PAPER OF THE YEAR

Saturday November 19, 1994

Weather: Cloudy with patchy rain or drizzle

IN WEEKENDER, YOUR LOCAL LEISURE, TV AND MOVIE GUIDE

Tories set for Railtrack sell-off

By James Hardy Daily Post Correspondent

MINISTERS were last night

MINISTERS were last night thought to be gearing up for the multi-million pound prastastion of Railtrack as the final part of the sell-off of the rail industry. The long expected move—which could see the national track authority in private hands by the next General Election—could raise up to 955 billion for Treasury coffers.

Election - could raise up to Election - could raise up to fee. So billion for Treasury coffees. Is believed Transport I and the control of th

Inquiry launched after courier delivers body

By David Jones Daily Post Staff

AN INVESTIGATION is under way after a cardboard box containing the body of a stillborn baby burst open after it was sent 180 miles by courier.

Wrexham Maelor Hospital sent the body of the infant to Cardiff for specialist post mortem examination.

But the packaging around the infant's body leaked and the saline solution weakened the cardboard box in which it was travelling.

kened the cardboard box in which it was travelling.

Horrified staff at Cardiff's University Hospital of Wales saw a pinkish liquid inside.

Care and counselling groups in the region said they were shocked and would be distressed to learn if this was a universal practice.

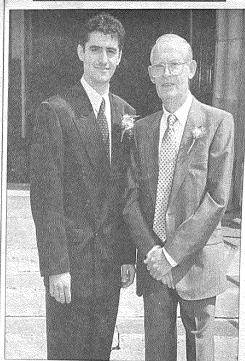

Last night when the card of the property of of the property be distressed to learn if this was a universal practice.

Last inght Wrexham Maelor Hospital
Last inght Wrexham Maelor Hospital
Last inght Wrexham Maelor Hospital has the security Edde Kinsella defended his hospital sections, saying it was following proceedings laid down by the University Hospitals laid down by the University
Hospitals laid down by the University Hospitals and Hospital has been carried by funeral director's hearse or in an ambulance.
It said it was reporting the incident to the Health and Safety Executive.
Wrexham hospital chiefs were last night contacting the family of the dead baby to explain what had happened and to reassure them.
Clayd county councillor Colin Bostock, whose ward covers the Maelor Hospital, said he was alarmed by what had happened and he urged the hospital to check its

© Centinued on Page 2

BLOOD BROTHERS BATTLE

Proud father William Murphy, right, pictured on his son Greg's wedding day. A happy occasion, but William has since died – the third of three haemophiliac brothers to fall victim to contaminated blood products. William's brothers' families won government compensation, but Greg is having to battle for a settlement for his father. He is campaigning for an investigation into the blood scandal.

Full story – Page 8 Full story - Page 8

Cash for abuse claims refused

By Daily Post Correspondent

A 38-YEAR-OLD man who claims he was seriously sex-ually abused by teachers at a "notorious" approved school 26 years ago, has lost his bid for compensation in Lon-don's High Court.

The man, who cannot be named because of the nature of his altegations, had remained silient for more than 20 years before media reports highlighted sexual attacks on other boys at the school attacks on other boys at the school.

The Skelmersdale man sought compensation from the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board but was sent away without a penny on the grounds that he had made his claim outside the normal three-year time limit. It was that decision of CICB chairman, Lord Carisle, on March 16 this year, which he challenged in the High Court yesterday.

David Burles, for the man described Bryn Estyn Approved School, Bryn Estyn Road, Wrexham, as "notorious".

"At that school in 1968 he

"At that school in 1968 he was subject to acts of buggery and other sexual abuse by teachers when has was aged 12.
"In the 1990s publicity about Bryn Estyn Approved School began to emerge and he went to the police to make a statement.
"The Crown Prosecution Service decided not to launch a prosecution."

a prosecution."
Mr Burles said the CICB Mr Burles said the CICB had the discretion to waive the normal time limit for claims in "exceptional" cases but only did so in sexual abuse cases when there had been a trial and conviction of the perpetrators.

But Mr Justice Macpherson said the CICB had adopted a "sensible benchmark".

"Lord Carlisle looked at the whole circumstances and his discretion was almost ins discretion was almost certainly properly exercised," he added.

The judge refused to open the way for a Judicial Re-view of Lord Carliste's de-cision.

condition where a bruise can prove fatal-

THERE could not be a sadder illustration of the dilemma facing haemophiliacs than the Murphy samity.

