him at lunchtime. The reason I got him -- it was for my birthday, but basically by getting him gave me a reason to live, and I made a promise with my mum and dad that if I died, they would look after him. So I knew that he would be all

She is very calm spoken but very firmly spoken, but she actually came up and looked quite flustered and said, "We need to change your HIV medication, which is called ethambutol", and I am connected to this machine with the ganciclovir going on. I said "Why?" She said, "It's been causing crystallisation behind the eyes of patients which has then killed them because it has caused a brain haemorrhage. That's not helpful with haemophilia". So I was then changed on to something else.

Q. The new treatment that you received turned your urine bright red. You say that made you think you were bleeding in internally.

A. Yes, yes. Again, it was just, "We need to change your medication". Bearing in mind, because of the narrative we had been told right from the word go -- when we sat down and said about the HIV diagnosis, when asked "How did it happen?", the narrative we were told was that because the blood was imported, homosexuals and drug addicts, they had taken the blood and that's how it had accidentally got into us, because it had been put into -- come into the treatment that way. So it was a big accident.

So when you wake up each day believing you are a survivor of this awful accident, they could have right if I left him, but looking that picture, you can see the face, but also you can see the shade of yellow that I am. Yes. He gave me a reason to carry on.

Q. And if we could then have, please, Henry, 1591010, what can you tell us about this photo?

A. I had been told that because my CD4 was so low I had full-blown AIDS and, as you can see with the red and the white, it was actually an HIV charity AIDS dinner. I believed it was probably going to be the last social event that I went to. By going there I wanted to show the people who were there that this is what an AIDS face looks like, but a haemophilia AIDS face. The fact that I am a gay man doesn't come into it. But I also wanted to try and raise some money and awareness for those that is would be left behind after I was gone.

Q. I am not sure whether it was exactly around this time or not, but you can hopefully tell us, you had to have all your teeth removed.

A. The hospital had told me the ganciclovir was a really harsh drug. That itself because of my weight -- from the age of 13 to the age of 40 I was 7.5 stone with a 26-inch waist. Any fluctuation in my weight showed. I have always been thin. They said with the ganciclovir I would probably lose weight. Because

1 I don't do nothing normally, I actually put weight on,
2 so that was one thing that was good about it, but --
3 sorry, I lost my thread then.
4 Q. I was asking you about the fact you lost your teeth.
5 A. Oh, yes. I bit into a sandwich and my tooth
6 shattered, just completely severed off at the gum, but 7 leaving the nerves exposed. So I went to the hospital
8 and they had to cut my gum to get the tooth out. Then 9 this happened again, and by the time about the third
10 or fourth tooth had shattered, trying to get 11 appointments at the dentist or anything like that, it
12 wasn't happening. You had to wait. So it meant that 13 everything I ate, everything I drank, you have got 14 these shattered teeth with the nerve just hanging
15 there and you could not do anything about it. It was 16 just, "Wait your turn".

17 It felt very much like they were reluctant to do
18 anything quickly, because when you look like that, it
19 was throwing money down sort of a dark hole. But it
20 carried on, and at one point I just saw -- she wasn't 21 even a consultant. It was a dental registrar. She 22 said what they were planning was to take me in and 23 remove eight of my teeth under local anaesthetic. We 24 questioned that and said, "Hang on a minute. A severe
25 haemophiliac with AIDS, there is an infection risk,

1 CJD.
2 A. Yes. The trial for Helixate I was asked -- because 3 I had had the back teeth out -- it was pretty
4 horrible. You imagine all this was swollen up. I was 5 bruised and had black eyes. I looked like I had been 6 beaten up. I wasn't pretty at all. They said would 7 I consider, when I had the front ones done, the 8 Helixate trial, because the children had the Helixate
9 licensed for single infusion only. They didn't have 10 the licence for continuous infusion for surgery. So 11 if I agreed to do the trial, that would help with the 12 licensing process for the kids. And being in that 13 state, of course, I wanted to do something for the 14 next generation. What they could learn or what we 15 could achieve would protect the kids. So yes,
16 I agreed.

17 I had my teeth taken out. The follow day I was 18 sitting up eating Rice Krispies. There was no
19 bleeding. It was actually brilliant. It really was 20 fantastic. I had no pain. Because I was on the trial
21 I had to stay in hospital for the week to complete
22 that course. As far as I'm aware, when that then
23 ended, all the paperwork was sent off and the licence
24 was gained, obviously, but then they put me straight
25 back on the old stuff that Professor Lee had already

87

1 but you have got a massive bleeding risk". Any dental
2 work I have had previously I had had done under 3 general anaesthetic. But that's what they were going
4 to pursue, so it was suggested we make a formal
5 complaint, which we did. We got an apology and they 6 decided then that all of my teeth had to come out,
7 because that was the easiest option.

8 So they took me in and removed my back teeth
9 first, and then in the second operation, when I went 10 in, they took the front ones. So they basically took 11 away my smile as well.

12 Q. And because your appearance was something that had 13 mattered to you very much and mattered because of the 14 work you did, that was something you found
15 particularly difficult.

16 A. Yes. I mean, how do you sit on a check-in desk, smile
17 at a passenger and say, "Can I take your passport, 18 please, tickets and passport", smile and you have got 19 all your teeth shattered? It was horrible.

20 Q. You said in your statement that it was during the 21 second dental surgery that you were asked about doing
22 a trial of Helixate, but then you were placed back on 23 Factor VIII products. You think it is the Factor VIII
24 that you received during that surgery that exposed you
25 to, as you subsequently learned, a risk of variant

86

1 said was dangerous.

2 So you have got someone with full-blown AIDS who 3 is being put back onto treatment by a consultant that
4 has already said it is dangerous, and another research
5 document was put out and it was talking about, again,
6 life-threatening Parvovirus B19 in immunocompetent
7 haemophiliacs. So I can't understand why they had me
8 on this safe synthetic treatment that was licensed for 9 single use -- I was on demand treatment, I wasn't on 10 prophylaxis -- why I couldn't have stayed on that.

11 Then looking back, the batch number they gave 12 me, in the biggest haemophilia unit in the country,
13 I had had this one particular batch in the first
14 operation, and then when they put me back onto it
15 after the Helixate trial, it was the same batch. We 16 are talking about I think one was February and one was 17 September. So they had kept that batch for eight
18 months, which then became flagged up.

19 Q. You describe in your statement a loss of trust in the 20 medical profession and in the Royal Free and how you
21 started to rely more on information from the LGBT
22 community about HIV and the available treatments for 23 HIV.

24 A. Yes. I was going out on the gay scene and became 25 friends with various different people, but one of the guys I became very good friends with worked at GAY, which was then the biggest gay and lesbian club in the country. I actually got on all right with the promoter and he offered me a job, which I did. So I would be stood on the door as -- my official title was "door whore". Everybody who came in, I had to take their tickets. When the acts came to the stage door, I would take them to their dressing rooms, if they wanted anything, got it for them, made a fuss, back to the front of house. So I was the person that was the link between the staff and the public and the acts, and it was great.

But then when we did, say, charity fundraising events, so for Crusade, Gay Men Fighting AIDS and THT, one of the guys who came down was actually a friend of the Terrence Higgins, and he was the first person that I told that I had got HIV but as a haemophiliac, and when I was telling him things that I was being told, he was horrified. So he would come down to the club fairly regularly, and if there was a leaflet or something like that he would bring down and he was giving that to me.

When I then went to the hospital armed with this bit of paper or this leaflet, I had the information and I would ask them about it and then I would be told

They did an MRI and I lost the use of my left arm and they told me I had had a stroke, but there was a lesion on the motor cortex part of my brain, and it was this lesion that had caused this stroke, and that's what meant I had lost the use of my arm.

I was lying in the bed. Mum was sat beside me. I don't even know who this doctor was. He was I think, again, just a registrar. He came up and said that they had reviewed the imaging and I had what was called JC virus, otherwise known as PML, but he said JC virus. He said, "Basically, what that will do is, as it spreads, it goes a cobweb across your brain. So as it goes across your brain, depending on which part of the brain it affects first, it will shut that part of the brain first. So you could lose your sight, lose your speech. You could just stop breathing. Basically, the prognosis is you will end life connected to life support as a vegetable. So go home, get your affairs in order. You have got weeks, not months". So that's what I did.

Q. You say in your statement it was then your care was transferred to Birmingham.

A. Yes, because I couldn't drive.

Q. And it was when you returned home from the hospital completely the opposite. One day I even took one of the papers in, because it was saying there was new hope of a medication in America, and Professor Lee wouldn't even look at it because it was a gay publication. She wouldn't touch it.

Q. In 1998 your care transferred to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham, because you moved to the Birmingham area.

A. I moved to Birmingham, but my primary care stayed at the Royal Free, but I had -- I was registered at both. So everything still went through the Royal Free, and I was still travelling down to the Royal Free for reviews. But if I needed treatment or anything, I could go to the QE, which happened a couple of times. I fell down the stairs, so I was admitted to the QE.

Q. Then I think it was in 2000, whilst you were on holiday in Gran Canaria, you began to feel ill. When you came home, you were taken into hospital in Birmingham.

A. In the Royal Free.

Q. In the Royal Free, my apologies. You were told you had a lesion on the right motor cortex of your brain that had caused a bleed.

A. Mum came with me to the hospital and I collapsed.

after this admission that there was a letter waiting for you about potential exposure to variant CJD.

A. Yes. So when you are -- I had been medically retired from British Airways. When they told -- when British Airways -- I had to come clean about my infection because I was being blackmailed by somebody. They were told I had full-blown AIDS and then basically they couldn't get rid of me quick enough. They shuffled me up to Heathrow on 12 hour shifts, so my health plummeted even more. No matter how much I tried, I just -- on AZT and everything, I just couldn't cope with it. They called me in and said I had an ultimatum: that I could take medical retirement or the next time I went sick, they would fire me. Because I loved British Airways so much, I took medical retirement, because I was still on the payroll. I was still part of the world's favourite airline.

It was -- I have forgotten what I was going to say again, sorry.

Q. I was asking you about how when you returned home from this particular admission that you received the vCJD notification.

A. So because of all this that was going on with the medical retirement, I suppose I was shutting off, you

1 know. When somebody tells you now you are going to
 2 die from something else, whether it be CJD, JCB,
 3 JC-whatever-it-be, what he had said to me in the 4 hospital was JC virus, you come home and there is 5 a letter saying CJD, I put two and two together and 6 came up with five, thinking that's what I had. Well,
 7 I was still going to die from this brain virus,
 8 whatever it was, but it did make reference that it was 9 similar to BSC.

10 Q. You sold your car and made other preparations for your 11 death.

12 A. Yes. Mum came up to look after me, because with not 13 being able to use my arm, I couldn't cook, I couldn't 14 dress myself, I couldn't bathe myself. Mum was 15 dressing me and doing everything for me. We were 16 going through paperwork that needed to be destroyed.
 17 Yes, sold the car, and it was just preparing to die.
 18 All I really wanted to do was just watch the 19 television. I just wanted to watch cartoons.

20 I am sure you are going to get on to it, but 21 I contacted the MacFarlane Trust and asked for a grant
 22 to have Sky telly, because I didn't know how long
 23 I had, but all I wanted to do, like I say, was just 24 watch Disney films. Just lie there and wait because 25 it was going to happen. I gave up. They said no,

93

1 started to fight a bit more and question what you were
 2 being told by doctors?

3 A. Yes. Because of his background. We sat and we talked
 4 about things. Yes, the prognosis at that point in 5 time was bleak. It was horrible, you know. Death is 6 there. But he said, "Well, if you are going to die,
 7 at the moment you are living on this tiny BA pension,
 8 you are not on benefits or anything" -- because in 9 between my bouts of illness I always went and got 10 another job, because that's what you do. So I was 11 living on my MacFarlane Trust money and, like I say,
 12 my pension. He said, "Let's start the process to get 13 you benefits. If you die, then nothing is lost. If 14 you don't die, even if it is 50 quid or whatever it
 15 is, it is still a bit extra for you and it will help
 16 you". So that's what we did. We applied. That was 17 the beginning of another nightmare.

18 Q. I will come on to benefits at a later stage and your 19 experiences in that regard.

20 You were placed on a new medication regime by 21 Dr Wilde at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital. He had 22 stopped the medication that you had been given by the 23 Royal Free and put you on a different regime and you
 24 started to feel slightly better.

25 A. Yes. Dr Wilde actually tested my blood, because he

95

1 because it was a luxury item. So my mum paid for the
 2 installation of the Sky for me.

3 Q. You said in your statement it was not long after this 4 that you met Mark Simmons, who we have heard from 5 other witnesses was a social worker attached to the 6 haemophilia unit at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in 7 Birmingham. You say he was able to educate you about 8 health issues and treatment issues in a way that the 9 doctors had never been able to.

