Dear Mr Jones,

Further to the Council's letter of 20 Dec 83 regarding your complaint against THE MAIL ON SUNDAY concerning publication on 2 Oct 83 of the article headlined "The scandal of death", I have now been informed by the managing editor, Mr George Woodhouse, that agreement has been reached between the Haemophilia Society and the newspaper.

In the second paragraph of your letter to the Council of 5 Oct 83 you mention that full details of the case "will be published in a reputable medical journal in due course". Are you now able to supply those details?

The editor has not yet seen your correspondence with the Council about your complaint and it would obviously be helpful if you could be as specific as possible if you wish to pursue the matter.

Yours sincerely,

GRO-C