Sufferers are unable to produce their own blood clotting agents - a simple bruise can see them bleed to death internally - so they must inject blood products created from donated plasma to lead a normal, healthy life.

healthy life.

It was not until 1995 that the the NHS introduced the screening of blood products for HIV and Hepatitis - by then it was too late for 1,200 haemophiliacs who had been infected by the AIDS virus, including William Murphy's two heathers. others. It now appears it was also too late for Mr Murphy, who believed he had escaped the curse of infected blood. He is one of the 55 pc of the 3.122 haemophiliaes who used the clotting agent known as Factor VIII regularly before May 1985 may now be infected with Hepatitis C.

The Murphys are among 60 families who have approached solicitors to seek compensation and the Hepatitis Society is considering backing their campaign. Conservative MP John Marshall, who led the campaign to win compensation for HIV-infected haemophiliaes, said: "Mr Murphy's case seems to illustrate perfectly the inconsistency in government policy lowards these two groups of late for Mr Murphy, who believed people.

"All three brothers were infected by the NIIS - the first two were quite rightly given compensation and so should the third and his family.

his family.

"It seems to me that the two groups have suffered very much one and the same fate. It is as much a moral issue as anything." said Mr Marshall who is now pressing Health Secretary Virginia Bottomiety to compensate Hepatitis C-infected haemophiliacs.

Hepatitis C is a chronic liver condition which can take up to 20 years to develop and many of those infected show no symptoms for long periods.

Mr Murphy, who died aged 59, was one of the 8 pc of cases who go on to develop chronic cirrhosis of the liver which is not neccesari-ly fatal but can be a killer if undetected.

He is believed to have contracted the virus from blood injected during an emergency operation for a burst ulcer in 1981, the peak risk period for contaminated blood.

period for contaminated blood.

For the next five years he was subjected to regular HIV tests but was finally given the all-clear in 1986. But by then both his brothers had been diagnosed HIV-positive, and four years later they were both dead.

In January 1992 it was con-firmed that Mr Murphy had devel-oped cirrhosis of the liver as a

But as late as August this year Mr Murphy's family were given fresh hope with the offer of a liver transplant - which would have not only given him a new disease-free organ but also eradicated his haemophilia.

The blood clotting factors which heemophiliaes lack are produced haemophiliaes lack are produced in the liver.

in the liver.

But after a series of tests examining the potential for a liver transplant, a malignant tumour was discovered on the liver.

Mr Murphy was discharged to await chemotherapy but 18 days later, on September 3, he died of a massive abdominal bleed.

PRIVATE ANNOUNCEMENTS

DAILY POST FAMILY NOTICES

£1.02 per line

LATEST ACCEPTANCE TIMES AT HEAD OFFICE

AT YOUR SERVICE O51-227 3691 (8:30 a.m. 6 p.m.)
OF COLWYN BAY 546002 (Daily Post Hoteless Strategies and Bart 1155-

SATURDAYS and BANK HOLIDAYS

051-227 3030

Religious Services

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

LIVERPOOL S. THIRD CHUBCH, Upper Parliament Street: Sunday Service and Sunday School, H.15 a.m. Nursery tare av able Reading Roum, 4 Leather Lane, Liverpool L2 2AE, Monday able, Reading Room, A Leather Lane, Lorenced LZ 2RE, Monday is Preday, 11 am. 10 3 p.m. 10 Jp.m. 12 LIVERD, Sindhild Park, Queens LIVERPOOL 13, FOURDER, Sindhild Park, Queens LIVERPOOL 13, FOURDER, Sindhild Park, Queens Prive, Sindhild Park, Park, Sindhild Park, Sindhil

LIVERPOOL PARISH CHURCH

SUNDAY November 20, 1994 5th before Christmas

30 a.m. Parish Eucharist, reacher: The Revol. John Williams H. 15 a.m. School of Faith hudgism - Rubbi M. Malits

Holy Communion Daily MONDAY to FRIDAY 12 05 g.m. On WEDNESDAY also at 1.03 p.m. SATURDAY 9.30 a.m.