10 A. Yes. I had a connection with him. He spoke to me as 11 a person. Because of his background as a social 12 worker, but specialising in HIV, he had actually flown
 13 out to New York when the AIDS epidemic first hit. So
 14 he was out in New York setting up counselling, things
 15 like that, and helping AIDS victims in New York. My 16 understanding is that a group of his friends, they 17 decided to return back to the UK to become social 18 workers. Rather than being, say, activists on the 19 outside, by coming on the inside, they could help more
 20 people. So his knowledge was fantastic. There was no
 21 judgment.

22 Because of what has happened I don't trust
 23 anybody, but Mark Simmons is one of the very few
 24 people that I can say I would trust with my life.

25 Q. He, you say, instilled your rebellious side and you

94

1 couldn't understand, again, the yellow colour and, you
 2 know, how ill I was. He had my blood tested and he
 3 couldn't believe how toxic it was. Basically what had 4 happened was the Royal Free just kept adding
 5 medication. They were not taking anything away. It
 6 was just adding and adding and adding. It was just 7 all building up in my system. So he completely
 8 stopped everything, completely changed it. He did
 9 contact the Royal Free saying about my abnormal liver
 10 function test and they said, "Oh, it is probably his 11 HIV meds". That's what prompted him to look at the 12 toxicity in my blood.

13 Q. In 2003 you met Richard on another holiday --

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. -- in Gran Canaria, and you have been together ever
 16 since.

17 A. Yes. Can I tell you about that?

18 Q. Yes. You might want to ask Richard rather than me
 19 that question.

20 A. I had gone on holiday with my friend, who had never 21 been to Gran Canaria before. At this point in time
 22 still -- this had sort of settled down, the brain
 23 stuff. I was heavily medicated. I had got the use of 24 my arm back. Yes, things weren't brilliant, but I was 25 on a level and anything to go on an aeroplane. I would drag myself on an aeroplane I think. Put me on one in a coma and I would be there.

So my friend said, "Let's go to Gran Canaria", which we did. On the night Richard and I met, my friend had been stood up. I was comfortable with the fact that someone like me wouldn't meet anybody. I went out clubbing and I was out with my friends not to try and meet anyone, but I just enjoyed the time. I loved the dancing and I loved the clubbing life. Yes, just having a good time with my friends. That is all I wanted. So nothing else really mattered.

So I was being all cynical and said, "Oh, it is Gran Canaria, don't worry about it, people just come here for a laugh and nothing serious happens". So we went into this particular bar and it was famous, because at a certain point in the night the manager would bring props out. So he would play on this big telly clips of musicals. So the marriage scene from the Sound of Music, he would have a bride's veil that went all the way around the bar and everybody had to wear it. It was just a great lot of laughter, a lot of fun.

This particular moment, I was wearing a pink hat, a bonnet, banging a tambourine, singing, "High on a hill was a lonely goat herder", as you do, and as umbrella so my feathers didn't get wet. It is love. It is love.

MS RICHARDS: Can I ask you, Mark, about certain aspects of your health in the years since then.

You have described in your statement having first-stage renal failure which you learned was caused by your previous HIV medication regime.

A. Yes.

Q. What can you tell us about that?

A. I had noticed something in my medical notes, because -- because there was trust issues. I was looking at my medical notes to see what I could find out. I noticed there was a line that Professor Lee had written and it said, "No bladder issues at present". Then all of a sudden I did start to get problems. I had my HIV care now in the Ian Charleson Centre, which is the HIV unit, under the care of Professor Margaret Johnson. They had been sort of switching medications and things, and then one day she came in and I was complaining of a pain down here. So she did some tests and she came back in and said, "Well, you have got renal failure -- you have got first-stage renal failure".

So they sent me for some tests and basically they said it was I think it was called tenofovir.

I looked, all the people sat at the bar here sat back and stood under this light at the end was this man laughing. I was like, "What are you laughing at?" Of course, he couldn't hear so he came down. As he put his hand on my back and said, "What did you say?" I honestly felt like I had been electrocuted. I said, "What are you laughing at?" He looked at the bonnet. That was it. I fell in love with him that minute. Bang.

Q. You moved to Brighton to live with Richard in 2004, so your care transferred back to the Royal Free.

A. Yes.

Q. I am just going to put up a photo. It is 1591012 I think, Henry.

A. I was a volunteer at the Terrence Higgins Trust and for that year they asked me to organise the entry into Birmingham Gay Pride for THT. That's why I am in the silver and purple because they are the THT colours. We were all in costumes. I had met Richard I think it was two, three weeks before that, a month.

MR DUDLEY-SMITH: A month.

MR WARD: He came along because they had forecast rain -- he had come to spend Pride with us, but he carried the

98

They needed to take me off the tenofovir and put me on to something else.

Then a little while later I had spoken to Professor [redacted], because this pain just wasn't getting any better. I knew there was something wrong and I kept asking him, "Can I see somebody?" He wouldn't refer me. In the end I nagged so much that he did do a referral. In the letter he says he has tried to dissuade me but I am very persuasive or something, or I was adamant I needed to see someone.

So we went and saw a urologist. The test that they did was you have to go into a room and you have to go to the loo through a machine and then it does a printout. When I went back in -- Richard sat there with him. He never said a word to Richard. When the nurse gave him the read-out, the colour drained from his face and he said, "We need to get urgent test. I am going to refer you to nuclear medicine immediately. This suggests that you have got a blockage and, with your haemophilia, if a kidney ruptures, it will kill you".

So I think that was on the Thursday. On the Monday I was in nuclear medicine pumped full of radioactive dyes and things. Yes, my right kidney had shrivelled up. The left kidney apparently had nodules

1 all over it. It was deformed. I think the right
 2 kidney was working about 16%.

3 Q. The treatment you were given in relation to the renal
 4 problems that you were on you have described as 5 treatment that sucked all the life out of you. You
 6 became very depressed from the specific medication you
 7 were given.

8 A. Yes. He prescribed me this tablet. It was one tablet
 9 a day and I had to take it for a month. What he'd 10 said was that the tube leading from my bladder had got 11 a kink in it or it was narrowed, so this tablet would 12 basically relax that and help me go to the toilet.

13 Well, it didn't, but it was literally like 14 sitting in a room with somebody turning down the 15 dimmer switch. The colour and everything started to 16 drain, and yet each day it just got worse and worse.
 17 Because of the relationship Richard and I have,
 18 although I try to protect him as much as possible,
 19 I needed to tell him, and I do tell him how I am
 20 feeling, because if something went wrong here, he 21 could tell the doctors what was happening.

22 I stuck it out for the month and, yes, I really
 23 got to the end of the month and I just couldn't 24 careless about anything. You could have said I have 25 won the lottery and -- "Yes, whatever". I really

101

1 try interferon.

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. What can you tell us about what then ensued?

4 A. Whilst I was in Birmingham, because of the trust I had
 5 with Mark Simmons, we would speak -- he would come
 6 round to the house as a social worker to do his job,
 7 but the other thing was he would say things that he 8 was seeing in the community. So if there was a piece
 9 of information I needed to know about the MacFarlane
 10 Trust, he would tell me that as well.

11 It had been suggested by the Royal Free before
 12 the brain incident that I go on to interferon. So 13 because of my trust with Mark, I said to him, "They've 14 said about this, what do you know about it?" He said 15 to me, "Obviously I can't medically advise you, but 16 what I have been seeing, it is horrendous. Mark,
 17 I honestly don't feel you are psychologically strong 18 enough and certainly not physically" -- bearing in 19 mind I was 7.5 stone. He says the first thing that 20 happens when you go on to interferon is you lose about 21 a stone, a stone and a half in weight. That would 22 take me back down to 5 stone, 5.5ish. Because of all 23 this other stuff going on, it was affecting my mental 24 health. I had lost my dreams. They had ripped out my 25 smile. I had been told all this stuff was going on.

103

1 didn't care. Then each day after the colour started
 2 to come back and I could feel my mood lifting.

3 I then went back and saw the urologist. He then
 4 said that he would give me another tablet. "Try this
 5 one, this one should have different effects". So
 6 nothing happened. To be honest, I then forgot about 7 it. I think it was about six months later the local 8 pharmacy delivered this tablet to our front door and,
 9 like all people should, I read the leaflet and it
 10 said, "If you are taking this medication, you must not 11 take this drug", and there was my HIV medication on 12 it. Rather than just saying, "I am not going to take 13 it", I phoned the pharmacist to clarify, was this 14 right? She got all upset, because she'd not 15 prescribed it, I was to speak to the GP. The GP got 16 upset, because he had been asked by the Royal Free to 17 prescribe it. When I contacted the Royal Free to say,
 18 "I am not supposed to be on this drug", it turned out
 19 the drug he had put me on previously, the HIV
 20 medication I was taking causes other medications to 21 back up. So that is why everything was getting dark,
 22 it was because my toxicity was going up and up and up.
 23 I was overdosing.

24 Q. Treatment for hepatitis C. I wanted to ask you about 25 that. There came a stage at which you were advised to

102

1 So he said to me, "If you can stay off it as long as
 2 possible, I understand there is research into newer
 3 medications coming along. If they say you need to 4 save your life, then you have got to make that 5 decision, but by staying off it as long as possible,
 6 it might help you".

7 Q. So you didn't take interferon?

8 A. No.

9 Q. There was then a point in time at which you had 10 a consultation I think with a gastrologist in 2007.

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. You were asked what treatment you had taken and you
 13 said none. Then what did the doctor say to you?

14 A. It was the day before the Archer Inquiry started. So 15 she was going through what medications I was on for 16 HIV. She said, "What medication have you taken for 17 hepatitis C?" I said "None". She said, "Oh, so it 18 went away all by itself, did it?" I went "No". She 19 said, "It says here non-detectable". I said, "No,
 20 that's my HIV. I have a non-detectable viral load.
 21 It is stable now. That is under control". She said,
 22 "I know what hepatitis C is. Oh, we will test you".
 23 So they tested me and it came back negative.

24 But two years prior to that, my poor old knee
 25 finally gave up and I had a total knee replacement in

January of 2005. The whole time I was in hospital I was really ill. They tested me for anything and everything. I was having fevers. They couldn't get to the bottom of it. I had a highish viral load from hepatitis C. Then all of a sudden they discharged me.

Now, unbeknown to me, because of having this major surgery, you are backwards and forwards to the hospital all the time and they are taking review bloods and things. They had tested me in April of 2005 for hepatitis C and it had come back negative, but I wasn't informed. So between April of 2005 and December of 2005 I had been backwards and forwards to the hospital nine times and nobody had mentioned anything. So there was all these opportunities to tell me. Nobody said anything.

Then a letter was sent to my GP in December of 2005 stating "Mark's chronic hepatitis C infection, which has led to cirrhosis". The letter was sent, because we then discussed changing my HIV medication because of the toxicity on my liver, which I agreed to.

The other thing that socially -- because meeting Richard, I wasn't going out clubbing and -- again, I now had somebody to live for and I stopped drinking, I stopped smoking. I can't remember how many times

I could go straight on to treatment.

So I went home. Richard and I discussed it, and because of haemophilia friends that I knew who were having trouble with the interferon and, you know, people talk, I said, "I don't want to go onto this", and Mark Simmons was still ringing in my ears. I didn't want to go on the treatment. So I didn't. I declined. I was told by a chap called Dr [redacted], very similar to what we just heard, "If you don't want my help, get out". So I got up and walked out.

Q. You have said in your statement that to this day no-one has explained how it is you managed to clear the virus without treatment after being infected for so long.

A. No.

Q. And you still have a fear that it's somehow lying dormant.

A. Yes. Because of having over 30 years of chronic infection, being told you have got cirrhosis and then all of a sudden the gastrologist saying, "Well, no, you haven't even got hepatitis C", I can tell you that fried my brain, because I had literally just not long before been given the stage 1 Skipton Fund payment because I had a viral load, and then in the course of

I went into a nightclub after that, because I wanted to spend as much time as I could with Richard. So I changed my whole life.

Then in 2006 I went and had a scan, an ultrasound. When you work on the door of the biggest gay and lesbian club in the country, you get to know a few people. It just so happened that when I walked in, the guy who was doing the ultrasound had come into the club a number of times. "Hello, darling, how are you?" So he was there, recognised me. He did the ultrasound. As he was doing it, he showed me on the screen this bright white line on my liver and he explained that that was the damage to my liver. He explained how your liver goes like a piece of leather in the sun, it goes hard. So he was recommending that I be ultrasound or have scans every six months to keep an eye on the deterioration.

I then saw -- I was then seen in a joint haemophilia/hepatitis clinic. Again, I was told that I needed to go on to interferon now. They were getting good results of 50% clearance. I have a very hypochoic liver, and although the interferon would cause upset and trouble in my life, they believed it was worthwhile. "Go home. Speak to your partner. It can be arranged". I didn't need to have a biopsy.

literally a couple of months, I had a viral load in the hospital in February when I was discharged, April it's disappeared, nobody says a word, two years later I find out that they were trying to make me go onto treatment I didn't need for something I didn't have, and then nobody would talk to me, because I didn't have hepatitis C. That was it. The shutters came down. If I mentioned hepatitis C, it was, "Well, you haven't got it".