051-236 5287 open week-days 10 s.m. to 3 p.m

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL

SUNDAY November 20, 1994 Trinity 25

10.30 a.m. Cathedral Eucharist Preacher The Rev. John Lynn. 3 p.m. Choral Evensons Preacher Canon David p.m. Holy Communion

In Memoriam

HOUGHTON - JOHN All may be another year John but you aren't forgotten; - Pauline and Blake

FUNERAL SERVICES INDEX

WIRRAL P. 1815 11 97 2256 Reset Registered Charities

Let's beat heart disease together

by supporting the British Heart Foundation the heart research charity Weish Appeal,

Lost and Found

LOST SOMETHING

FOUND SOMETHING YOU WANT TO RETURN TO IT'S OWNER?
For just the cost of a phone call you can place an advertisement within the Daily Post Call NOW on 0891 380 195

(Cajis charged at 55p per minute the proper community of per per community of per community

Triple blood tragedy family in cash fight

By Claire Stocks

THE family of three haemophiliac brothers who all died after rewho all the area for ceiving contaminated blood are mounting a campaign to force the government to award compensation to thousands of other infected patients.

Two of the brothers died from HIV infections and their families have been compensated by a government payout.

But there is no similar award for the third brother who also died from infected blood products.

William Murphy died two months ago from a liver tumour which he developed as a result of contracting Hepatitis C virus from in-fected blood products.

fected blood products.

Mr Murphy, a former accountant for the Arch-diocese of Liverpool, was one of 12 men with haemophila who have died in the past year from the virus, it was revealed this week. Until 1985 donated blood was not

ire Stocks
Post Staff

Screened for HIV or Hepatitis.

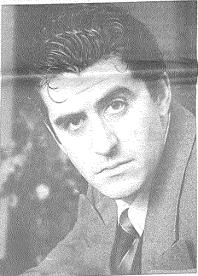

Doctors say up to 2,500 more sufferers may have contracted Hepatitis C and up to 400,000 non-haemophilacs may have contracted the virus from blood traces the virus from blood traces the virus from blood traces for the virus from blood traces. Mr Murphy's two younger brothers — whose families wish to remain anonymous-died in 1989 and 1990 after contracting HIV from contaminated blood.

Their families have already won financial redress from the government as part of a f42m out-of-court settlement in 1990 for HIV-affected haemophiliacs.

But the government has refused to exteen the settlement to their older brother and others like him.

Campaigners have vowed to take up Mr Murphy's case. M confirmed there were no plans to extend the compen-sation scheme.

☐ Greg Murphy — demanding an investigation by Health Secretary Virginia Bottomley Picture: FRANK LOUGHLIN

Missing man safety fears

POLICE are becoming in-creasingly concerned for the safety of a man who has not been seen for three days.

Paul St James Downes vanished after leaving his South Liverpool home late on the afternoon of Wednes-day, November 16.

The 40-year-old is known to be depressed, and anyone who has seen him is urged to contact Admiral Street police station in Toxteth.

When last seen, Mr Down when last seen, Mr Down-es who is white and around 5ft 10in-tall was wearing a black polo neck sweatshirt, black jogging bottoms and a heavy green anorak.

£14m to be spent on housing estate facelift

A £14m FACELIFT for a

A £14m FACELET 1 for a run-down housing estate was announced yesterday. The cash will transform the Grasmere and Green-wood estate in Orford, Warwood estate in Orlord, War-rington.

Around 2,000 people live on the estate and the four-year project is the result of a partnership between the Government, Warrington Borough Council and the Grosvenor and Muir Housing Associations. Associations.

ssociations
Announcing the project extenday, Environment Min-Announcing the pysicology exercity, Environment Minister Sir Paul Beresford, said: "This is an excellent example of how local people can benefit from the partnership between public and By David Banks Daily Post Staff

Daily Post Staff

private sector organisations.
"Residents have already played a significant role in creating the sort of scheme they believe will improve their everyday lives," he added.
"In adition, the new job and training opportunities which the refurbishment and building work will provide are major opportunities for people to stay involved."
The scheme will improve 345 of the 469 houses on the estate which was built between 1965 and 1974, as well as all 366 low-rise flats.

The improvements will so include demolition of also include demolition of 206 flats and maisonettes. New lighting will be pro-vided, as well as play areas, traffic-calming measures and remodelled roads and footremodelied roass and tree-paths.

After the demolition of the 206 flats and maiso-nettes, the site will be rede-veloped by the Muir Housing Association, the Grosvenor Housing Association and Lovell Partnerships, who will build 39 homes for sale, 86 for rent, 30 for shared ownership and 10 self-build.

It is estimated that the work will create 30 perma-nent jobs and 60 training places