Q. I wanted to ask you both now about the psychological effects of everything you've described.

You, Mark, have talked in your statement of difficulties sleeping, panic and anxiety attacks, and I think you have been diagnosed with post-traumatic stress and a phobic anxiety disorder?

A. Yes.

Q. Richard, what's your perspective of the mental, emotional, psychological effects on Mark and how he has been over the years and still is?

MR DUDLEY-SMITH: I see a counsellor too and have done for 12 years, thereabouts, of the 16 that we have been together. The effects are -- I mean, I can see when Mark starts and my best description is spinning up, that he is getting into one of these anxiety states. There's nothing I can do. I have to wait for it to run its course, for Mark to be able to bring himself out of it, because I can't reach him in that moment, and it's at the point now that when the post arrives in the morning, if I see DWP, EIBSS, MacFarlane Trust, as was then, on any of the envelopes, I know we're in for -- or there's a fair chance we're in for a day, and it's not going to be nice. It's not going to be a pleasant day.

Q. You said in your statement that there have been three or four occasions when Mark has walked out of the house with the intention of leaving and letting nature take its course.

A. Yes.

Q. You've talked about an occasion where you went looking for help and you sat in A&E at the Royal Sussex County Hospital waiting for the on-call mental health specialist. What can you tell us about that occasion?

A. I can't think of an easier way of wasting an evening. It was just horrible. Mark had been in this for a day. We thought let's try and find some help. We went, as I say, to A&E. We were left in the waiting room for hours on end on a Sunday night as the drunks were starting to come in. I think we had sat there for a couple of hours when I went to find someone and said, "Is there a chance we are actually going to get evening -- I will try and ring him every evening if I can. One of those letters turns up and Mark hasn't spoken to anyone all day and he's still spinning. We will have an hour or two-hour phone call where at the end of it, thankfully, we are both calm enough to go on with things that I don't need to go home.

Q. You have said also in your statement, Richard, that Mark has been made to feel throughout his life that his illness is something to be ashamed of.

A. Yes. Yes. That's with the effects that we have had from -- and it comes from Mark's early diagnosis of his HIV, the gay plague. You know, we have talked about compassion here often enough. It's a recurring theme in these sessions as far as I can tell. Medical professionals, who will defend themselves to their dying day, and I expect them to do that and think they are the most compassionate people on Earth, are actually not communicating it to the people sat in front of them. However much they might think they understand, they don't.

You know, I won't sit here and tell you I am an expert in haemophilia. I'm not. I am an expert in living with a haemophiliac, and one in particular. I think I have probably got quite good at it over the years.

to see somebody here?" "The person you need to see is not even in the hospital yet". We didn't know where they were. I didn't even bother asking. I went and told Mark, "Right, let's go home". We went home and looked after each other. It was all we could do.

Q. You have recalled another occasion when Mark didn't want to get out of bed. He was very low. He planned to stop taking his treatment and let his health decline naturally until the end.

A. Yes.

Q. You describe how your job takes you away from home. You build radio stations for special events, I think.

A. That's right, yes.

Q. And you can be home for a few nights at a time. It's when you go away that you're particularly worried about Mark.

A. Yes, absolutely. There have been a couple of summers -- summer is my busy time, and there have been a couple of summers where almost from the middle of June to the end of August we have been ships in the night. I have been home for a night and off I go again somewhere else and, you know, from a working point of view it's great. I am self-employed. But it seems to be always those times when one of those letters turns up and I will ring Mark in the

Q. The counselling that you both have separately I understand is counselling that the two of you have arranged yourselves --

A. Yes.

Q. -- rather than something that was offered to you by the NHS.

MR WARD: Yes.

MR DUDLEY-SMITH: Nothing really was offered to us, certainly not to me. I had to go and find my own.

MS RICHARDS: Mark, you have been involved in campaigning activities and other work for many years. You have spoken of a number of them in your statement. There are just three aspects of that I wanted to ask you about now.

The first is you produced a booklet called "You don't have to be straight to take Factor VIII". That was designed to offer advice and support to men with haemophilia who identified as gay or who might be questioning their sexuality. You wanted to produce that because they might be going through what you had gone through when you thought you were alone, that you were the only gay haemophiliac.

MR WARD: Yes. Actually I think it was an alignment of the planets, because there were a few of us at the same time contacted the Haemophilia Society and asked

1 was there any information or could they tell us
2 anything about if there were gay haemophiliacs.
3 Because of us making the calls individually,
4 obviously, at that time, the person at the Haemophilia
5 Society then said it was something that obviously 6 needed to be addressed, looked into, and would we 7 consider forming this little group so that we could do
8 something about it, which is what we did.

9 So we got together, with Mark Simmons's help,
10 and the Haemophilia Society. That booklet was 11 produced. It was then to coincide with -- there was 12 the patient booklet, but we also had a staff leaflet,
13 so that if someone went into a Haemophilia Centre and 14 said, "I think I might be gay", they could refer to 15 this leaflet. If they weren't comfortable with the 16 conversation, they could then pass it on to somebody
17 who could talk, and we were hoping it would be one of 18 us or something then would grow with the Haemophilia
19 Society along those lines.

20 The booklet was then -- when it was published it
21 was sent to all the English-speaking countries. It
22 went to Hong Kong and places like that. Then in 2004
23 I was flown out to Bangkok to give a presentation to 24 the World Federation of Haemophilia Congress, raising
25 the issue of -- there was this stigma that -- you

113

1 The third aspect of activity I wanted to ask you
2 about was your participation in the DWP working party.
3 As I understand it, that was about trying to ensure 4 that the DWP understood better the degenerative and 5 crippling effects of haemophilia and the additional 6 component for those haemophiliacs who also are 7 infected with HIV or hepatitis C. Have I understood
8 that correctly?

9 A. Yes, yes. As we touched on earlier, because Mark
10 Simmons had said, "Let's get you benefits or let's 11 apply for benefits", because where I had medically
12 retired from BA and not applied immediately, the DWP
13 placed me onto the wrong benefit. They placed me onto 14 income support. And it just caused a nightmare.
15 I was constantly being reviewed and having to justify 16 why I was still alive. It was fight for everything,
17 and actually that fight went on for seven years. It
18 was only when we were living down in Brighton our 19 local MP at the election changed to a Conservative.
20 We went and saw him. He looked into it and the 21 investigation was triggered by the chief executive of 22 the Job Centre Plus and they found out, "Oh, yes,
23 guess what? You are on the wrong benefit".

24 But leading up to that -- the thing that 25 actually was the catalyst was that I had spoken to

115

1 know, if you have got medical professionals telling
2 you there are no gay haemophiliacs and you are sitting
3 in a reception like what happened and one goes
4 skipping past you, you know, it made you question. We 5 were constantly being denied.

6 Throughout that booklet there are statements
7 from each one of us where doctors or nurses had said
8 something that we didn't exist. So being made to feel
9 the way that I was made to feel, I don't want anybody
10 to ever feel that way again. That's why we said there
11 was a need for it.

12 Sadly after the congress in Bangkok, the whole
13 project got dropped. I will add that some hospitals
14 really embraced it. So the QE in Birmingham, they 15 really embraced it, and Dr Wilde, I give him his due,
16 he was so supportive of being fully inclusive, whereas 17 on the flip side the Royal Free, they wouldn't even 18 have the booklet in the Haemophilia Centre. This was 19 a Haemophilia Society publication, but Professor Lee
20 wouldn't have it in the centre and they all
21 disappeared.

22 Q. The second aspect I had been going to ask you about
23 was the presentation you gave to the World Federation
24 of Haemophilia Congress. So you have answered that 25 already.

114

1 somebody at the DWP on the telephone, and bearing in 2 mind my PTSD, as Richard has pointed out, the DWP is 3 a trigger. When a letter comes through I -- yes, it's 4 fear. I can't describe that feeling. We go away on 5 holiday. When we come back, it is that brown
6 envelope. Every single time it's like somebody
7 punched you in the guts. It is like, "Here we go
8 again".

9 So I had phoned up and spoken to the call
10 handler who put a supervisor on who said, "I need to 11 clarify something with you. Do you really have AIDS
12 or is it only HIV?" I said to her, "Actually, no,
13 I have had AIDS long before there was any treatment
14 because of this, infected as a child, blah di blah di
15 blah." "Let me spell it out to you: you are not 16 eligible. Not entitled." So I put the phone down.
17 I thought I am not going to swear. I wouldn't give 18 them the benefit.

19 Well, I then got the recordings. I wrote to the 20 data protection manager/officer and got the 21 recordings, provided those to our MP, and I think it
22 was in about two weeks I had a cheque for £20,000, the 23 backdated money that I should have had, and then I was 24 given an ex gratia payment of £2,000 for all the 25 distress and upset caused that was completely

116

1 unnecessary.

2 MR DUDLEY-SMITH: Which we were promptly taxed on.

3 MR WARD: Which they taxed me on. About six months down

4 the line they decided they were going to change the

5 benefits process and I had to apply again for ESA.

6 Over the years with the Haemophilia Society and

7 everything I have tried to work with the DWP. When

8 this working party was set up for contaminated blood,

9 I -- again I spoke to the Haemophilia Society and

10 became part of it, but I would never be -- I will

11 never be rude to anybody intentionally. I never try

12 to say anything to cause offence. But if you think

13 I'm stupid, then you're the stupid one, because

14 I don't take prisoners. We sat in there with the 15 chief policy writer, who was telling us all this

16 stuff, and when I challenged him that severe

17 haemophiliacs super infected with multiple viruses

18 were being assessed and not getting one point, how did

19 that even work? How is that even possible? He denied

20 it was happening. "I can think of at least six people

21 right now. I am telling you it is happening. What

22 are you going to do about it?"

23 Long story short, it made them do an internal

24 investigation and it appears that they were assessing

25 haemophiliacs but not taking into account the

117

1 Q. We have touched on aspects of the MacFarlane Trust and

2 you talk about them further in your statement. One

3 point I particularly wanted to ask you was -- and this

4 is for you or Richard really -- you had asked for

5 Richard to be officially recognised by the MacFarlane

6 Trust as your partner.

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. What happened in relation to that?

9 A. They refused.

10 Q. Why did they refuse?

11 A. Because the deeds didn't allow it.

12 Q. Because you were same-sex partners?

13 A. Yes. It was set up for wives or girlfriends.

14 Q. Eventually you did get them to add or accept or 15 identify Richard as your partner.

16 A. When you threaten them with legal action and you have

17 fantastic people on the inside like Mark Simmons

18 fighting your corner, he showed them the error of 19 their ways. They accepted Richard and I got the 20 fantastic sum of £5 extra a month because I had

21 someone in my life.

22 Q. You have observed EIBSS as follows. You say it is

23 difficult to get anything from EIBSS because they make

24 you try numerous other organisations first, and people

25 just give up and don't bother applying, is your

119

1 haemarthropathy, the actual thing that causes

2 disability. Everything they have known all over the

3 years all seems to have been thrown out the window.

4 When we asked how that protocol was passed or how was

5 that even put into place that these people could be

6 assessed and not take into account that main effect,

7 well, might as well talk to that desk. They just

8 clammed up. Didn't want to know. But we made them

9 pay back £1.8 million to people. We got people's

10 benefits reinstated. We got people uplifted. Then

11 they closed the thing down. They are not talking to 12 us.

13 But on the flip side of that again, it has been

14 brought to my attention recently that there has been

15 a real targeting of the haemophilia community,

16 contaminated blood victims especially. I think out of 17 all the people who sit round the table, most have had

18 their benefits put into review, even to the point

19 where mine was thrown into review the day after I came

20 back from Cardiff.

21 Q. You have summed it up this way in your statement in

22 terms of interaction with the DWP: that you constantly

23 have to justify your illness and poor health and you

24 are not believed in anything you say.

25 A. No, no.

118

1 perspective.

2 A. Yes. EIBSS basically has taken --

3 MR DUDLEY-SMITH: That started with the MacFarlane Trust.

4 As far as I can tell, they have just continued the

5 same way of working, that whatever you ask for, the 6 answer is no until you have almost got to sort of 7 armlock them and march them to the bank to make them

8 pay you.

9 MR WARD: The MacFarlane Trust treated people, we have

10 heard, with complete and utter contempt. But for us

11 it was -- every time they changed the trust deeds, we

12 had to fight for recognition, because we weren't

13 automatically carried forward. One example of that

14 was that the MacFarlane Trust sent out letters to 15 beneficiaries stating that there was a charity that

16 had been set up for widows of haemophiliacs infected

17 with HIV -- sorry, it was husbands who had haemophilia

18 infected with HIV called I think it is the Honeywell

19 Trust. If any widows wanted to apply for a grant,

20 this trust was there also for grants. So if somebody

21 wanted to learn how to use a computer or learn to

22 drive after their husband had died, they could apply

23 to this trust.

24 So I called the MacFarlane Trust and said,

25 "I have got this letter. Does that apply to 120

everybody?"

She said, "What do you mean 'everybody'?"

I said, "Where is the male partners."

"Oh, no, this is for widows."

I said, "Right, so if I die tomorrow, my husband isn't suddenly going to turn into a woman and become a widow, is he? So where is the support for him?"

"There isn't any."

"That's clear discrimination then."

"No, no, no, you are missing the point. This is for the widows whose husbands have died for them to get support."

"I completely understand what a widow is. I am asking you as a gay man with a husband where does he go on my death?"

Well, there isn't anywhere, so they couldn't tell me. I said could I speak to Jan Barlow, the chief executive. She said no, she wouldn't speak to me. The whole time Jan Barlow was in post I never spoke one word to the woman. She refused to speak to me. I don't know why. I think she was just jealous of my looks. So I insisted I speak to Jan Barlow and she wouldn't. I said, "Okay. If this is the way you want to play it, I will see you. I am putting the phone down now. I am calling the police. I am going notify EIBSS. If they turn you down, you have to notify EIBSS. Then you have to apply to EIBSS and they may consider it, but after all that has been said or done, the maximum payment would be, if they allowed it, £500".

So I spoke to Motability. They knew nothing about this. They said that no, I didn't meet the criteria. So I then respoke to EIBSS and they said, "Well, we need that in writing". I got that in writing, sent the e-mail to them and never heard anything more. So I actually thought, "Right, I am not going to pursue this, because it's energy that I don't have to waste". But where I look after my cars, my car went back and then you get the bonus for looking after your car, which was £500. It was like -- I didn't need EIBSS.

They have also made life hell because with the hassle I have had at the Royal Free, they told the information on my hepatitis C infection. I see them as my abusers. They have caused me so much distress and upset that I cannot go and sit in a room with them and ask them to help me fill out an application form to go in front of people who wouldn't, you know, extinguish me if I was on fire.

I wrote to them. The chief executive I wrote to

to have you arrested for homophobic abuse and discrimination, because you are discriminating against my husband and me because we are gay men". I put the phone down and I was like this (gesturing). I was so angry how they were treating Richard -- not me, I didn't care about me. But he -- what support does he get? Oh, nothing, because he is a man.

Then I got this text come through from a friend who was a trustee saying, "From now on the term 'widows' will apply to male and females". So I texted back and said, "This doesn't resolve the issue of the Honeywell Trust. All I want to do is speak to Jan". And she wouldn't do it. She never spoke a word to me.

I didn't call the police, because I actually thought: do I really need any more hassle? Things were winding up. Then EIBSS basically picked up the MacFarlane Trust from 20 years ago, dumped it down, and of all its bad, horrible, discriminatory ways, just enforced it, but worse. You had to go -- as we have heard, you have to go -- my car -- my DLA car was up for renewal last year. I spoke to the MacFarlane Trust to apply for the grant that I have always been eligible for every three years, and they said, "No, you have got to now apply to the Motability charity for a grant. If they give you any money, you have to saying I am in this awkward investigation that -- a criminal investigation took place. The Metropolitan Police were involved. I see them as my abusers. So I can't access that information to support my SEM application. And they just said, "If you can't come up with the goods, we aren't paying you". So I don't get the money.

Q. Richard, can I ask you just a couple of further matters arising out of your statement.

We have heard about you being treated differently in terms of the trusts, because you are a male partner rather than a female partner, but you have also said in your statement you feel in terms of Mark's interaction with the medical profession over the years, in all the ways he has described, you have also been treated differently in that respect. You are not acknowledged. It is almost as if you are invisible.

MR DUDLEY-SMITH: Completely. Even down to the first time I went with you to any -- with Mark to any appointment was at Birmingham, and the consultant swept into the room, asked me to leave and that was that. There was no -- I think at the time I was so surprised I just went "Okay, yes" and off I went and stood in the corridor for 15 minutes.

The recurring theme is I have either been ignored, you know, even if I have been sat next to Mark and been introduced as Mark's partner, Mark's husband. It is only when Mark has moved his care most recently to St Thomas' that a consultant turned to me and said, "Richard, what do you think about that?" I went (gesturing). It was a complete shock to be asked. In all the time Mark and I have been going to his appointments together at Royal Free, my opinion has never been sought, never mattered.

MR WARD: When we sat with the urologist and he said about the blockage, afterwards, when that settled down, he sat with Richard beside me and he talked to us about maybe doing an operation on me, and he said, "If you and your wife are finished having children, we can perform this operation". So I said, "No".

MS RICHARDS: And, Richard, you have made some discussions in your statement for improvement. I just wanted to ask you about two of those suggestions. The first is training in bedside manner for health care professionals. I wondered if there is anything else you want to say about that.

MR DUDLEY-SMITH: Yes. I mean, it comes back to the compassion thing we mentioned earlier, that we have seen it often enough and I am sure other people here by then. You must tell us this. You must tell us that. If you don't, penalties will apply". It is so aggressive. It just doesn't need to be like that. I think it is all part of the same problem.

MS RICHARDS: Mark, you wanted to end your evidence with a last photo on a happy note. It is 1591013, please. It's a photo that speaks for itself, but perhaps you would like to describe it.

MR WARD: We were sat in Singapore opposite a building site. We were actually there for the Formula 1 Grand Prix because it was one of my bucket list -- I always wanted to go to one. So we looked into it and we flew out. The day before the Grand Prix we were just having some lunch. It was something that -- I had thrown the idea out there about having a civil partnership and see if it floated. It didn't, so I was like, "Don't mention it no more". Sitting in Singapore, all of a sudden Richard said, "So if we were to have this civil partnership, where would it be?" I nearly fell off my chair. "Have you just said what I think you said?" "Yes." So I was like, "Oh, we will have to talk about it".

It was in Durham. Yes, it was a brilliant day. It didn't spoil my day, but even on my wedding day, when you have to take the tablets twice a day, you are have too. A consultant turns up like some sort of knight on a white charge with his entourage behind him. As Mark has said, they talk over your head, they talk over my head, and off they go again. That for me is not an acceptable way of behaving in this day and age. This is the 21st century after all.

I can't remember who it was. We were talking to somebody. I think the line they said was, "Not about me, without me". I think it was somebody at the Haemophilia Society who said it at the London Zoo thing. If consultants can't engage with a homosexual couple, or any other couple for that matter, they are kind of missing the point. They are in the wrong place. They may be very bright. They may know their stuff medically, but you have also got to be able to deal with people, and that's my point.

Q. The other point I wanted to ask you about in your statement is you suggest it would be a good thing if organisations like the DWP and EIBSS were to change the language they use. What did you mean by that?

A. You get a letter from the DWP or EIBSS. It has a form in it. "You must, you must". The waggy finger comes out. There is no room for -- there is no sort of compassion in writing, if you like. "You must do this still reminded of what lurks inside. So that monster never really goes away. Richard is -- did I say the calm to my storm? Yes, he was and can be the calm to my storm, but I -- when you have been told you probably won't live long enough to leave school, to then get to a point where I have got somebody in my life who loves me for me, sees the darkness, which I hate, I hate -- and I never want to argue with him, I think in 16 years we have only had a couple of arguments, that has been about bloody DWP. They make me go bang. He talks me down off the ceiling. When I was diagnosed with the PTSD, the dreams I have are like something out of Doctor Who, where all the doors open and the Cybermen come out and they drag me to the dentist chair and start wrapping me in plastic. As they are wrapping me in plastic I can see the doctors and see the faces and hear their voices laughing and talking about me. As the plastic goes over my face, I wake up screaming. And my rock is there. I told him I loved him on that day and I love him even more every day.

MS RICHARDS: I am just going to ask Mr Snowden if there's any further questions he wants me to ask. No.

Richard, Mark, is there anything further either of you would like to say.

128

1 MR WARD: Yes, please. Richard is going to go first.
 2 MR DUDLEY-SMITH: Am I?
 3 MR WARD: Yes.
 4 MR DUDLEY-SMITH: This won't take long. I have done it in 5 big print.
 6 So, firstly, like many others who have spoken,
 7 I would like to thank you, Sir Brian, and everybody
 8 else around you, your team, for your compassion and 9 humanity, and I genuinely mean compassion, having 10 talked about it so much, particularly you, sir. Your 11 visibility during the breaks and lunches speaks
 12 volumes to me and gives me and I think both of us some 13 confidence that this Inquiry is heading in the right
 14 direction. Thank you for that.
 15 Thank you also to the technical team. I am in 16 the same sort of line of work and well used to being 17 behind the scenes. I am first in and last out.
 18 I think you probably ...
 19 Finally, the Treloar's boys. We were accepted
 20 into your group at the preliminary hearings last
 21 September, Mark as a brother and me as the token well
 22 person round the table. Your love and support has 23 helped me with the confidence and fire I need to sit
 24 here today. Or perhaps I also ought to thank Mark's
 25 mum too. She is my mother-in-law after all.

129

1 Thank you.
 2 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Can I for my part ask a couple of 3 questions. Actually from you, Richard.
 4 MR DUDLEY-SMITH: Yes.
 5 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: First a question and then a matter
 6 of opinion, because I would rather, like the doctor in 7 St Thomas', value your opinion.
 8 The first question -- and forgive me for asking 9 this -- you told us that you knew when you were "in 10 for a day" with Mark. What did you think today would 11 be?
 12 A. For me personally in my normal work I am behind the 13 scenes, and for me to sit up here fills me with 14 a certain amount of horrors and dread. Because we 15 have done it together, I am here. I am looking 16 forward to my lunch, if I am perfectly honest about
 17 it.
 18 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: I think we probably all are.
 19 A. Yes. I am sorry we have perhaps gone on a little 20 long. For me I am quite looking forward to getting 21 back to the shadows, if I am completely honest.
 22 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: What about Mark, and what day did
 23 you think he was -- was this a day he was going to be 24 spinning or not? He hasn't.
 25 A. No, he hasn't.

131

1 Anyway, the serious point.
 2 Sir Brian, the day after you release your report
 3 and recommendations, the survivors of this scandal
 4 will still have to attend their treatment centres, and 5 those centres are often places where little real
 6 support is on offer. It should come as no surprise
 7 that those attending have mental health issues, and 8 yet those issues are routinely ignored or played down.
 9 Instead, discrimination or attack has been the 10 response.
 11 Unlike heterosexual couples, we have never been 12 warned of any potential risks to me, nor have I been 13 offered any training to help Mark administer his 14 Factor treatment. We have been treated with contempt
 15 and told, "This is a family unit" -- that's a quote -- 16 and it means, "Don't rock the boat, do as you are 17 told".
 18 It never once occurred to those members of staff
 19 that anxiety or PTSD might be behind the tears, and 20 that for me must change. I am not suggesting a red
 21 carpet while being fanned and fed grapes, just care
 22 and real compassion.
 23 My closing message is if a patient tells you
 24 they are frightened, listen. You might learn
 25 something.

130

1 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: But did you think he would?
 2 A. No, actually, I didn't, because this is a day we have
 3 waited for for a very long time, the day when somebody
 4 listens to what we have got to say, and that has 5 probably been the most important thing about today,
 6 that however uncomfortable I feel sitting here, and 7 perhaps Mark feels it as well, everybody is listening,
 8 and it's been a long time coming.
 9 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: The matter of opinion, really, it is 10 exactly the same point that Ms Richards touched on in 11 her additional questions, and it is about your comment
 12 that the medics who think they are as compassionate as 13 they come don't manage to communicate that to those 14 they are compassionate about, if they are. How do we 15 improve it? You have asked for improvement. Do you
 16 have any suggestion as to quite how?
 17 A. That's going to be a difficult one, because for me
 18 it's going to be a fairly fundamental change in the 19 way the NHS works, or in this part of the NHS. The -- 20 I think I have got to be a little bit careful,
 21 because, like everybody else says, if I go to the NHS
 22 now as an emergency patient into A&E, the treatment is 23 fantastic and nobody is going to argue that point, but 24 in these particular instances where the people
 25 involved have also been doing research, the compassion

132

1 has come over really cold and the research hasn't 2 necessarily been carried forward and explained to the 3 patients. Actually I don't think I am answering your 4 question, am I?

5 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: In a way, but if you have further
 6 thoughts about that, do let us know.

7 A. Thank you.

8 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: I will come back to you in a moment,
 9 but can I thank Mark. You told us what it is like for 10 you living in the shadow of the valley of death with 11 the constant fear of discrimination and the effects
 12 that it has had on you, effects which Richard has 13 amplified. Can I just thank you for that.

14 Richard, can I thank you for your thoughtful
 15 suggestions as to what might be improved and your 16 evidence about Mark, validating and vindicating that 17 position. Thank you both for being there to support
 18 each other, and it is now --

19 MS RICHARDS: Sir, I hesitate to interrupt, but I know
 20 Mark has something he wants to say.

21 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Mark, I am sorry. I had made the 22 mistake of thinking that Richard was talking for you
 23 both.

24 MR WARD: No. No.

25 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Do you ever let him?

133

1 to maintain -- not my word, but those of a former
 2 minister of Her Majesty's Government. For years
 3 I have hated that statement, because in my mind it
 4 conjures up images of some old classic car kept out of 5 sight and left to rot. However, now I am older,
 6 I think it probably does reflect what I have become:
 7 not in bad shape, leaks a bit with a few creaks and 8 rattles but still with a few miles in it yet.

9 As I have travelled around the United Kingdom
 10 offering the one thing that officials have failed to 11 do for so long, compassion, I realise whatever the 12 outcome of this Inquiry, the history books will have 13 to be rewritten, not to reflect the narrative many 14 have been deceived by for almost four decades, but the 15 remarkable people whose bravery and determination
 16 should be a lesson to all those outside of this 17 nightmare.

18 One beautiful example of this happened earlier
 19 this year. As I stood with a cup of tea waiting for 20 the next witness to give their statement, a gentleman
 21 approached me with his wife and a couple of other 22 people. He asked me in a very soft voice if he could 23 shake my hand, because he had never met a living
 24 haemophiliac with HIV before. I put my tea down and 25 said, "Well, now you have one as a friend" and gave

135

1 MR WARD: Of course. Fair is fair. I won't be a moment.

2 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: I am sorry. I do apologise.

3 MR WARD: Thank you.

4 I would like to start by paying tribute to the 5 thousands of victims caught up in this disaster, the 6 everyday people who have demanded answers along with 7 justice for far too long. To those little boys
 8 labelled as the doomed ones, who never had the chance
 9 to grow up, whose voices were stolen from our 10 community. The families torn apart, living in fear of 11 stigma, attack, hatred and cruelty. The brave people 12 who have spoken out, placing their lives at risk to 13 make the world more understanding and one in which 14 I believe attitudes are changing.

15 I sit here in front of you as living proof of 16 what atrocities can be inflicted upon a child.
 17 Damaged, yes, but with those who are unable to attend
 18 in my heart. Me speaking out meant others didn't feel 19 pressured, yet placed my family in the firing line.
 20 For me there was no choice. How could I think about 21 representing our community from the shadows? As this
 22 Inquiry keeps hearing from victims, here in 2019
 23 haemophiliacs are still terrified of what will happen
 24 to them based on numerous assaults and attacks.

25 The life of a haemophiliac is an expensive one

1 them all a hug.

2 I have genuinely felt true friendship and love
 3 from so many amazing people, and there are too many 4 here today to name each one of you, but I love you so
 5 very, very much.

6 It did make me think, however, I am stuck in 7 what is essentially a mass extinction, and at some 8 point one of us will become the last living victim.
 9 I don't wish my life away, but I can honestly I don't
 10 want that to be me. The pain of losing those I love
 11 in this room and watching from beyond, I couldn't cope
 12 with that. It would be too hard to bear.

13 Let us not forget that whilst little boys were 14 being maimed and slaughtered, politicians and 15 pharmaceutical companies around the world grew their 16 profits and gained power. Even today with a death
 17 rate of one person dying every 96 hours, government
 18 officials continue to compound the suffering. Instead
 19 of hanging their heads in shame, they still show
 20 contempt, making dying people jump through hoops as 21 they move the goalposts on the support provided.
 22 Those responsible for the abuses inflicted by the DWP,
 23 which are totally unnecessary, must be made to answer
 24 for their actions. Criticised by the United Nations, 25 they continue to inflict fear by misusing their self-appointed powers on the vulnerable.

One question I've been asked so many times over the years is why has it taken so long for this to see the light of day? My reply is simple, really. With the people with all the power holding the trigger, who is left to bring them to justice?

With respect to you, Sir Brian, and the remit of this Inquiry, which I understand is unable to make judgments of criminality, I bring the public's attention to the failures of the systems we believe are in place to protect us and those who enforce them.

I have been in communication with the Metropolitan Police for a number of years now, highlighting what I believe are crimes committed against this vulnerable disabled community, and yet my letters were ignored and requests for meetings denied, whilst others were taken forward, leading to a more recent public apology by the Metropolitan Police.

To coin a phrase recently used by our Prime Minister, £60 million spaffed up the wall on historical offences, how will that protect people today? I will tell you. In our case it can ensure such acts as misconduct in public office, crimes against humanity and genocide are prevented from happening again in the pursuit of profit.

to support the Australian victims of this same Contaminated Blood Scandal, whose government has shamefully treated their victims in a similar manner to ours, and that's by ignoring them, hoping they will all die and the problem will go away quickly.

Sir, Brian, if I may be so bold as to offer a couple of recommendations for your consideration. The NHS is at the heart of this scandal, and I believe it can be our biggest tool in locating more victims.

To begin with, the implementation of a more robust reporting requirement for homophobic abuses and a dedicated LGBTQ administrator within PALS set up.

Updated education for patients and staff in hepatitis C clinics, gum clinics, sexual health and HIV centres. The patients already attending these services are asked on their next review if they have ever had a blood transfusion. If the answer is yes, then protocols are put in place to immediately trace the batch numbers and potential other victims, as well as the patient provided with information on how to access the various support schemes. For newly diagnosed patients, the same course of action, but with counselling made available immediately, along with a national screening programme, educational advertisements on TV, radio and social media, such

I am no fool and I certainly do not believe I invented being a gay haemophiliac. This reveals how LGBT people with a bleeding disorder were seen in the past. The institutionalised homophobic attitudes, who never even recorded their existence, is as relevant today as it has ever been. Judging people based solely on others' beliefs is unacceptable and yet it's happening all around us on a daily basis within health care.

I was effectively abandoned, isolated and seen as a figure of hate by some. At the age of 16 I pursued my dreams. By the age of 18 I had a number of gay friends who eventually took me out on the London gay scene, which made me question everything. Since then I have worked at the biggest LGBT nightclub in the UK and, in doing so, unknowingly became part of London's proud gay history.

I have been a volunteer for the West Midlands Lesbian and Gay Switchboard, the Terrence Higgins Trust, and Open Door, a Brighton-based HIV drop-in centre. I proudly represented the haemophiliac community at the unveiling of the AIDS memorial in Brighton and the monument which moves me every time I see it.

I have travelled to the other side of the world

responses to hate speech, concerning health, disability or sexuality in order to diminish the outdated myths lies surrounding hepatitis C and HIV.

The unique stories of horror recorded in this Inquiry must never be forgotten. One fitting way of ensuring they are not would be to dedicate a section of the national medical training guidelines to this tragedy.

Finally, in true Oscar style, I would like to thank my mum for believing in me and never giving up. Like all haemophilia mums, for being the force of nature who has made me the man I am today.

To Richard, who has been my world from the moment we met, I am sorry you have to see the damaged, frightened monster I fight to keep restrained. I could not do it without you.

To everyone who has come along today to support me, all those watching in, I send you my love again.

Joe and Colin Smith, Ann, Sarah, Ellie Dorricott, the Lewis family, Nicky and the family, Haemophilia Scotland, Wales, Northern Ireland and the team in London.

Finally, to you, Sir Brian, and your fabulous team. You have, as Richard said, shown true humanity. I have belief in you and the team you have got around

140

1 you is just amazing.
 2 The final word has to go to Paul -- with 3 an engineer husband, I have to say thank you to the 4 technical team and everyone else, and of course
 5 Kylie Minogue.
 6 Thank you, Sir Brian.
 7 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Thank you.
 8 (Witnesses withdrew)
 9 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: 3 o'clock, after lunch.
 10 (2.05 pm)
 11 (Lunch break)
 12 (3.04 pm)
 13 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: This afternoon's witness wishes to 14 be known as Andri, does she?
 15 MS FRASER BUTLIN: Andri.
 16 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Andri, please.
 17 ANDROULIA ANDREOU (sworn)
 18 Questions by MS FRASER BUTLIN
 19 MS FRASER BUTLIN: Andri, you are here to talk to us about 20 your late husband, Mario.
 21 A. Yes.
 22 Q. Mario had Beta Thalassaemia Major.
 23 A. That's right.
 24 Q. He needed three units of blood every three or four 25 weeks usually.

141

1 Wells Street. So, yes, he was quite a bubbly person,
 2 you know, yes.
 3 Q. You and Mario got together in 1993.
 4 A. We did, yes.
 5 Q. A short while into your relationship Mario told you he 6 had something to tell you.
 7 A. Yes.
 8 Q. What was that?
 9 A. Okay. So he said to me, "I have got something to tell
 10 you" and I thought, "Oh, what's this now?" and he said
 11 "I've got hepatitis C". So I just went "Yes?" So he 12 said, "What, don't you mind?" And I said, "No, not 13 really. What is it really?" and he explained it was 14 an infection in his liver that he had caught through a 15 blood transfusion and that he was having some 16 treatment for it. You know, I didn't think anything
 17 of it. For me it was like, oh, well, you know, that's 18 fine. We'll get through this.
 19 Q. You said in your statement he asked if you still 20 wanted to be with him.
 21 A. He did. He did. He said, "Do you still want to be 22 with me?" I said, "Of course I do. I love you and 23 want to be with you, so regardless of that".
 24 Q. As far as you are concerned, when had Mario been told
 25 he had hepatitis C?

143

1 A. Yes.
 2 Q. He was treated in the Queen Elizabeth Hospital until 3 he was about 12.
 4 A. That's right.
 5 Q. And then moved to the North Middlesex.
 6 As far as you are aware, was Mario ever warned
 7 that there was a risk of infection through the 8 transfusions?
 9 A. No.
 10 Q. You have said that Mario led 100% normal life.
 11 A. He did.
 12 Q. And he became an accountant. What was he like as 13 a person?
 14 A. He was very funny, had a wonderful sense of humour.
 15 He was quite energetic. He was just always -- you
 16 know, we were always socialising, going out. He loved 17 working for Warner Brothers. That was his life. His 18 job was his -- you know, he absolutely loved it.
 19 When he was young, he used to watch films until 20 the early hours of the morning. His mum used to say 21 to him, "The films are not going to buy your food and 22 pay your bills", and he goes, "And in the end they 23 did", because that's where he ended up working. So 24 that was him. He loved going into work. He used to 25 come into the city. He worked off Oxford Street,

142

1 A. Right. We got together in 1993 and he had already had 2 it, so I knew it was before that. I did access his 3 medical records and it shows me there that it was in 4 1991 that he was told that he had the hepatitis.
 5 Q. In about 1990, his thalassaemia consultant had said in 6 a letter that she was concerned about some deranged
 7 liver function results.
 8 A. That's right, yes.
 9 Q. And that he had had further testing. The further
 10 testing was in September 1990 and the records appear
 11 to show he was told in February 1991.
 12 A. Yes.
 13 Q. What was his understanding of hepatitis C?
 14 A. I am not sure, to be honest with you. Not a lot,
 15 because I knew he just knew he had an infection on his 16 liver, that, you know, obviously -- that it could be 17 dangerous, but he was told that with treatment it
 18 would go away. They asked him if he would like to go
 19 ahead with the treatment and he did agree to it,
 20 because he thought that, obviously, "I am going to 21 have this injection and then the hepatitis C is going 22 to clear".
 23 Q. You have said in your statement you don't think he was 24 either advised or understood the serious nature of the 25 infection.

1 A. No, I don't think he did, to be honest with you. If
 2 he did -- Mario was actually quite a private person.
 3 So if he did, he didn't express that to me. So he
 4 might have been told information that I don't know
 5 about and just kept it inside him and didn't really 6 express.
 7 I remember -- as I say, I am not sure how much
 8 information was actually given to him, so I am
 9 assuming not a lot because of -- but I remember even 10 before we had children he did say to me, "If we ever
 11 have children and anything does happen to me, do you
 12 promise to still take them to see my parents?" And 13 I said, "Yes, of course. Why would you even ask me 14 a question like that?" you know.
 15 So whether he did have more information, I don't 16 know. I just think it was that fear, because 17 obviously as well as thalassaemia, which was 18 life-threatening, he now had hepatitis C, which was 19 also life-threatening. So, you know, he probably just 20 saw it as, "Well, I don't know how long I have got to 21 live".
 22 Q. In your statement you raised concerns about what he 23 had been told by Dr Yardumian, his thalassaemia
 24 consultant. You have been very clear you didn't want
 25 to criticise her at all.

145

1 you know, that we were engaged and we were going to be
 2 getting married. She said "Do you have any children?"
 3 I said yes, because I've got another daughter older
 4 than Francesca from a previous relationship. I said,
 5 "Yes, I have got a three-year-old daughter", because 6 my other daughter was three years old at the time.
 7 She just went, "Oh, well, there is no need to have any 8 more children then", and that was it.
 9 I didn't question it at the time. I think I was 10 quite taken aback. I was quite naive as well, you
 11 know. This was all new to me. I didn't know about 12 the hepatitis. I didn't know -- you know, so it just 13 kind of like -- but then when I got home, I started
 14 thinking about it. I was thinking, "Why would she say
 15 that? Why would she tell me not to have any more
 16 children?" But then I thought, "If it was serious, 17 wouldn't they have explained it to me?" But that was 18 it. I kind of forgot about it after that. We went on 19 and we had our family and what have you. So it 20 didn't -- but it did niggle my mind as to why she 21 would say that.
 22 Q. Your statement has been provided to that doctor and we 23 are waiting to see if there will be a response.
 24 Can you tell us a little bit about what the 25 emotional impact, the impact on Mario's mental health

147

1 A. Absolutely.
 2 Q. Your statement was provided to her to give a response.
 3 Her response is much the same as you said in your
 4 statement. She said she was not in a position to give 5 Mario any information about the seriousness of the 6 condition and its management because she had very 7 little experience of it at that time.
 8 A. That's right.
 9 Q. So she simply referred Mario to a colleague for 10 further investigation, treatment and explanation.
 11 A. Yes.
 12 Q. Just before you and Mario were due to get married you
 13 went with him to an appointment at the Whittington
 14 Hospital --
 15 A. That's right.
 16 Q. -- and saw a different doctor.
 17 A. Yes.
 18 Q. That doctor went through Mario's test results, then 19 asked you about your relationship.
 20 A. She did.
 21 Q. What did she say to you about children?
 22 A. She asked a little bit about me. I think it was the 23 first time she'd met me. Obviously Mario had seen her 24 quite a few times for his ongoing treatment. So she 25 asked me a little bit about myself and I explained,

146

1 was of that diagnosis of hepatitis C just at the very
 2 point of the early days?
 3 A. Mario found it very hard to cope with the fact he had 4 thalassaemia. Mario was a lively person. He was the 5 life and soul of any party. In fact, he used to do
 6 DJing and things like that. Luckily he wasn't -- you
 7 know, he had the thalassaemia, but he used to do his 8 treatment, he used to have his transfusions, and then
 9 every night they used to have -- he used to have like 10 an injection of what we called Desferal. At the time
 11 it was a pump and it would go through overnight. It
 12 was to get rid of any iron overload.
 13 He was quite disciplined in doing his injections
 14 at night, but his mum would always wait up to make 15 sure that he did do them. Otherwise if she wasn't 16 awake he would probably sneak into bed at 3.00/4.00 in 17 the morning and say "I will do it in the morning".
 18 So when he heard that he had hepatitis, I think
 19 to be honest with you, Mario was devastated. That 20 kind of like -- for him he thought his life was ruined
 21 and he was devastated. It did change the way Mario
 22 was. It changed him as a person. It changed his 23 personality. It just changed his outlook on life as 24 well, to be honest with you, you know. So emotionally
 25 it had a big impact on him.

148

1 Q. In terms of treatment Mario had received -- he had
 2 started interferon in May 1991, before you were 3 together.
 4 A. Yes.
 5 Q. And he was on and off interferon until about 1997, and 6 then again from 2001 till about December 2003, when he
 7 was told he had cleared the virus.
 8 A. Yes.
 9 Q. You have described the treatments as being very harsh
 10 on Mario.
 11 A. Yes.
 12 Q. It had a significant impact on his mental health, 13 particularly once he was changed on to Ribavirin in 14 2001.
 15 A. Yes.
 16 Q. Can you tell us a bit about how his depression
 17 affected him?
 18 A. Yes. Mario became very, very depressed. He actually 19 became very, very fragile. As you have heard from 20 other victims, the weight loss. He became very -- he 21 was always shivering. He was sweating. He had no
 22 energy, lethargic. He wasn't -- he just wasn't able 23 to function at all, at all, and because of this, in 24 2001 he had to be medically retired from work as well.
 25 Mario just couldn't function. He would be 149

1 and, you know, it was the medication.
 2 You know, Mario suffered really badly, and Mario
 3 was very bitter, very bitter with everyone and 4 everything for giving him this added infection that he 5 didn't need or want, you know, and in the back of his 6 mind he knew -- he knew he was going to die, I think.
 7 He knew, because he was just -- he was really troubled
 8 by it. I can't explain it, you know, what we went 9 through, what he went through, you know, but he was 10 really troubled by it. It really did affect him.
 11 He was on anti-depressants. Even those, they 12 weren't working, to be honest with you, but there is 13 only so much they could give him, because he was on so
 14 much medication. He developed so many other illnesses
 15 like osteoporosis. He had a collapsed vertebra twice,
 16 which meant, you know, that he couldn't even walk.
 17 I remember having to bring the mattress down from 18 upstairs because I couldn't carry him up the stairs.
 19 You know, he was a very sick man.
 20 Q. You have said that from about the year 2000 you were 21 like two best friends living together.
 22 A. Yes. I mean, obviously, you know what, it is -- we 23 loved each other dearly and I know Mario -- I know he 24 loved me, you know. There was no doubt about it. But 25 unfortunately, we were just like friends living

151

1 sleeping constantly, constantly, constantly. It had
 2 a big impact on him. His mental state, he was --
 3 sometimes he would be hallucinating. He was really
 4 severely depressed. I mean, when I say depressed,
 5 there was times when I would come from work and 6 I didn't know what I was going to walk into, to be 7 honest. But I had no choice but to be at work because 8 obviously Mario wasn't able to work anymore.
 9 Once he didn't go to pick up Francesca from 10 school and the school was calling. Everyone was 11 calling. People were knocking on the door. You know,
 12 parents -- because they had called me at work, I had 13 called my parents. They had gone round to the house.
 14 No answer from Mario. So, again, you can imagine what 15 was going through my head at the time.
 16 But what happened was he was in like a comatose
 17 state asleep, because this medication just used to 18 knock him right out. It was like horrendous.
 19 Q. You have said he became angry with everyone.
 20 A. He was. He was very angry. He was always very angry,
 21 quite aggressive. I don't like to speak badly of him
 22 but on a few occasions he did smash up the house. We 23 were on the other end of like abuse, verbal abuse from 24 him and what have you. But we always knew that that 25 was out of character for him. We knew it wasn't Mario

150

1 together eventually, because, you know, Mario's --
 2 physically he wasn't able, you know, anymore, and for
 3 me that was my husband and I was just going, you know,
 4 to stand by him and we went through whatever we went 5 through together. We were like best friends. And he 6 was my best friend. As well as my husband, he was my 7 best friend. You know, every household has its ups
 8 and downs, but unfortunately ours were a little bit 9 more than the usual, because of the situation with 10 this hepatitis C.
 11 Every time he was on another run, you know, of 12 interferon, you know, life was very hectic in our 13 household. I always used to try and make a joke of 14 it. I always used to say, "Is that interferon 15 interfering again?" We used to try to make a little 16 joke out of it to lighten it a little bit, but it was 17 very, very hard, very hard.
 18 Q. The intimate side of your relationship you describe
 19 came to an end.
 20 A. It did, yes.
 21 Q. Mario eventually became incontinent and would sleep on 22 the sofa.
 23 A. Yes. At the beginning I just thought it was because 24 he was falling asleep on the sofa, and I just thought
 25 he is watching TV, he is not working, I have to get up

152

1 for work in the morning, so at 9.30/10 o'clock I would
2 be up in bed and I'd think, "Oh, well".
3 At the beginning I would come and wake him up.
4 At 3.00/4.00 in the morning I would realise he was not
5 in bed yet. So I would get up, come down and be like,
6 "Come on, Mario, you have to come to bed". He'd go,
7 "Oh, I'm coming in a minute". I would go back up to 8 bed and he would stay down there.

9 Most mornings I would get back up and see the 10 washing machine going, and I would be like, "Why are 11 you putting washing on?" "Oh, I was really sweating
12 and the blankets were wet" and what have you. It was 13 only after I realised that it was because he was 14 actually, you know, not able to control his bladder
15 and what have you and that. So I never ever bothered
16 him about it. I just let him get on with it, you
17 know. I never used to say, you know, "You have to" -- 18 if I tried to talk to him about it, he would actually 19 get embarrassed as well. It was embarrassing for him.
20 It was not something I mentioned to any other family
21 members before. It was very private to him. I don't 22 even think Francesca knew. It was just something we 23 never -- we talked about it amongst ourselves but it
24 wasn't anything we shared with anybody else.

25 Q. The emotional impact on you during this time was very

153

1 I know that he didn't mean it.

2 And then there would be times, you know, when we
3 would both be sort of like crying together, you know,
4 trying to sort the situation out together. I would
5 try to reassure him that everything was going to be 6 fine once the disease has gone -- oh, there he is.
7 You know, once the disease has gone, everything is 8 going to go back to normal, you know. It was very,
9 very hard.

10 I did find it quite -- you know, at the time
11 I felt like I needed help myself. I would go and lock
12 myself in my bedroom and I'd cry most of the night.
13 I didn't want to show him how upset I was.

14 Q. And you wanted things to go back to normal --

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. -- and for Mario to be like the man on the photo that 17 we see.

18 A. Yes. I used to spend a lot of time on my own crying.
19 I never wanted to show the children. I wanted to show
20 them that I was strong and I could deal with this.
21 I needed Mario -- he was the one actually going 22 through what he was going through, so I didn't have 23 a right to complain. That's how I felt, you know.
24 This wasn't about me. This was about Mario. I don't 25 think I had the right to complain about myself or

155

1 significant.

2 A. It was, yes.

3 Q. Can you tell us about that?

4 A. Yes. Obviously it was -- at the time it wasn't about 5 me. It is hard to describe. It wasn't about me.
6 This was about Mario. It was very, very hard. It was 7 very hard to cope with it. I was there for him.
8 I wanted to help him. I wanted to support him.

9 I wanted to be able to, you know, get rid of this
10 horrendous disease for him, but obviously I couldn't.

11 I worked very, very hard. Sometimes I would 12 leave one job and go on to another just to try to make 13 ends meet. I had the children who were still little.
14 Luckily I had childcare, because my mother and my 15 mother-in-law both helped with looking after the 16 children when they were younger. However, when Mario 17 was medically retired, he took over picking the 18 children up from school.

19 It was hard, because Mario was so angry. He was 20 always so angry about, you know, what happened to him.
21 He did take it out on me most of the time. He did.
22 And emotionally, you know, I was exhausted. I was 23 getting depressed. I was trying to cope. I was 24 trying to run the household. I was trying to sort my 25 children out. You know, he could be quite abusive.

154

1 anything like that.

2 There were times when he really upset me. There
3 were times when he really did upset me and
4 I threatened him with divorce and said, "That's it",
5 or ring his brother and say, "That's it, I am
6 divorcing your brother, because he has behaved like
7 this" or whatever. But deep down that never happened.
8 We both knew it would never happen.

9 Mario was the love of my life. I put in my 10 statement as well that it was a little love story. We 11 actually did meet in 1987 and we went out for a couple
12 of years, and then due to certain personal
13 circumstances, it never worked out and we separated,
14 and then we got back together five years later. Then
15 Monday just gone would have actually been our silver
16 wedding anniversary. So, you know, that's -- and we 17 did go through what they say -- what is it, thick and 18 thin, sick and sin. So ...

19 Q. It also had a significant impact on your daughter.

20 She became reluctant to go to school.

21 A. She did, yes.

22 Q. What was she saying at school? What was happening at 23 school?

24 A. She would always cry. She was constantly, crying, 25 crying, crying. You would go to drop her off at 156

1 school. She didn't want to stay there. She wanted to 2 come home. She wanted to be at home. I was like,
3 "You have to go to school". I would end up dropping
4 her off at school and end up at the office crying my
5 eyes out as well. Colleagues saying, "What's wrong?"
6 and I'd be like, "I dropped Francesca off at school.
7 She's hysterical, I don't know what to do". This went 8 on for like seven years. It went on from nursery up
9 until about year 3 or 4. But obviously it was quite 10 -- but then one day -- I think she was around year 2
11 or 3, I can't remember.

12 Q. About 6 or 7.

13 A. Yes, she was about 6 or 7 at the time and the teacher
14 said, "Can I speak to you?" I said, "Yes". She said,
15 "We are a bit worried about Francesca, because she 16 says she needs to go home because her dad is disabled 17 and she has to look after him", and then it kind of 18 like dawned on me that that's probably why she's been 19 crying and didn't want to go to school. Little 20 scenarios where he wasn't picking her up on time
21 because he had fallen asleep or, you know -- but the 22 thing is we tried to keep life as normal as possible
23 for Mario, because I didn't want him to -- when Mario 24 lost his -- not lost his job, but because he was 25 medically retired because of the illness, Mario lost

157

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. And you have said in your statement that retiring
3 initially was a relief.

4 A. It was for him, because he couldn't physically get up
5 to go to work anymore. He started driving to work
6 before he was medically retired. He couldn't get on 7 the tube anymore. That was just a no-go for him. It
8 was impossible. But even waking up in the mornings
9 became really hard for him. He couldn't wake up. If 10 he was doing -- if he had had the interferon, we used
11 to inject him. I used to administer the injections.
12 It was either in his belly or his thigh or wherever 13 wasn't sore anymore. The next day he just couldn't 14 move, to be honest with you, and because he used to 15 just want to go into work, he'd go in work, you know,
16 sweating, shivering. It was almost like really severe
17 flu symptoms, you know, couldn't hold himself up.

18 So he used to drive to work in the end, you
19 know, he used to go and park up near there. Back then
20 you could park in certain places. You can't now. You
21 know, so -- yes. Sorry. I forgot what we were ...

22 Q. It became a relief to retire.

23 A. Yes. So for him obviously not going to work now, 24 being signed off sick -- because at first he was 25 signed off sick. So being signed off sick for him was

159

1 his confidence, and Mario was a very confident person.
2 I mean, he was very confident, you know. He lost his
3 confidence. He didn't want to socialise anymore. He
4 didn't want to see anybody. He didn't want to go out.
5 He was just -- kept to himself, and -- you know, so we 6 tried to keep things as normal, pick up the children
7 in school, come home. If there was anything that 8 needed doing, like a club they went to, maybe he would 9 drop them off, because I was working. He tried to do
10 some gardening and things like that.

11 But with Francesca here, yes, it did affect her,
12 obviously, and not only him being ill affected her,
13 but also the way he was with us sometimes, you know,
14 because of the aggression, because of the medication.
15 The interferon was a really, really nasty drug. It
16 was a really nasty drug. I can't explain. I mean,
17 I can explain -- I don't need to because there are 18 people here. They all know about this interferon.

19 Mario was on that interferon for a long time,
20 12 years on and off on the interferon. Some people
21 just do six months, a year. He was on it for the best
22 part of 12 years before they actually said that the 23 liver had cleared.

24 Q. That medical retirement that you spoke of happened in 25 about 2001.

158

1 a relief. He was able to just get on with his illness
2 at home really without going into work. He was 3 embarrassed, to be honest with you, about the whole
4 thing. He didn't want people to know he had hepatitis
5 C. In fact, he didn't even want people to know he had 6 thalassaemia, you know. He didn't want people to know
7 he had hepatitis C. Me, because of the type of person
8 I am, I just think, "Oh, he is not very well" -- "What 9 are you telling them for? It is none of their 10 business". I would be "Oh, all right", you know.

11 But he didn't want his colleagues to know he had 12 this illness and what have you. Thinking about it
13 now, obviously for me it didn't mean anything, but it 14 is the stigma around it and how people can react when 15 they hear that you have got something like that. It
16 didn't even occur to me, but yes.

17 So Mario was -- he was very angry, very upset,
18 but even though it was a relief, Mario then started to 19 get very, very depressed again, like really badly
20 depressed.

21 Q. You have said that over time he became very, very 22 isolated.

23 A. He became isolated. I would come home from work and 24 he would be sitting in the conservatory, because there
25 was a TV in there as well, and he would be sitting in there and I would pop my head through the door to say hello before I start cooking dinner. I knew whether it was a good or a bad day just by looking at him. So I knew then whether to just go in and carry on talking or whether to just go and start the dinner. You just know.

But then there were times when, you know, I would come home and he wasn't in a good mood, in the sense of he was in pain. He was aching all over. His mind had been doing overtime. He has been at home all day on his own. What else are you going to do other than be thinking and thinking and thinking, you know?

So then he would start, you know, getting really angry and whatever. There were times when he would lock himself in -- we have like a downstairs toilet in the conservatory. He would lock himself in there. I wouldn't know what he'd taken in there with him or if he was going to do anything to himself. You know, I would be banging on the door, I would be screaming, I would be asking him to come out, because I would be worried, you know. But, you know, he used to just -- eventually he used to just come out, and I would be like, "What did you take in there? Have you taken anything?" It was horrible for him and for me, because it was almost like I was accusing him of doing

I would be doing two different jobs to try to make ends meet. I would be thinking of other things I could do to get more money. We got into a lot of debt with the credit cards, because it was the only way to pay things at some point. I can honestly say three times we must have remortgaged the house to pay off credit cards, which was quite a few thousand each time on each card, because it was the only way to pay for things.

Very, very proud. We never used to tell anybody we were in that situation. I remember driving to work once and going through my glove compartment and through certain sections of the car to find some change to put petrol in the car.

But Mario never wanted me to say anything to my parents or his parents or, you know, that we were struggling. I don't know why. So obviously I always kept to -- whatever he wanted, I would do it. But the credit cards -- God bless the credit cards, because they helped at the time. So yes, it was kind of -- it was a struggle. It was a big struggle.

Q. At that point you weren't aware of the Skipton or Caxton Fund at all.

A. Not then, no.

Q. Mario had cleared the virus in 2003 but his liver things as well which he actually wasn't doing.

163

Q. And financially, the effect of him retiring meant that you really had to be working full-time. You were the main breadwinner.

A. I was, yes. I was the main breadwinner, and I would be working -- I worked for Haringay Council at the time. Sometimes I could do overtime. Any overtime I could do I would do, I would take it.

Financially it was really hard to begin with, you know, at the beginning -- well, for a few years. Mario I have got to say was a spender. He was a shopaholic. I think he felt better when he spent money. It was that thing where, you know, if you have got something wrong and you just think, "I am going to buy myself this, buy myself that". He used to spend a lot of money. And because in his mind he didn't know how long he had to live, so he used to think, "Well, if I want it, I am going to have it". So it was very hard in that aspect.

Then we had our mortgage to pay. We had the bills to pay. We had all the -- what you need for your children, you know, for their schooling and their, you know, clubs and their needs that they don't need. You know, it was very, very difficult.

So I was the sole breadwinner. At some points

continued to be monitored.

A. It did, yes.

Q. Physically he became quite unwell and he had cirrhosis, but then in 2016 he was diagnosed with liver cancer.

A. That's right.

Q. He underwent a liver resection in the June of 2016. He seemed to do well after that operation, you have said.

A. He did.

Q. Until about Christmas.

A. Yes. When he had the operation, obviously it was touch and go. We were really like -- he was in the hospital. He was really vulnerable. Obviously he'd got thalassaemia as well, so obviously he needed to be monitored a lot better than what he was, to be honest with you, because I had to keep reminding them that he had thalassaemia and he may need a blood transfusion. Every time I reminded them they were like, "Oh, yes", but I said, "It is in his notes."

"But, you know, the people that have these operations don't normally need a blood transfusion after because they very rarely lose a lot of blood."

"But he is not just anybody. He is a thalassaemic that's had a resection, so he actually

164

1 needs blood."
 2 "Okay, I will speak to the consultant."
 3 Then they would speak to the consultant and come
 4 back and say, "No, no, he didn't lose that much
 5 blood."
 6 "Okay, but can you check his haemoglobin because 7 he was going to be due his blood anyway."
 8 I think they did top him up before he went in 9 for the operation.
 10 A few days later I would say again, "He needs
 11 a blood transfusion. I can see his colour changing".
 12 I knew when Mario needed blood. He would go like 13 a greeny colour. I would be like, "Mario needs a
 14 blood transfusion" "Why? These operations, they don't 15 need" -- and then "Oh, yes, it is in his notes, isn't 16 it?" Ten days later they gave him a transfusion.
 17 Then the consultants came round. They would be 18 talking over you, not to you. You would hear things
 19 they would be saying and trying to work them out. Are 20 they saying he has liver failure? You know, so you
 21 would hear the word "liver failure" or you would hear,
 22 "We think we might have cut away a bit too much". You
 23 think to yourself -- you know.
 24 So at one point I did say to them, "What did you
 25 just say? Did you just say you have cut away" --

165

1 So we went back to the hospital. He was completely
 2 jaundiced, whatever. Again, you know, they were
 3 saying that he was in liver failure and what have you.
 4 Then a couple of days later, "Oh, you are doing
 5 really well, blah, blah, blah". They put him on 6 medication for the -- what do you call it? What did
 7 I just say he had? Jaundice. Yes, for his bilirubin,
 8 to bring it down and what have you.
 9 Anyway, once we were home -- I have to say the 10 aftercare wasn't very good from the hospital where he 11 had his operation. It wasn't very good at all.
 12 Q. But your sense was by late summer and into the autumn
 13 he seemed to be doing fairly well.
 14 A. He was doing well. He had picked up. His colour had 15 come back. He had started putting on a little bit
 16 more weight again and -- yes, I mean, we even went 17 away for the weekend just to like one of the seaside
 18 resorts. We were worried about him travelling in the 19 car for so long after his operation and what have you,
 20 but he seemed to have picked up. He was doing a lot
 21 better and what have you.
 22 Then by Christmas he had started swelling up
 23 again, like really swelling up, and we had gone to his 24 brother's for Christmas that year. When we got home,
 25 I said to him, "Mario, why is your belly so swollen?"

167

1 because it was one consultant talking to another, "Oh,
 2 no, no, no. It is absolutely fine. Yes, everything
 3 seems fine. Okay. Maybe you can go home in a few
 4 days" and then the next day the consultants would come
 5 round again and then you would hear the word "liver
 6 failure". I would sort of like question them "Is he 7 in liver failure now? Is that what you are saying?
 8 Did the operation not work?" "No, no, no, that's not 9 what we are saying", but they wouldn't explain what 10 they were actually saying.
 11 So the day he was going to leave the hospital,
 12 when he was being discharged, all the consultant said
 13 to Mario was, "Go home and enjoy your life with your 14 family". So we just went. To be honest, he just 15 wanted to go home.
 16 Q. You didn't have a very clear picture at that point
 17 what was actually going on --
 18 A. No.
 19 Q. -- and what his prognosis was.
 20 A. We went home. He was completely yellow. Completely
 21 yellow. He was so unwell it was unbelievable. We got 22 a phone call from the hospital that afternoon to say
 23 that the results -- the blood they had taken that 24 morning had come back to show that his bilirubin was 25 sky high and he needed to come back to the hospital.

166

1 He goes, "I don't know if it is the food I ate, but
 2 I feel really bloated", and he was like -- anyway, as 3 the weeks went on, he was still bloated and his legs
 4 were swelling up as well. Then eventually I just took 5 photographs of him and I sent them to his consultant,
 6 Dr Yardumian at the North Mid --
 7 Q. Because Mario was refusing to go back to hospital.
 8 A. Yes, he hated hospitals. As you can understand, from 9 birth when you are in a hospital every month, every 10 month, every month, Mario hated it. If he could avoid 11 going into hospital, he would. I said, "Please tell 12 Dr Yardumian what's going on next time you go for your 13 appointment", because I was working and couldn't 14 always go with him for his appointments. Sometimes he 15 never used to say anything because he was scared he 16 would be admitted into hospital and he just didn't 17 want to be there.
 18 Q. You took some photographs and sent them to 19 Dr Yardumian.
 20 A. I did and sent them to her of his belly and his legs.
 21 She obviously contacted the Royal Free Hospital. They 22 wrote to him to come for further tests. We went for 23 the further tests. This was sometime in March, 24 I think.
 25 Then end of March, I think it is around 29th

168

1 March, we went back and they gave us the bad news that
2 the cancer had actually come back. They had cut away
3 most of it -- well, they thought they had cut away
4 most of it -- but some part of the liver still had 5 cirrhosis on it and now that had got cancer on it too.

6 Then we were to go back the week after. They 7 said to come back one week later and they will discuss
8 medication or treatment for it. So we were like, you
9 know, hopeful that he was going to have some treatment
10 and hopefully it would stop the cancer from growing
11 or, you know, spreading and getting worse, or 12 hopefully cure it, but when we got there, they just 13 said that, you know, there was nothing else they could 14 do. It was just a matter of time now.

15 Mario said, "But you were going to give me some 16 tablets". They said, "No, nothing is going to help
17 this now. There is nothing we can do. I am ever so
18 sorry". You know, it was just -- I don't know.

19 Mario wanted to know how long he had to live and 20 I did say to him, "It is entirely up to you if you
21 want to ask that question, but I don't think you
22 should". He said, "No, I want to know". I said, "It
23 is up to you". Anyway he asked them and they said, 24 "Up to six months". Well, that hit us like a tonne of 25 bricks. We came out of that hospital and we were just

169

1 A couple of times I had even called the Samaritans,
2 where I was so desperate for help, but they weren't
3 helpful at all to be honest with you. There was 4 nothing that they could -- there was just no help
5 there.

6 Mario was offered counselling through his
7 consultant, but he never ever took it. I understand
8 why he didn't want the counselling, because for him it
9 was something that was never going to go away. "So 10 you are going to counsel me to, what, accept it?" He 11 just couldn't accept it. Mario couldn't accept that.

12 He was only 52 when he died. He was so young 13 and he had so much to live for. You know, he's got 14 his daughter that he -- you know, we always used to 15 talk about growing old together or marrying off our 16 daughter so we could be at the wedding together,
17 grandchildren. He just never got there, and all
18 because of the hepatitis C.

19 Now, thalassaemia, I can honestly say to you he 20 is what you would call quite a healthy thalassaemic.
21 He always went for his blood transfusions, his 22 ferritin, which is the iron level was always quite 23 good. The only time maybe that might go up is when he 24 was on the interferon, because it would interfere with 25 all the other medications he was on. He had developed

171

1 like -- I don't know, we were just like two zombies
2 walking around the hospital, to be honest with you.
3 I had to come home and tell my daughter and my other
4 daughter that, you know, he didn't have long to live.
5 We said, "Right. We are going to deal with this now".

6 Obviously we started ringing round the family to 7 tell them the results of today and this is what they 8 had said and what have you, but to be honest with you,
9 Mario finding out that he only had six months to live,
10 if that was what they -- it actually killed him,
11 because three weeks later he died. He just gave up.
12 He gave up completely. There was nothing that -- he 13 just lost all hope and, you know, anything he had that 14 he wanted to do. You know, we had dreams and I kept 15 saying to him, you know, "Get better and we will go on 16 a holiday", because we hadn't been for a few years.
17 "We will go on a holiday and we will go and have a..."
18 You know. I think just hearing that news just -- 19 that's not what he looked like when he died at all.
20 You wouldn't even know it was the same person, you
21 know.

22 Mario suffered. I can't -- you know, I still 23 feel that I can't express myself or explain, you know,
24 how much he suffered, how much we suffered. You know,
25 we all went through a lot. Life wasn't easy.

170

1 so many illnesses I can't even explain to you, you
2 know. Throughout all this he was hallucinating. He
3 was hallucinating, he was aggressive, he was tearful,
4 suicidal. You know, he was suicidal. Whatever I say
5 to you, the man was suicidal.

6 And I was beside myself, because I never ever
7 knew what I was going to come home to, to be honest
8 with you, you know, and it was very, very difficult.
9 I would try to phone him from work as many times in 10 the day as I could just to speak to him, maybe, you
11 know ... there was a few times when he was able, when 12 he was feeling physically well, you know, he would get 13 up. He had got a dog to keep him company. He would 14 take the dog for a walk. He loved gardening. He had 15 chickens in the garden. So when he was able to, he 16 would go out there and he would be like tending to his 17 chickens and what have you, and it kept him going. If 18 he didn't have all that and he was just at home on his 19 own, I think he would have done something.

20 Q. You have said that news that he just had six months to 21 live completely crushed him.

22 A. It did.

23 Q. At that point, you also decided to stop work --

24 A. I did.

25 Q. -- and went on unpaid leave.

172

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. But you had to go back to work six weeks after Mario

3 died.

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. Because financially --

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. -- you were struggling.

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. And you have said you feel you didn't have the chance

10 to grieve?

11 A. No.

12 Q. Because you had to go back so quickly?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. You have since had to stop work because you have 15 suffered depression.

16 A. I have, yes.

17 Q. And continue to suffer very severe flashbacks.

18 A. I have. I try and -- I have been to the doctor's 19 a couple of times about it. They did offer me the 20 medication, you know. I didn't want to take

21 medication and I said I would deal with it, but I'd go

22 to bed at night, and I can guarantee you I sleep.

23 I sleep really, really well. I won't wake up until 24 the alarm wakes me up. But yet I was getting up in 25 the morning and I felt like I hadn't slept all night.

173

1 applied to the EIBSS for funding for counselling for

2 her.

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. And that was refused.

5 A. It was, yes.

6 Q. Because they said they don't fund anything for other

7 members of the family.

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. When you explained that it was her dad who died, they

10 asked for a lot of further information, including

11 a letter from the GP.

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. And other documentation, and at that point you simply 14 couldn't face providing the documents, so you left it.

15 A. No, they wanted quotes from psychotherapists and, you

16 know, I mean, why would you ask for something like

17 that? What sort of support are you giving this child?

18 Q. So in the end you just gave up.

19 A. I just gave up, yes.

20 Q. And you remain off work.

21 A. Yes. At the moment. I am planning to be working very

22 soon and hoping to start. I have already started

23 putting in place something so that I can work

24 part-time.

25 Q. While you process your grief --

175

1 You know, I was really exhausted. I think emotionally

2 I was exhausted. I would go into work, and I think

3 when Mario was having -- when he had his operation

4 and, you know, the last few months of Mario's life,

5 that's where I worked and that's what, you know ...

6 So because it was a very quiet office, there was

7 only two of us that worked there. You haven't got

8 that hustle and bustle of an office of people coming

9 in and lots of conversations and what have you. So

10 I would get loads of flashbacks, constant flashbacks

11 of his operation, the Royal Free hospital, the phone

12 calls, you know, even flashbacks of the nutritionist

13 calling me to tell me what he needs to eat, what he

14 needs to drink, what he needs to ... it was all coming

15 back to me.

16 Then I would picture him sitting outside. He

17 would sneak outside in the hospital because he was

18 a smoker and he needed a cigarette. I would be

19 picturing him sitting outside, sending me over to 20 Starbucks and try to get him a coffee. All these

21 things he loved in life. Mario just loved everything.

22 He was a man full of life, really. But the hepatitis

23 C just took it away from him, and from me.

24 Q. Your daughter also struggled, Francesca, since her dad

25 died. We will not go into detail about that. But you

174

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. -- and your loss.

3 A. Yes. I need to be doing something. So ... It has 4 helped me. The last few months it actually helped me.

5 I have actually felt myself -- because I have had some

6 time to myself now, actually for me on my own as well,

7 and it has actually helped me to come to terms with

8 the fact of what is happening, what has happened.

9 You know, I am being honest, the Inquiry has

10 caused me a lot of anxiety as well, which I am sure it

11 has caused, you know, everybody here that has had to 12 go through this or has lost someone or who is

13 suffering. I might not have suffered what the patient

14 has suffered, but I can really, really sympathise with

15 those who have got hepatitis C, because I saw what my

16 husband went through and the suffering that, you know,

17 he endured throughout all the years.

18 The saddest thing is, you know, you think that

19 interferon, he had it on and off for 12 years and he

20 still died. It didn't save his life. What did they

21 give it to him for? That was the other thing. What

22 did they give it to him for? It still killed him. He

23 still ended up with cirrhosis of the liver. He still

24 ended up with liver failure, cancer, you know. So it

25 didn't do anything to help him. And maybe he would

176

1 have been better off not having the treatment, to be
 2 honest, because I think to myself: imagine the liver
 3 having to process all that medication that went
 4 through. You know, I just think it made it worse.
 5 The medication was horrendous, horrendous.
 6 Q. Andri, those are the questions I have for you. I am
 7 just going to turn to Ms Gibbs, who, as you know,
 8 represents you, to see if there's anything she wants
 9 me to raise.
 10 Just two things Ms Gibbs would like me to raise
 11 with you.
 12 You talked about the cultural stigma that Mario
 13 felt. Could you just talk to us a little bit about 14 how the stigma around hepatitis C interacted with the 15 cultural stigma of having Beta thalassaemia?
 16 A. What it is, back in the day -- there probably still is 17 now, but back in the day there was a lot of ignorance
 18 around thalassaemia. It was almost like they had sort 19 of like a plague or something, you know, and also when 20 Mario was diagnosed with thalassaemia, back then
 21 obviously in the Cypriot society, it was quite a taboo
 22 thing. "Oh, my God, that child's got thalassaemia"
 23 and what have you.
 24 So Mario was always very -- you know, he didn't
 25 want people to know he had it in case obviously it

177

1 everybody -- there was people that did know, but he
 2 just didn't think it was necessary for anyone to know.
 3 Q. You mentioned that Mario was offered some 4 psychological support when he was unwell. While Mario
 5 was alive but unwell, were you offered any support?
 6 A. No. None.
 7 Q. Is there anything else you would like to say?
 8 A. I would just like to say that -- I just want to thank 9 the Inquiry team and Sir Brian there, you know, for 10 this Inquiry and for, you know, making others aware of 11 this. It is really hard, because at the time when you
 12 are living in this situation you don't actually 13 realise that it is a big thing. You just think you 14 are just living your life and, "Oh, well, this is what 15 we are going through". You don't realise how many 16 other people are going through the same thing as you.
 17 For me, one of the saddest things is that this 18 all came about one week after Mario died. Mario was 19 so upset about the hepatitis and that he got hepatitis
 20 C from the NHS and through blood, and he wasn't there
 21 to find out that this has actually come about now.
 22 You know, I really wanted to tell him. It was just 23 something that I felt he needed to know. I don't 24 know. I was just so upset that he wasn't around,
 25 because he was so troubled by it and, you know, the

179

1 affected his relationships with some people or in case
 2 some people, you know -- but there was a big stigma
 3 around it. There was a lot of ignorance around it.
 4 Everyone just assumed, "Oh, they will be dead soon.
 5 They have thalassaemia, they will be dead soon", and 6 what have you.

7 I think for Mario, growing up with thalassaemia,
 8 which he hated having with a passion, I can honestly
 9 say -- some people might have it and they've learned
 10 to cope with it or whatever. Mario found it very hard
 11 to cope with the fact he had anything wrong with him.
 12 But he did very well. Then to find out he also had 13 hepatitis C, it actually -- there is a stigma around
 14 it. If you think about it, you can't get life
 15 insurance, you know, you can't -- certain travel
 16 insurance, you're probably paying through the roof to 17 go on holiday.

18 Q. In terms of culturally though in the Cypriot
 19 community.

20 A. Yes. The Cypriot community were very ignorant to 21 other people's -- you know, if your child wasn't well,
 22 some people would turn their nose up or, "Don't play
 23 with that child or don't" -- yes.

24 For Mario it was hard, and he didn't want people
 25 to know that he had thalassaemia. Obviously not

178

1 fact that this tainted blood was given knowingly,
 2 knowingly. It wasn't an accident. You know, they
 3 knew about it. I just think that, you know, for 4 Mario, I don't know whether it would have been 5 a relief for him to know that somebody is actually
 6 going to do something about it or -- I don't know.
 7 But I just felt like he deserved to know.

8 Anyway I just hope, you know, through time, you
 9 know, this Inquiry will, you know, give us the answers
 10 that we want, justice, you know, answers as to why was 11 this blood given? Why was it given? If they knew it
 12 was no good, why was it given, you know? Who decided 13 to give it? Who said, "Yes, go ahead and just give 14 it", you know? That person, have they not got 15 a conscience now? I don't know. I just think there's 16 a lot of questions and a lot of answers, you know,
 17 that need to be clarified and, you know, I just think 18 for everybody's sake here that, you know, there is 19 justice at the end of it, you know, and I just think 20 here that, you know, she has lost her dad, not through 21 thalassaemia, you know, but through something -- so 22 where they were trying to help on the one hand, they 23 ended up killing him anyway. That's how it feels, you
 24 know.

25 His parents, you know, have lost their son.

180

1 They have buried their son, not something they wanted
2 to ever do in their life, you know. His sister, his 3 brother, you know, they have lost their -- someone
4 dear and close to them, you know. He has left behind
5 little nephews and nieces he adored, family members,
6 other children, godchildren that he's got.

7 Mario was so full of life to begin with that he 8 wanted to be around for all these people and to see
9 and be able to enjoy them. Mario lost everything: his 10 confidence, his self-esteem, his self-respect.
11 Honestly, everything had gone and that's all because 12 of this illness, because of the hepatitis C.

13 But I just wanted to say thank you for hearing
14 us and for giving us that opportunity to tell you what 15 we have gone through, what, you know, my husband went 16 through, and what we are going through now, you know.
17 It is not easy living without him. He would have been 18 a grandfather now. He doesn't even know. You know,
19 it is just kind of -- it is all very sad. I just hope
20 that there's justice at the end of it.

21 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Well, you said in the course of your 22 evidence that you can't explain "how he suffered, how 23 we suffered". That's what you said. I think you have 24 done a pretty good job of telling us as a matter of 25 fact how you dealt with everything that was dealt out

181

1 to you and to him and to Francesca. I can only thank
2 you for giving us that insight into what it was like
3 to have not only hepatitis C but to have it on the 4 back of Beta thalassaemia.

5 A. Yes.

6 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: So thank you for that and for 7 dealing also with what was obviously painful at times
8 to tell us.

9 (Applause)

10 (Witness withdrew)

11 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Well, tomorrow it will be 10.00
12 again.

13 MS FRASER BUTLIN: It is.

14 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: What do we have tomorrow?

15 MS FRASER BUTLIN: Tomorrow we will be hearing from 16 Anthony Farrugia, David Farrugia, Rosamund Cooper and 17 Juliet Batten, followed by two anonymous witnesses.

18 SIR BRIAN LANGSTAFF: Thank you. 10 o'clock tomorrow.
19 (Adjourned until 10.00 am on Friday, 18th October 2019)
